SKATING RINK PROJECT SPURRED BY ICE TRAGEDY

The urgency for a municipal ice skating rink was brought home in a tragic manner Thursday night with the death of two skaters in Upper Klamath lake. The fatalities shunted the fans off the dangerously thin lake ice, and at the same time spurred efforts in two different civic departments for a safer, better place to enjoy the winter sport.

No. 1 crusade is being waged by Spec Murray, recreation supervisor, who is having plenty of difficulty but so far has not given up his efforts to create a skating rink at Cook field.

No. 2 crusade is still in the embryo stage in the minds of City Engineer E. A. Thomas and other city authorities, but will be brought into the open at the meeting of the city park board the first Tuesday in February. In time, this plan should bring about a satisfactory, man-sized ice playground.

Spec Murray's battle against the elements seems doomed for the present by rising temperatures, but nevertheless he is still at work on the Cook field layout.

Thursday night workmen had his gridiron-sized enclosure properly flooded and Spec waited for a freeze-up. The man on the job phoned him at 4 a. m. and said everything was shipshape, with the water standing 14 inches deep at one end of the skating field and six inches deep at the other.

But between that hour and daylight temperatures evidently climbed, the water began seeping away, as it had done before, and the skating rink became nothing more than a mud flat. Engineer Thomas asserts that hot water veins underground prevent a layer of ice from forming.

Nevertheless, Murray plans further attempts when and if the temperature drops below freezing, and is convinced that once he gets a layer of ice his worries are over.

Engineer Thomas and others have been working on plans for several months to create a combination boat dock and skating rink in the swampy area at the extreme south end of Upper Klamath lake opposite Moore park.

The land is to be obtained from Copco, if the plan goes through, and would provide space for a large dock for craft in the summer time, with a channel into open water, and a skating rink in the winter.

Although Thomas has nearly completed plans for the project, several kinky problems must be ironed out and the idea must be sanctioned by the park board.

The need for such a playground is strongly emphasized by such accidents as Thursday night's double drowning.

In the meantime city and county officials are not idle in their efforts to reduce the hazards of skating on the lake. Spec Murray has ordered the construction of two 20-foot ladders to be placed along the shores, to be used in rescue work. Coils of rope will also be furnished.

If another freeze-up brings good ice, danger signs are to be placed around thin ice and probably will be lighted with flares. Veteran skaters who know where most of the hot springs are will help officials in marking the danger zones.

Sheriff Low plans also to surround the solid ice with a sawdust marker to keep skaters properly corralled.

LOCALS PACED BY JARRETT IN FIRST TILT ON JOURNEY

Paced by Virgil Jarrett, forward, playing his first varsity game for the locals, the Klamath Falls Pelicans Friday night downed the Bend Lava Bears in a game played at Bend by a score of 36 to 26.

Jarrett piled up 12 points, many of them on rebounds, to lead the scoring list for the contest. The game was the first of a weekend series of two, Saturday night's contest to be played against the Redmond cagers on their home court.

Taking the lead early in the game the Pelicans dominated the floor, running up a 9-3 first quarter margin and staying out in front at half time, 16 to 10.

The Pelicans hit the basket regularly all through the game, flinging little trouble in penetrating the Lava Bears' zone defense. Both teams set a fast pace.

Jarrett was the star of the game, showing good form under the backboard as well as on long shots. Reginato and Lowe followed in the scoring column with eight counters apiece. Currie, Bend guard, was high for his team with eight.

BUTTE VALLEY SMOTHERED BY KUHS QUINTET

Coach Buck Hammer's sophomore Wildcats hit their stride Friday night to stop the Butte Valley contingent, 30 to 16, at Dorris.

In the best form they have shown all season the locals got off to an early 10 to 2 lead in the first quarter and never let up for a minute. After holding the Dorris quintet to two field goals and two successful foul shots in the first half, the first string was pulled out of the game in the third quarter and the second string continued the massacre. During a more even second half the Dorris team held the sophomores to 14 points while they tallied 10.

