

Dude, Dan Set For Return Match

GRUDGE EVENT SET TONIGHT AT ARMORY

With his arch-enemy Bulldog Jackson on the sidelines among his hecklers, Dangerous Danny McShain of Hollywood faces Cowboy Dude Chick tonight in a return main event struggle at the armory.

Growing out of a rough and tumble scrap last week when Danny overcame the tough cowboy with leg holds, the match promises some of the liveliest fireworks seen at the local arena in months. It should prove the toughest test for the ex-world champ from Hollywood in a long time, as Cowboy Dude, always a formidable opponent, is fired to the limit and vows he'll wrap the uncouth Hollywoodite around a ringpost.

Bulldog Jackson, a bitter foe of McShain's as the result of several scraps in the Hollywood ring, arrived in Klamath Falls Monday and will probably be on hand tonight to heckle his long-time adversary. That will make the going all the tougher for McShain, whose assignment is tough enough with just the chore of handling the vengeful Wyoming whirler.

Last week Chick was so weakened by a leg injury that he fell an easy victim to McShain for two of three falls. He attempted one airplane spin but was unable to keep the stocky Californian atop his shoulders because of his unsteady underpinning. During the last several days Cowboy Dude has been putting in strenuous roadwork. He pronounces his legs again in fine shape and is confident of a quick win this evening over the scrappy southerner.

Just what part Yukon Jake will play in the festivities remains a mystery, but if he's on hand tonight he'll probably be routing for a Chick victory. He is eager to line up another bout with McShain and may have such ideas in mind.

On the supporting program tonight are Prince Nihalakis, colorful Arab, who is billed in one bout against Jimmie Goodrich, former Notre Dame footballer, and Frankie Clemens, Indian grappler, who will meet Bobby Chick, Dude's brother, in the other preliminary.

It will be the first appearance here of Bobby Chick in several months.

The first two bouts will be presented in an order to be determined by the toss of a coin. The first match is scheduled for 8:30.

DEMPSEY KO'S WRESTLER IN SECOND ROUND

ATLANTA, Ga., July 2 (AP)—Jack Dempsey, making his first appearance in eight years, Monday night scored a second-round knockout over Wrestler Cowboy Luttrell.

The lumbering Luttrell waded into a barrage of rights and lefts at the first bell and only the bell and a good grip on the ropes saved him from a kayo in the opening round.

Then in the second round, Dempsey knocked the bulky grappler down for a count of eight immediately after the bell. Luttrell got up mainly by instinct. Dempsey's trip-hammer instantly began whaling the cowboy's face again.

Luttrell backed into the ropes and took a count of two and then came out for the last time. Jack shot a right between Luttrell's eyes and the cowboy sailed over the ropes into the press section. The time was one minute and 58 seconds of the second round.

Long after he was counted out and the crowd of 15,000 set up an ovation for Dempsey, Luttrell lay in the aisles and when Milo Steinborn, his wrestler-aid, carted him away to the showers he still didn't know the fight was over.

Luttrell's face was mince-meat after Dempsey got through with him. The Mauler was unmarked except for a few red streaks around his thickening midriff.

Dempsey said he felt great and hadn't even worked up a sweat, but his breath came in heaves.

This fight, which sounded like comic opera to fight circles in the east, went over big in Dixie.

Dempsey had never fought in the south during his prime, and he was Atlanta's pride. He might have been a decade late but the old punch was still there and when Luttrell landed outside the ring you would have thought the Mauler had just knocked out Firpo by the tumult that greeted the wallop.

enth to nullify his brilliant early-inning performance and went down to a 6-2 defeat, their second loss in as many starts.

Veterans of Foreign Wars, a contingent that dropped 11 straight games in 1939 without a win, romped to its second triumph in two 1940 starts by edging the Elks, 7-5, in Monday night's first game and gained first place ranking in the National league standings with a record of two wins and no losses.

Pitcher's Battle
The Weyerhaeuser-Postoffice tilt was a pitcher's battle between Broten of the Timbermen and Higbee of the Postmen for three innings, but the champs landed on Higbee for three hits in the fourth frame and a like number in the fifth for five tallies, enough to sew up the game. The Postoffice hurler allowed only seven safeties but three errors by his teammates contributed to his downfall.

