

Lioness Party Is February Third Event

Plans Complete For St. Valentine's Bridge Tea Scheduled For Willard Hotel Next Saturday

Holding the center of interest on next week's society calendar is the benefit bridge tea to be given by the Lioness club in the Willard hotel on Saturday afternoon, February the third. A St. Valentine's day theme will be used both in the table arrangements and the background for the party, a highlight of early winter each year. Proceeds from the benefit, according to Mrs. Ted Shoop, chairman, will go toward the sight conservation program which women of the club maintain during the year.

Asked to pour during the tea hour from four o'clock to five o'clock are Mrs. Vernon Moore, president of Lioness club, and Mrs. Dayton E. Van Vactor, secretary and treasurer.

Tallies will carry out the red and white St. Valentine's theme and clever little home made cookies will be served. Those playing during the afternoon are asked to bring cards and pencils.

A meeting of the committee and board of directors of Lioness club was held at the Willard hotel Thursday at one o'clock when the women met for luncheon and to make final plans for the affair. Covers were laid for Mrs. Ted Shoop, Mrs. A. C. Backes, Mrs. R. E. Hooker, Mrs. F. Cecil Adams, Mrs. E. S. Robinson, Mrs. Fred Heilbrunner, Mrs. George P. Davis, Mrs. Vern Owens, Mrs. D. J. Rees, Mrs. Vernon Moore, Mrs. Walter Wiesendanger, Mrs. A. P. Heup, and Mrs. Dayton E. Van Vactor. Mrs. Shoop presided at the luncheon and business meeting.

Voice Class Has Program

Mrs. A. J. Voyer Conducts Group in Vocalizing Study

For several years an invitational voice class, under the supervision of Mrs. A. J. Voyer, has been meeting once a week and taking vocalizing and doing solo work. Only a few in the class of fourteen have had private lessons, the rest only class coaching.

Last month, to enlist the interest in the class, Mrs. Voyer began grading the members on their solo work. They were to be graded on presentation, interpretation, pronunciation and tone quality. For three weeks each member was graded on her work. At the end of the third competitive week, Mrs. Voyer announced the three highest averages. The members who were the three highest, with the help of the two next highest, were to give a complete program at the next meeting. The program must be arranged and presented without the help of the director, Mrs. Voyer announced.

On Monday evening the three January the sixteenth, were Mrs. Rollin Cantrell, Mrs. Rollin Thompson, and the family group trio, Mrs. Guy Merrill, Mrs. J. L. Olson, sisters, and Mrs. Ray Michaels, niece. The accompanist is Mrs. H. M. Parkhurst, mother of Mrs. Michaels and sister of the other two.

With the help of the next two highest winners, Mrs. Jerome Henry and Mrs. Otto Langelet, the following program was given:

"There's Music in the Air," Family group trio.
"Land of the Sky Blue Waters," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," Mrs. Rollin Cantrell.
"At Parting," James H. Rogers, Mrs. Jerome Henry.

Family group trio. Members of the class are to be prepared to give a brief outline of the life of some composer, singer, violinist, or any well known musician, living or dead, at the next meeting scheduled for January the thirtieth. Also members are asked to bring suggestions for an appropriate name for the class which has had no name to date. Names will be voted upon.

MRS. CORNETT DISCUSSES WORK OF FIRE CONTROL

Mrs. Olive Cornett, secretary of the Klamath Forest Protective association, was the speaker at the vocational meeting of the Klamath Falls Soroptimists on Thursday noon, January the twenty-fourth, at the Willard hotel.

Mrs. Cornett discussed the work and problems of forest fire prevention, the equipment used and the importance of the lookouts, some of whom are expert in ascertaining the type of timber on fire by the appearance of the smoke. Another important step in the fire prevention work, she stated, may be the use of radios, inasmuch as several radios were loaned to the association last year. With the possibility that they will become regular equipment, the rangers are passing tests to receive government licenses for operation.

Mrs. Rita Whisenant acted as program chairman for the luncheon. Word was received from Mrs. Sophia Kenoffel who is vacationing in southern California that she had paid a visit to the Los Angeles Soroptimists.

The club's next week meeting will be of a social nature with a current events program to be conducted by Miss Catherine Gaylord, based upon women in the news, and each member will be expected to contribute to the discussion.

In the future, the luncheon tickets will be purchased by members from the hotel cashier as this is the plan followed by other service clubs meeting at the Willard. It was announced by the president, Mrs. Ida B. Odell.

Merrill Girl Bride In Church Ceremony

Anna Burke Weds Robert Colwell Sunday Before Altar of Calla Lilies, Asters and Daffodils.

MERRILL — At one of Merrill's most beautiful services Anna Burke, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, Merrill, became the bride Sunday, January the twenty-first, of Mr. Robert Colwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Colwell, pioneer family of this district. The single ring ceremony was read at a half past eight o'clock mass in the Holy Cross Catholic church by Father James O'Conner before a large assemblage of relatives of the popular young couple and a host of friends.

The bridal party stood before an altar banked with calla lilies, white asters and daffodils. They entered the church to the strains of the processional sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Giacomini. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mr. Harold Hendrickson, Klamath Falls, sang, "O Salu Taria."

The bride was gown in brocade white tulle in rose design made tip-toe length with princess bodice and long sleeves with high shoulder effect. Her veil of silk net, waist length and edged with seed pearls was caught in hair, effect about her head with gardenias. She carried a white prayer book with white ribbon streamers in which were caught lilies-of-the-valley and bouvardia.

As maid of honor her sister, Miss Victoria Burke, was gown in peach lace over net. She wore a crownless lace hat with streamers of ice blue and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Both the bride and her attendant wore triple strands of pearls.

Mrs. Burke was gown in teal blue crepe and Mrs. Colwell wore a print chiffon. Both wore rose corsages.

The best man was Mr. Donald Colwell, brother of the groom. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Colwell received congratulations at the door of the church, going later to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding breakfast was served at ten o'clock.

Places were marked for thirty guests. The lace covered table was centered with the tiered bridal cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Spring flowers in pastel shades and tapers added to the table motif.

For her going away costume Mrs. Colwell wore a raspberry wool dressmaker suit with accessories in navy. The young couple left immediately following the breakfast for San Francisco where they will spend a week. Upon their return they will be at home on the Dan Colwell ranch, near Merrill.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Colwell graduated from Sacred Heart academy in Klamath Falls. Mrs. Colwell entered St. Joseph's hospital in San Francisco where she graduated and where she has been a registered nurse since completion of her course. The groom is associated with his father in farming operations.

Present at the ceremony were a number of out of town guests including Mrs. Annice Anderson, Klamath Falls, grandmother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Colwell and daughter, Josephine, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Burrell, all of Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. James Murdock and daughter, Sue, of Dunsmuir; John Burke, San Francisco, brother of the bride, and Miss Claire O'Connell, San Francisco.
