Soroptimists Plan Care of Refugees

Charter Received by Baker Club at Installation Banquet Held Recently

Letters are being received by the presidents of the Soroptimist clubs of the American federation calling their attention to the resolution passed at the recent convention in Salt Lake City endorsing the principle of individual clubs or individual Soroptimist members providing for refugee children secured from agencies which have the responsibility for their presence on the American continent. It is hoped that children of Soroptimists may be placed with Soroptimists whenever possible. In line with this one of the officers of the federation who lives in New York city has taken three children of Soroptimist sisters from overseas.

An amazing and cheering note has been sounded in the war troubled world of England in a cable received by ex-President Anna Spott, sent June the twenty-second, as follows: "Board of governors sends greetings and reports three new clubs" this coming from Miss Elizabeth Hawes of London, England, past president of the Soroptimist clubs of Great Britain and Ireland, and now liaison officer between the three federations composing the Soroptimist International association.

An invitation has been received by the Soroptimist club of Klamath Falls to visit the "Know Mississippi Better" train which is due to arrive here July the twenty-second, and it is hoped that many of the local members will avail themselves of this opportunity and extend a greeting to these visitors. The train will arrive at eleven o'clock in the morning and will be on the track at the Southern Pacific depot for half an hour.

A short digest of facts regarding Soroptimism has been prepared under the able direction of Mrs. Olive Cornett, assisted by Mrs. Eileen Hicks, and is now available to any member of the club desiring one.

A copy of the program of the installation of the Baker club has been received, showing many interesting classifications in this youngest club of the northwest region. Etta Cuning, formerly of Klamath Falls, and president of the new club classifies under office equipment. Other classifications are groceries, attorney, business college