The entire Klamath team turned in excellent performances with George Higby and Pat Moses doing the heavy scoring.

Coach Hammer was very enthusiastic over the outcome and believes that if the boys keep the same spirit they showed in this game they should be victorious in the games scheduled with Tulelake and Keno and the return game with Dorris next week.

White was high point man for Butte Valley.

Nevada Drops Hoop Contest To Chico Five

CHICO, Cal., Jan. 20 (UP)—Chico State college, led by Guard Art Whitmer, defeated University of Nevada 42 to 35 in a basketball game here Friday night.

Chico led at halftime, 25-21. It was a rough game, with Siegel and Schieuter of Chico and Capt. Ted Olson of Nevada going to the showers with four personal fouls apiece.

Timbermen Score Photo-finish Win

Timbermen scored a photo-finish win over the Klamath Basin basketball league champions, the Gengler's, Friday night at the Klamath Falls gymnasium.

The contest, one of the best and certainly the most bitterly fought encounter of the season, was a thrilling duel as first one team and then the other took the lead during the second half.

Timbermen leading Basin league scorer last winter, threw the fray into overtime when he dropped in a close shot for Gengler's Grocery with but six seconds to play.

After a two-minute rest period the two groups of players began the extra five-minute session. Weyerhaeuser tallied first when Emil Stroehle, giant center, centered the hoop with an overhead shot. Schopf retallied with a basket midway in the period to knot the score once more. Then Mosen shook loose from his guard and arched a looping one-bander toward the hoop. It fell through the cord's for what proved to be the margin of victory. Weyerhaeuser saved the game by successfully stalling the remaining 45 seconds of play.

Loss of the game lowered the Gengler crew to fourth place in league rankings. It was the second defeat in five starts for the 1938-1939 champions this year. First National administered the other setback, 31-32, two weeks ago. Molatore's Cafe and First National are tied for second spot with a single loss in five games.

Friday night's opening tussle saw Molatore's Cafe, paced by Center Lou Aiello, who accounted for 22 markers, swamp the hapless Webb Kennett aggregation, 42-19. The Kennetts have now failed to gain a win in five straight contests. The Cafemans had a top-sided 27-6 advantage at the intermission.

Aiello simply couldn't be stopped, especially in the first half when he posted 17 points. During the second half he left the scoring to his team mates, and for the most part fed the ball rather than score himself.

HUSKIES DOWN UO HOOPSTERS 39-21; DICK 39-31; DICK

SEATTLE, Jan. 20 (UP)—A smooth-functioning University of Washington basketball team Friday night had little trouble in overcoming the defending champion University of Oregon tonight in a northern division Pacific Coast conference contest.

The Huskies, bouncing back from discouraging showings in previous games, led at halftime, 22 to 15, and held a lead throughout against the national college titlists.

Oregon's rangy center, John Dick—captain and sole holdover from last year's mighty aggregation—led scorers with 14 points and was responsible for three rallies that threatened the Husky lead.

Washington departed from its usual long-range tactics and utilized a quick-passing attack beneath the basket.

Oregon, on the other hand, was unable to connect with its field goals and its passing was uncertain.

The Huskies built up an early 8-2 lead but Dick and Vic Townsend, a guard, shortened the margin to 10-8 before the Purple Hoopsters again took command.

In the second half, with eight minutes to go, Washington led 30-20. Archie Marshik, gangling substitute Oregon forward, sank two field goals to shorten the lead briefly. Again, a few minutes later, Dick and Townsend sank two field goals and a free throw to bring the score 34-29. But that was the closest the Webfoots could come.

Harry Nelson, sophomore Washington forward, was second high-scoring with 13 points.

EAGLES DUST HENLEY TWICE 15-9, 15-13

The Keno Eagles, in a dull, whistle-blown contest on the Keno court, last night dumped the Hornets from Henley by the minute score of 15-9.

Keno jumped to the front at the outset of the fracas and held their slight edge throughout. The score at mid-game was 10-5.

