U. S. ATTORNEY GENERAL GIVEN DISTRICT CASE

LAKEVIEW — Federal Judge Fee has given the United States attorney general an opportunity to intervene in the Summer Lake Irrigation district debt composition proceedings under the municipal corporation bankruptcy act, according to word received here today by Forrest E. Cooper, attorney for the district.

Sometime ago F. R. Mason of San Francisco, a creditor of the district, objected to the proceedings. After a consideration of the briefs filed by the parties the court decided that a constitutional question had been raised and has therefore given the government an opportunity to intervene and uphold the validity of the procedural steps under which several bankrupt Oregon irrigation districts hope to scale down their debts through the cooperation of a majority of their creditors.

Although the Deschutes Municipal Improvement district, The Ochoco, and Grants Pass districts have also filed petitions asking for their creditors, the Summer Lake suit has been selected as a test case due to the fact that the San Francisco and Portland council employed by creditor Mason have raised practically all legal points which could arise in connection with the refunding of the debts of an Oregon municipal corporation pursuant to recent amendments of the federal bankruptcy statutes which have extended the application of the bankruptcy laws to governmental subdivisions of the several states.

In former years when moisture conditions were good some fine crops of grain were raised there.

CHANCES MEAGRE FOR FAIR BOOTH

TULELAKE—Chances for a Siskiyou county exhibit at the Treasure Island fair at San Francisco are slim, it was revealed at this week's meeting of the chamber of commerce when W. H. Anderson, president, stated that interest in the exhibit throughout the county is lacking. Disappointment over room allotted last year by the fair management is responsible for the passive attitude of exhibitors.

Work on the stone monuments that will mark, when completed, the entrance to Tulelake from the Canby-Hatfield highway will be delayed, it was reported by A. A. Rodenberger, chairman of the monument committee, until work on dikes in the sump area is completed by Tulelake CCC enrollees. Dikes washed out by high water last winter are being replaced and repaired.

The chamber is assured by Lions clubs of Dunsmuir, Yreka and Weed of cooperation in the plan for establishment of a mobile camp here next fall to care for transient labor with a communication from the 20-30 club of Weed also approving the plan.

Resolutions endorsing the camp are being circulated by civic organizations of both Modoc and Siskiyou counties.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

By RICHARD ARTHUR BOLT, M. D., DR. P. H.

Secretary, Maternal and Child Health Section of American Public Health Association

EVERY prospective mother should know what constitutes good prenatal care, and she should expect to receive such care on the part of her doctor and nurse.

Of first importance is the selection of a competent, conscientious physician known to be skilled in the practice of obstetrics. Such a doctor should be consulted as early in pregnancy as possible, the earlier the better. Certainly this should be done before the middle of pregnancy.

The doctor will want to conduct a thorough general physical examination, including careful measurements of the pelvis, examination of heart and lungs, taking of blood pressure and carrying out laboratory tests of the blood and urine. At that time the doctor should take a complete history, going into details on obscure points. He will complete the first visit by giving definite instructions as to the hygiene of maternity, including diet, rest, exercise, clothing, elimination and care of the breasts.

It is important for her to return to the doctor at regular intervals, even though she may feel perfectly well. On each visit he will carefully check the blood pressure and test the urine, as well as inquire about any unpleasant signs or symptoms, as the following:

Severe vomiting and nausea. Any discharge or bleeding, even in small amounts. Swelling of the hands or face. Shortness of breath. Disturbance of vision. Persistent headaches. Undue fatigue. Dizziness.

Pain in upper abdomen. Painful or scanty urination. Any one of these in itself may not prove serious, but it may indicate to the physician an underlying condition which if taken in time may avoid disaster later on.

It is important to have a planned delivery whether it takes place in the home or in the hospital. In some places visiting or public health nurses are available to help the prospective mothers. Where maternity hospitals and prenatal clinics are part of the community resources, mothers may receive needed help from these.

If a well equipped hospital with separate maternity service is available with consultation services on call, it is more convenient and on the whole safer to have the mother in the hospital, especially for the first baby. However, it must be understood that with skilled medical and nursing care, home deliveries can be carried out with safety and comfort.
