Fishin's Fun

Ideal weather conditions in a way made up for the fair showing made by the fishing fraternity over the weekend.

They at least had some nice picnic weather. The ROGUE RIVER section around UNION CREEK was, as expected, the best fishing spot.

FLAT CREEK reported fishing as good on flies and single eggs and worms.

COPELAND CREEK reported limits on brown flies, gray spliders, worms and eggs.

Also reported as good: National creek, Crater creek, Foster creek, and Bybee creek.

In the CHEWAUCAN river the fish have in all probability moved farther up stream into colder water and more cover. The part of the river most fished is out in the open. The fish that were caught on flies were caught on-buck coachman and McGinty.

DESCHUTES river above Bend is still producing fish on flies. Few limit catches come in but the fish taken are large in size. Buck caddis is the popular fly.

PAULINA lake evidently has had a shot in the arm, according to Monday morning's reports. Limit catches on trolling have been so common that the guests play out their bridge hands before running out to view the spoils of the returning conquering heroes. The fish are of good size and have been wrecking a lot of tackle. Fly fishing is also at a new high with most any bucktail fly taking fish.

How long this phenomenon will last, only "Oscar," the crystal-gazer knows and he won't tell. EAST LAKE on bait fishing for eastern brook is the ticket if you like your fishing sitting down.

DIAMOND LAKE is far from perfect with the fish that have been caught being of the Paul Bunyan variety. Trolling and fly fishing are away off.

GOLD LAKE has fallen off on flies and bait with a few caught on eggs.

FOUR MILE LAKE picked up. Local fishermen reported limits on flies, eggs and worms, bottom fishing best.

Care with lighted or burning material is now more than at any time most important while in the woods. Be sure it's out when you throw it away.

"Take a boy fishing."

DRAWING WILL MATCH TEAMS IN CHRISTENER

Klamath's new Recreation park, the beginnings of as fine a field as can be found on the Pacific coast, will be christened tonight when municipal dignitaries draw numbers from a hat to determine which clubs in the Klamath Softball league clash in the inaugural double-header.

Two games are set for the opening night under the new $5300 lighting system.

Players in the 18-team circuit will gather at 6:30 p. m. at Third and Main streets, with bands, cars, city officials, and spectators for a colorful parade which will wind up at the new park in Mills addition for the 1940 softball debut.

Ceremony Scheduled An opening ceremony, planned by President Lynn Roycroft of the Klamath Softball association, will give the league batsmen a rousing send-off for the first contests.

The Klamath Falls city band will head the parade as it travels down Main street and thence out East Main to the new park. Players will disband at Balsiger's garage, to continue the trip by auto. Behind the band will be Police Chief Frank Hamm, acting as marshal of the parade, and followed in turn by league officials and municipal leaders, including Police Judge Leigh Ackerman, Andy Collier, chairman of the Klamath recreation committee, Mitchell Tillotson of the Rotary club, and Ted Medford of the Kiwanis club.

Trio Conducts Drawing The drawing will be carried out by Collier, Tillotson and Medford. But before the league softballers take over these three prominent citizens will conduct a miniature season-opener of their own.

With Tillotson on the mound, Ted Medford on the receiving end of his slants and Collier at the plate, the trio will stage the first competition on the new field. Until the batter fans or knocks the hurler out of the box the test will continue.

Parking space is afforded for the large crowd expected to be on hand. Bleachers to accommodate everyone have been installed, dust has been settled by a sprinkling system, and warm clear weather promises a perfect setting for the initial contests.

Highjump Mark Faces Blitzkrieg

Umbrellas are almost necessary equipment for anybody that jumps as high as Les Steers (above) San Francisco Olympic club star, who is practicing for the national AAU meet at Fresno, June 29. In a recent practice meet, Steers jumped 6 feet 11 1/2 inches, unofficially.

USC CONQUERS RAIN TO WIN SIXTH CROWN

MINNEAPOLIS, June 24 (AP) Rain, lots of it, practically ruined the nineteenth annual national track and field meet Saturday but it didn't interfere with Southern California today having its sixth straight championship.

The rain, the first in the long history of the meet, did, however, put a brake on record performances expected from the field which was perhaps the greatest assembly of stars gathered for the event.

First it chased most of the field events indoors and then slowed down times for the running events on a track made spongy by being under water most of the day. The Trojans with only one outright first place and a tie for another, showed good balance in placing in eight of 14 events for a 44-point total which compared to 28 2/3 for Stanford's Indians, considered their biggest threat.

Biggest upset of the meet came in the 120-yard high hurdles which Fred Lolcott of Rice institute, the outstanding favorite, was nosed out by inches by Ed Dugger, negro speedster from Tufts, who set a new meet record of :1.9 seconds. Only other record of the meet came in the shotput where Al Blozis, Georgetown's giant, threw the 16-pound ball 56 feet 1/2 inch for new meet and American records.

Sunday's Games Mt. Shasta 1, Redding 0. McCloud 17, Hilt 2. Weed Sons 9, Dorris Klam. 2. Dunsmuir 4, Yreka 4 (11 innings unfinished — game under protest).

Playing errorless baseball and collecting 11 bingles off the slants of Brown and Shaw, Dorris-Klamath hurlers, the fast Weed Sons of Italy team won a 9-2 victory Sunday at Dorris and sent the slumping locals skidding into full possession of sixth place. Weed moved into third spot.

The eighth round of the Northern California loop saw Mt. Shasta remain undefeated at the top of the pile, edging out Redding 1-0 in a pitching duel. McCloud kept just behind the leaders with a one-sided 17-2 victory over Hilt.

