

CANDIDATES IN LOCAL PRIMARY LIST EXPENSES

Circuit Judge Edward B. Ashurst headed the list of primary campaign spenders among Klamath men seeking state office nomination. It was revealed Wednesday in expense reports from Salem.

Judge Ashurst put out $744.56 in his successful drive for the circuit judge nomination. David R. Vandenberg, who also won the nomination for circuit judge, spent $257.55. Other judge candidates reported as follows: Wilson Wiley, $239.18; A. C. Yaden, $412.97; Henry Perkins, $308.11. Another heavy expenditure was made by George Brewster of Redmond. Brewster personally spent $100, and the Brewster for senator club expended $481.13, in the campaign for the republican nomination for state senator. Marshall Cornett, who won the nomination, spent $20 personally, and his club spent $411.82. U. S. Balentine spent $88.20. Marius Petersen, who won the democratic nomination without opposition, spent $10.

In the state representative classes, the following expenditures were reported: Republicans—Paul Landry, $16.36; F. W. Webster, $57.65. Democrats—Harry Bolvin, 3 cents; Henry Semon, nothing. All were nominated. A. A. Soule, republican, was not mentioned in the dispatch.

District attorney expenditures follow:

Republican—Clarence Humble, $74.09; Harold Merryman, $57.10. Democrat—L. O. Orth Sismore, $13. Merryman and Sismore were nominated.

CANADA INVITES AUTO TRAVELERS

A cordial welcome to the motorists of Oregon to visit the province of Alberta, Canada, was extended by Dan E. C. Campbell, director of publicity and travel bureau for that province, when he visited the offices of the Oregon State Motor association recently.

Campbell brought news of the opening of the new highway from Banff into Jasper National park in Alberta, scheduled to open to traffic on July 1. The new highway will eliminate the necessity of swinging up through the province to Edmonton in order to reach the park, and places Jasper National park within one day's driving of Spokane, Wash.

In extending his invitation to visit Alberta, Campbell explained that Oregon motorists would find that every ten dollars of American money is worth eleven dollars of Canadian currency—in effect giving the tourist a free day's vacation for every ten he spends in Canada. He also emphasized that there are no immigration restrictions. Naturalized citizens of the United States should carry their naturalization papers with them for inspection at the border. "American citizens will find that going into Canada is no different from crossing the line from one state to another," he said.

If Americans spend more than 48 hours in Canada they may bring $100 worth of Canadian goods back with them without paying duty.

WATER PUMP TEST

When in doubt as to whether the water pump is working a simple test is to speed up the motor and take a firm hand grip on the upper radiator hose, suggests the emergency service department of the Oregon State Motor association. If the pump is functioning pressure will be felt in the hose as water is forced through it.