The shriek of the referee's whistle, penalizing traveling, slowed the game almost to a standstill during the second half. Only nine counters were chalked up by both quintets in the last two periods. Putnam and Bringle led the victors with five markers apiece, while Norris paced the vanquished with four.

In a ragged tangle dotted by frequent penalties, the Eagle B five bested the Henley club by a 15-13 score.

Stanford Whips Cal Hoop Quint

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Jan. 20 (UP)—Stanford's red-hot basketball team trimmed University of California 55 to 32 here Friday night in a southern division Pacific Coast conference game.

The California Bears were handcuffed by the tight Stanford defense and in turn were unable to stop the fast-breaking Cardinal offense that caught the Berkeleyites outmanned under the basket time after time.

Stanford led at halftime, 23-10. During the first half California scored only two field goals. The Bears rallied briefly at the opening of the second half but bogged down again under pressure of Stanford's superior floorwork.

Don Williams, Stanford forward, was high point man with 51. Bill Cowden, Stanford guard, and Dudley Morgan, California forward, shared second honors with ten apiece.

Maul and Mitt Champs Crowned At High School

Ray Shumire made a last minute comeback to win a decision over Don Sauer and retain the KUHS heavyweight wrestling championship for a second year in the smoker sponsored by the physical education department in the high school gym Friday night.

Shumire, who defeated Melvin "Newboy" Ramos, to win the heavyweight crown last year, was considered a sure winner by pre-fight dopsters, and for a considerable period was unchallenged. Sauer came out fighting and held the advantage for the first two of the three rounds, but tired in the third. When at the end of the third round, the judges were unable to pick a winner, the bout was continued another round and Shumire came into his second wind and was an easy winner.

In the heavyweight boxing contest Ken Wilson eked out a narrow decision over Roy Bergloff. Although Wilson held the upper hand during most of the fight, Bergloff gave him a few bad minutes.

In the other boxing contests: Dastine Baker won a narrow decision over Henry Miksch in the 145-pound novice class; Max Hubbard finished off Bob Ross in the second round to win the 155-pound class crown; Chuck Currier defeated Fred Ross in the 145; Orle Kennerly won a decision over Martin Stride in a fast moving flyweight fight; Don Phelps smashed out a decision over Bill Pritchard in the 125; and Cornell Peterson, who took both the boxing and wrestling crown for his weight class, substituted for Charlie Roarks, and took a decision in a bout with Mickey Thornton.

In the wrestling division: Ed Douma won over Bob Evans in the 145; Jim Hunter won an upset decision over Allen Cline in the 145 class; Henry Gibson beat out Earl Klinkhammer in the 135, and Cornell Peterson threw Lyle Baker in the 125 pound class.

Mohr Reymers refereed the boxing and Wendel Currier the wrestling.

This was the second annual smoker sponsored by the Klamath Union high school physical education department and was under the direction of Snowy Gustafson.

Player Will Settle Troubles on Salary

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20 (AP)—Zeke Bonura, equalled at home in a baseball park, a ballroom or a cabbage patch, declared today he would get that salary business straightened out as soon as he talked to President Horace C. Stoneham of the New York Giants.

The big first baseman, a sensation a couple of weeks ago when he reigned over a mardi gras ball in a costume of rhinestones and satin, scoffed at the idea he could make his troubles to Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis.

It had been suggested that as a result of Landis' recent ruling which made free agents of 92 players owned by Detroit, players who had their troubles to Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis.

"That's all news to me," said Bonura as he checked off crates of apples being carried from the warehouse of J. Bonura and son to a waiting truck. "You can't take anything like that to the judge. I wouldn't think of it."

"Listen, everything's going to be all right. They haven't talked contract to me yet. They tried to cut me had—I won't say how much, but it was bad. But just as soon as Mr. Stoneham and I sit down and talk things over it will all be straightened out."

Bonura received a reported salary of $15,000 last year.

"I bet Bill Terry never said I was a lousy fielder," Bonura continued. "I bet along with Bill Terry, I like to play for him. He's smart and knows baseball. But if the Giants don't want me, plenty of others do."

