

DANGER ROMANCE AHEAD SERIAL STORY BY TOM HORNER

YESTERDAY: Larry and Monnie became better friends. One night he asks her to dance...

CHAPTER VII MONNIE relaxed under the grip of Larry's fingers.

"But the man was never identified. He was burned so horribly. I know it was Hugh." Larry tried to make his voice calm.

"I'm sorry, Larry, terribly sorry." The touch of her hand on his arm was comforting...

What was Bentley's role? Hating Bentley as he did, it was easy for Larry to accuse him of some part in Hugh's death.

"This brother of yours, Larry—" Hugh was a swell guy," Larry began. "Married, lived downtown."

more than five months ago. He hoped Monnie wouldn't ask why, as a newspaperman, he couldn't have checked accident records sooner.

"And to think," she said abruptly, "I was the cause of the accident. I killed your brother, Larry."

"Monnie! You don't know what you're saying."

"It's true, Larry. I didn't mean to, but I did. It was my fault! Oh, Larry!"

"Quite an argument they're having!" "Yeah, last time they agreed on anything was when they both said, 'I do.'"

"But that's not the story you told at the inquest," Larry broke in. "You testified that the car went over the edge before you reached the turn."

"Mike made me say that, Mike and Daddy," Monnie admitted. "After that accident at school, and the others I had been in, Mike said the coroner would never believe I hadn't forced the man off the road."

Looking at her, Larry knew she was telling the truth. Hugh's death had been no fault of hers. Hugh probably saw the lights of her car, speeding toward him, took the curve rather than crash into her head-on.

"I believe you, Monnie," he said. "I don't blame you."

HE paused a minute, puzzling over an unanswered question. "How did Bentley get there so fast?" he asked.

Monnie had an answer for that. "Mike said he went outside to wait for me, right after he called. He saw this car go racing down the highway, swinging from side to side, as if the driver were drunk."

"Bentley said Hugh drove like that," she said.

A match flared in the darkness. Monnie's hand was touching his own. Larry liked being near to her. He was tempted to put his arm around her, pull her close, kiss those inviting lips.

"When Betty didn't hear from him for a week, she wired me. I came down and we've been looking for him ever since. That was he was drunk?" Larry demanded. "Hugh was drunk, Larry. The autopsy showed he had been drinking, and a broken whiskey bottle was found in his car."

A 1924 model car, which was purchased originally for $1685 recently was sold for $40. The car had been driven only 4.5 miles and was in perfect condition.

In business districts of representative American cities, legal curb parking space has shrunk from one-third to one-half in the past 10 years.