Jack Waits, second baseman for the winners, and Ed Franklin, left fielder, led the Weyerhaeuser attack with two hits apiece. Waits had a homer to his credit while Franklin included a double in his slugging. Catcher Joe Derrah contributed to the long distance hitting with a triple in the fifth.

Errors Beat Elks
Five miscues led to the Elks' second 1940 defeat at the hands of the VFW youngsters who came from behind twice to account for their two-run margin of victory. McCandless and Michaelson, center fielder and third baseman, respectively, led the victors at the plate with two hits in four tries. Kiger, Elk right fielder, was best for the losers with two hits in three trips to the platter.

GIANTS BLAST BEES, 7-1 TO HOLD PACE

NEW YORK, July 2 (AP)—The month of July, fatal to the New York Giants' pennant chances last year, began in promising fashion Monday when Bill Terry's club scored a 7-1 victory over the Boston Bees to move within 1½ games of first place in the National league.

In 1939, the Giants skidded right out of the pennant picture during July when batting slumps, suspension of key players and injuries sent their first-place drive into reverse. The club never recovered and finished the campaign in fifth place, 18½ games off the pace.

This season, the Giants have bounced into the flag fight with a vigor that promises to make them a constant threat. They won 18 of 20 games last month and if they can storm their way through July, may come into the closing stages of the race as the club to beat.

Melton Victorious
Cliff Melton gained his seventh victory Monday as he limited the Bees to six hits to give the Giants their fifth straight home victory over Boston. Homers by Harry Danning, Tony Cuccinello and Mel Ott sparked the Giant drive.

The Brooklyn Dodgers punched over three runs in the first inning off Hugh Mulcahy and then went on to shade the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3.

Enos Slaughter's two home runs created the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 win over the leading Cincinnati Reds, whose margin over the Dodgers shrunk to half a game.

Cubs Edged
Claude Passeau forced home the winning run with a walk to Paul Waner in the 10th inning as the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Chicago Cubs, 4-3. Vince DiMaggio homered, tripled and singled to pace the Pirates.

Tony Favored Over Maxie

CLOWNS SET FOR 15-ROUND GO TONIGHT

By GAYLE TALBOT
JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 2 (AP)—Those two upstanding heavyweights, Tony Galento and Max Baer, meet in a 15-round fight at the local ball park tonight, providing, of course, that Tony doesn't get crowned by a relative before he can climb into the ring.

Around 30,000 fans are expected to watch the two veterans fight it out (about 6 p. m. PST) for the right to meet Champion Joe Louis in a September bout. At least, Galento is assured another shot at the champion if he wins tonight. Baer might possibly line himself up for a return with Louis, somewhere, but he would have to whip the socks off Galento to make Promoter Mike Jacobs and the customers forget his last outing with the big negro.

Nothing has happened to change the widespread opinion that Galento will win, probably by a knockout. Tony couldn't possibly get himself into poorer physical condition at the last minute than the experts have thought him to be for a week or two. And the cut he received on his chin from a flying beer glass the night before last didn't mar his sterling fighting qualities.

In all the excitement attending Tony's bout with the beer glass, practically nothing has been heard of Baer for a couple of days. This is a new experience for the ex-champion. There was a time when Max grabbed off the pre-fight headlines, himself, with dizzy escapades, but he got himself badly over-matched this time.

So quiet has Max been, indeed, that he has some observers believing he finally has become serious about this boxing business. Several well known judges of fighters have said the last few days that, so help them, they think Baer had worked himself into a state of mind where he will go in there and slug it out with Tony tonight until something comes loose.

Wilson Chases Portland Star From Net Play

PORTLAND, July 2 (AP)—The first dark horse to gallop to victory in the 42nd annual Oregon tennis tournament is bronze Pierpont Wilson of Berkeley, a Californian who seems to have "arrived" since playing here last year.

Seattle Set for Portland Killing

By The Associated Press
The Seattle Rainiers sharpened the cleaver Tuesday for a killing at the expense of the Portland Beavers, cellar inmates of the Pacific Coast league.

Seattle brings to the series a 5½ game lead over the closest contenders, Oakland. Portland languishes 22½ games behind its host.

Unless the Rainiers get careless or the Beavers begin to show more than they have previously, the Seattle club should strengthen its hold on first place.

Portland lost 5 out of 7 to Sacramento last week—and the week previous the Sacs lost 7 out of 8 to Seattle.

The week also pits Los Angeles against Hollywood, and may answer the puzzler, what's the matter with the Angels?
