Spring Brides

MRS. DICK MILLER, the former Naoma Lucille LeMasters, was one of the season's most attractive brides. Her marriage was an event of Tuesday morning, May the twenty-eighth, at an eight o'clock mass read by Father Timothy Casey in Sacred Heart church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth LeMasters, and Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miller Sr., all of this city.

A BEAUTIFUL BRIDE OF JUNE THE FIRST, was Miss Beverly Joyce O'Keefe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Keefe, who became the bride of Mr. Clarence L. Crapo in a half past eight o'clock ceremony in St. Paul's Episcopal church. The bride's attendant was her twin sister, Miss Dorothy O'Keefe, and the little flower girl is Sara Margaret Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Stewart. —Pictures by Kennell-Ellis

Candlelight Nuptials Read at St. Paul's

Miss Beverly O'Keefe Is Charming Bride in Service Saturday Evening, June the First

St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene of one of the season's loveliest weddings when Miss Beverly Joyce O'Keefe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Keefe, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Leon Crapo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crapo, in a candlelight service Saturday evening at half past eight o'clock. Rev. Victor E. Newman read the Episcopal ring ceremony in the presence of several hundred guests.

The altar was banked with white Easter lilies, dogwood and white iris, with bowls of white gladioli and iris placed in the chancel. Tall white ivory tapers lighted the church.

Just before the ceremony Mrs. J. E. Clannahan presided at the organ and Mrs. R. R. Probstel sang the hymn, "O Perfect Love."

The bride entered the church on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. Henry Gould of Yreka, California. She was beautiful in a gown fashioned with a tight bodice of white satin, long sleeves puffed at the shoulder, and a very full white net ballerina skirt ending in a brief train. Her long illusion net veil fell over her face and was caught at the head with a cluster of white bouvardia. The bride's flowers were fashioned into a lovely bouquet of white bouvardia and white sweet peas surrounded by a frill of net. About her throat she wore a strand of pearls.

The bride's twin sister, Miss Dorothy O'Keefe, was her attendant. She wore a frock of delphinium blue net made with a snug bodice trimmed with blue lace, a full floor length skirt with a sash of dusty pink velvet. A wreath of pink carnation

Gertrude Parker Is Bride in Ceremony

Medford Couple Married at Elbert S. Veatch Home Before Friends Saturday Afternoon

Miss Gertrude Parker of Medford, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George H. Parker of Grants Pass, and Mr. William Edward Holmes of Medford, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes, exchanged vows in a beautiful four o'clock wedding ceremony read at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Elbert S. Veatch of Earle street, Saturday afternoon. Rev. A. Theodore Smith of the First Presbyterian church read the service.

The bride, former Klamath Falls resident, was attractive in a gown of starched chiffon in a delicate pink tone. She carried a shower bouquet of white bouvardia, and rapturous pink rosebuds, centered with an orchid, the flowers caught with white ribbons.

Mrs. Paul Smith of Medford, the bride's only attendant, wore a frock of delphinium blue dotted swiss made with a full length skirt, and trimmed with old Irish lace. Her flowers were fashioned into a colonial bouquet of spring blossoms in pastel tones.

The service was read before the fireplace banked with white snapdragons, white gladioli, and candles. Miss Augusta Parker, sister of the bride, sang, "At Dawning," and "O Promise Me," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Veatch who played the wedding music. Miss Parker wore an afternoon frock of spring flower print with a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Veatch was in lace with a corsage of pink rosebuds and bouvardia.

Mr. Lyle Van Scoy of Medford was the best man. Immediately after the ceremony a reception honored Mr. (Continued on Page Six)