Zeke opened a crate of cabbages to check their condition. "I raised these cabbages myself, on our farm," he boasted. "They're the best in Louisiana. We send them all over the country. I bet plenty of people have watched me play ball, then gone home to eat old Zeke's own cabbages for dinner."

OSC CAGERS DOWN IDAHO FIVE 40-28

MOSCOW, Ida., Jan. 20 (UP)—The Oregon State college Beavers strengthened their hold on first place in the northern division Pacific Coast Basketball conference Friday night, defeating the University of Idaho Vandals, 40 to 28.

The Beavers took command of the game at the outset and were never headed although the score was tied 6-6 early in the first half. However the fast moving Oregon State quintet drew easily away and led 23-13 at halftime.

The Vandals, playing their first home game of the season before 2500 spectators, made one spurt in the second period and, led by Roy Ramey, climbed to within eight points of the Beaver lead.

Oregon State made 48 scoring thrusts and netted 15. Idaho shot 59 times and made nine of them good. Both clubs made ten free throws.

Clowns Defeat Glenger Quint By Two Points

Living up to their name, the Broadway Clowns rolled up points at will to walk over the Glenger quintet at Chiloquin Thursday night to the tune of 27 to 25.

Although the final score was close the Clowns were in command from the start to finish and presented a comedy of basketball impossibilities.

Glengers, though the negroes ran circles around them most of the game, played surprisingly good ball considering their opposition.

In the preliminary the undefeated Chiloquin second team trounced the Bly B club, 39-29. The Panther Cubs led at the half, 21-11.

GOGGIN PACES GOLFERS INTO FINAL ROUNDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (UP)—Willie Goggin, a San Francisco veteran, and Dick Metz, the defending champion from Oak Park, Ill., set a hot pace in near-freezing weather at Lake Merced Country club Friday to lead their competitors into the quarter-final round of the $5,000 San Francisco match play open golf tournament.

Goggin, after knocking over Lawson Little, the favorite, in the first round of match play in the morning, returned to the fairways to dispose of Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C., three and two in another spectacular upset in the second round.

Metz, running again for the title he won in 1935, topped Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa., three and one to advance to the quarter-finals.

The other six who moved into the quarter final round were Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., U. S. open champion, who defeated Charles Klein, Dallas, Tex., 3 and 2; Craig Wood, Manaroneck, N. Y., and one of the favorites, who blasted Rod Munday, New York, 3 and 2; Ed Oliver, New York, who defeated Jimmy Thomson, Mass., 3 and 2; Jimmy Hines, Long Island, who trimmed Tony La Prest, Sacramento, 5 and 4; Jimmy Dunbar, Houston, Tex., who defeated Earl Fry, 2 and 1; and Horton Smith, Oak Park, who eliminated Jug McSpaden, Winchester, Mass., 2 and 1.

Eight winners were to play the 18-hole quarter-final Saturday morning and in the afternoon the four survivors were to meet to determine the two finalists for Sunday's 36-hole championship match.

Goggin's double win over the tough Lake Merced course was the most impressive performance of the tournament. After ousting Little—Los Angeles open champion—in the morning, Goggin tackled Heafner and won with a 10-foot putt on the 11th and a birdie four on the 12th. Heafner birdied the 13th, went into the trees on the 14th and missed a short putt on the 15th and final hole.

The truth is never propaganda: it is the very stuff of public life.—Lord Lothian, British ambassador to U. S.

Troy Hoop Quint Drubs UCLA Five

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20 (UP)—Southern California's high-scoring Trojans drubbed UCLA 52 to 32, tonight to win their 29th consecutive basketball game over the cross-country rival.

Starting with a flurry of goals, the Bruins stepped to an early lead but were dodged quickly at 14-14 by the Trojans.

With nine minutes to play in the first half, the score again was tied, and a long basket from the middle of the court by Guard Jack Lippert gave the Trojans a narrow 18-16 lead at half time.