Dunsmuir and Yreka played a full eleven innings and with the score tied up 4-4, the game turned into a player's brawl while Dunsmuir pulled her players from the field. The game is now under protest before league officials.

The Weed Sons jumped into an early lead over Dorris-Klamath when D. Barbieri slammed a homer on the first pitched ball. The Lumberjacks tied up the contest in their half of the first when Brooks singled, stole second, and scored on Fidler's single.

From the first frame on, Gerstenberg, Weed hurler, had the Lumberjacks eating out of his hand. He was relieved at the start of the eighth by Schneberger after shutting out the locals for six straight innings. Schneberger was greeted with three base hits and a run in the eighth but tamed the Lumberjack rally in the ninth with no hits or runs.

Weed took advantage of four free passes issued by Brown along with six Dorris-Klamath errors to score in nearly every inning. Brown toiled on the mound for a full six innings during which time he allowed only four hits but in the seventh the lefty tired and Weed pounded him from the box with two singles and two home runs bringing their run column up to eight tallies. Shaw took the pitching duties over for Dorris yielding three hits and one run during the remainder of the game.

D. Barbieri and Fruzza were the big guns at the plate for Weed. Fruzza hit two homers and drove in four runs. Brooks and Fidler each collected two singles apiece with Fidler driving in both runs for Dorris-Klamath. Bernadou, Wheeler

Dan Faces Whirls Of Tough Cowhand

Seldom has Dangerous Dan McShain of Hollywood been matched against a tougher opponent than Cowboy Dude Chick of Wyoming, his main event ringmate on Tuesday night's wrestling program at the armory.

McShain, who recently dropped the world's light heavyweight title in a bout in the east, illustrated his prowess last week when he battered the Black Panther into submission in the main event in 53 seconds with his pile-driver hold. The negro, as tough a man as can be found hereabouts, was placed on the shelf with a badly wrenched back.

There will be no lightning victory for the Hollywoodite this week, however, as Cowboy Dude will give the California ruffian too much competition. Chick, a scientific wrestler, takes things pretty well into his own hands when he finds himself matched with a meanie of McShain's type.

In the semi-windup Jimmie Goodrich of Notre Dame, huge ex-footballer, will meet the clever Indian boy, Frankie Clemens.

Prince Nihalakis, Arabian matman, tangles with George Wagner of Texas in the opener, for the initial appearance of the Texan on the Klamath mat.

and Shaw each drove out a double.

Next Sunday the Lumberjacks travel to Dunsmuir for a league tilt.

BIG LAKES GRABS HUGE 31-7 WIN

Big Lakes walloped the Tionesta nine on the South Sixth street diamond Sunday 31 to 7, proving their potential power in the race for the Interwest-land league pennant.

J. Crapo was hitter for the day, with four singles and one double. Next was Law, with two singles and a double and one home run. It was a free-hitting game, with everyone figuring in the hit column.

Mahoney was winning pitcher and E. James hurled for the Tionesta crew.

Klamath Netmen Display Strength in Medford Win

The Klamath Falls tennis team, displaying a great all around strength that rivaled even last year's undefeated play, overwhelmed the Medford tennis Sunday at Medford, 10 matches to 2.

The decisiveness of the victory was emphasized by the fact that the 10 matches won were straight-set affairs, with not a set being lost.

Louie Moller, playing top spot for Klamath, bowed to the crackling drives and uncanny drop shots of Medford's ace number one man, Yoshio Maruyama, 1-6, 4-6.

Eddie Dent of Klamath defeated Ennis Velarde, Oregon State college player the past year, 6-3, 6-1.

Jack Crawford of Klamath had his blistering service working in good shape, downing Wilse Pruitt by the score of 6-3, 6-2.

Roy Mustoe of Klamath scored a quick and well earned triumph over Roy Kayanea, 6-2, 6-1.

Harold Robertson returned to the Klamath lineup after an absence of several seasons, and showed much of his old time form in downing the hard-hitting Delbert Cooley, 6-3, 6-3.

Clyffon Richmond of Klamath had his blistering forehand under good control, gaining a clean cut win over H. Spatz, 6-1, 6-2.

Ben Hastings of Klamath got in some wicked drives in quickly disposing of Herried, 6-3, 6-0.

Frank Subject, ace player for Klamath high the past year, made his debut on the city team a happy one, handily defeating Kay Nakagiri, 6-1, 6-0.

Crawford and Robertson teamed to form Klamath's number one doubles team, bowing to Maruyama and Velarde, in a bitterly contested 3-6, 7-9 loss.

Moller and Mustoe put on the pressure to bring out a 6-4, 7-5 win over Pruitt and Kayanea. Richmond and Dent defeated Herried and Nakagiri, 6-2, 6-1. Hastings and Subject finished the day by defeating Cooley and Maruyama, 6-4, 6-2.

Weimar Cracks Par, Precedent

Earl Weimer, well-known Klamath Falls lumberman and golfer, shattered par and precedent Saturday afternoon when he scored an ace on the third hole at the Reames Golf and Country club, then narrowly missed duplicating the feat on his second nine.

It was the first time in the history of the organization that the 215-yard stretch had been bridged in one shot. Weimer finished the round with a 37, one over par.

On his second time around, the hard-hitting lumberman again lashed out with his spoon and rolled the ball within three feet of the cup. He tanked it for a birdie two for a total of three strokes on both attempts. Par for the hole is three.

Golfers Mantle, Runey and Lamom completed the foursome in which Weimer was playing.
