Merrill

MERRILL — Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick was uninjured when, en route to Klamath Falls a few days ago, she turned her car over in a ditch near the Fairclo ranch on the Merrill highway when attempting to miss a small boy on a bicycle. The lad appeared suddenly from a side road or driveway, riding directly into the path of her car. The machine was not badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Haskins had as guests, Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Linsinger, Ashland and daughter, Ruth, old friends of the family.

Mrs. J. L. Fotheringham, Mrs. Miles Moore, Mrs. Luther Taber, Mrs. Allan Lommasson, Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Mrs. Luther Haskins were guests Wednesday at the silver tea sponsored by the Community Guild of the Tulelake Presbyterian church. Attendance at the Merrill Ladies' Aid session this week was not large but members are jubilant over winning first place in the silver sales contest for organizations with 50 members or less, which was sponsored by merchants of Klamath Falls. The standing brought $100 into the Aid treasury with the check being received by Mrs. Luther Haskins. Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick, president of the Aid was chairman of the campaign for votes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Takacs spent last weekend at Crescent City and other coast points.

Ivan Covington, a resident of the Merrill district for the past 11 years, has sold his 4-acre place near Adams Point to Arthur Oster, employed by John Kandra. Covington, who for 10 years was a ditcher in the Merrill district for the reclamation will spend a few days in Ashland with a sister, Mrs. Ralph Foster. A former resident of Montana, he plans to attend the Montana picnic in Ashland Sunday. His future plans for a location are indefinite.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Varvicka and three children of New York City are guests of Varvicka's sister, Mrs. Max Hartlerode and family. The guests, former residents of Malin, at one time made their home on the ranch now owned by Henzel brothers. They plan to visit other relatives in Sacramento, and to see the fair on Treasure Island before returning home by the southern route.

Women of the Moose at Merrill met in regular session Tuesday, July 16, in the Community hall with Mrs. Lester Schreiner presiding. The ritualistic committee announced plans to award prizes to members with most perfect attendance for the year, beginning August 1, 1940. At the close of the lodge, the Loyal Order of Moose was invited to join the ladies for refreshments.

An executive meeting will be held on August 2 at the home of Mrs. John Stolt. All officers are urged to be present. Members of the order leaving Reading, "Riff", "Ritmetic and Radio. And the most entertaining and intriguing is Radio.

All during the school year, in class rooms all over the nation, thousands of children have listened eagerly to the American School of the Air, as the magic of Radio brought them instruction in a new and vital way. To all of us Radio has taught the story of America, its past, present and future, its folk songs and its legends.

And if we have, over the air, much that is banal to the point of almost idiosyncrasy, why, that too is America—for there is much that is futile in our lives—too much.

But we also have that priceless privilege of hearing a Toscanini conduct the finest symphony orchestra ever assembled; we may listen to discussions of the latest books; we may hear profound, yet interesting arguments on vital subjects, we may laugh ourselves helpless over some fine comedian's buffoonery.

Possibly we'll have to do considerable dial-twiddling to get the results mentioned. But the point is that we CAN get them. And there you have America again—the privilege of the best if you want it, of the worst if you choose it. "Visit with your friends in Memory Garden."

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on "Growth in Service."

Thursday to attend Northwest Moose and Oregon Moose convention at Portland are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Schriener, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Meter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Victorine, Marion Gantz and P. G. Wilson, Malin; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. John Stolt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sevey, Claude McCormick, Ray Van Meter, Paul Lewis and John Williams, Merrill.

They got an idea right there that helped the railroad set a new record in fuel efficiency.

It came out the other day when the road's statisticians figured the company hauled 10.31 tons of freight a mile for every pound of fuel in 1939, just about twice as many tons hauled as 20 years ago.

The remark was that the water-softening stuff saved more on the line washed than on the soap. The two engineers substituted locomotive boilers for line. They tried the water-softener to stop the deposit in boiler pipes which interferes with heating and it worked.

McCormick is now general superintendent of motive power and Russell is mechanical engineer.

CANADIAN UNIT 'INVADES' HOME OF QUINTUPLETS

CALLANDER, Ont., July 22 (AP)—A fully mechanized unit of the Royal Canadian artillery from Cam Petawawa last week "invaded" the Dafoe hospital here, home of the Dionne quintuplets.

The artillerymen, easy victims of the quints, had to be warned not to cheer when the girls, dressed as Red Cross nurses, sang "O Canada," and "God Save the King," and then turned to "Oh Johnnie."

The visit, especially arranged for the artillerymen, continued with the quints giving a demonstration of first aid.

S. P. REPORTS NET FOR JUNE DOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22 (AP)—Southern Pacific transportation system last week reported net railway operating income of the month of June totaled $2,471,046, a decrease of $388,737 as compared with the same month last year.

Net operating income of the six months ended June 30, however showed an increase. The total of $9,172,859 was $77,265 above the figure for the corresponding period in 1939.

Air Base Is Training School For Navigators

To insure an adequate supply of pilots and navigators for its huge four-motored Boeing B-17-B bombers, the army air corps is completing their training at March field, heretofore solely a tactical base and repair depot. Lieut. Patrick McIntyre (pointing) demonstrates a navigation problem before taking off in the B-17-B bomber in the background. Each student carries a case of navigation instruments.

Touring Balloon Keeps Cops Chasing Down Spy Reports

LAKEHURST, N. J., July 22 (UP)—Four naval officers drifting over the New York and Connecticut countryside in a "dusk to dawn" balloon flight kept state police and those of 36 communities in a state of nervous alert during a night filled with apprehensive reports from suspicious residents of the area.

There was, for instance, the pardonable amazement of Gus Durham, a Briarcliff manor resident who was walking home at 3 a. m. today when he heard voices just over his head. Then a light flashed down on him from the sky.

He blinked at the light and saw a balloon, its basket just 40 feet over his head.

"Are you in trouble?" he inquired.

"No trouble," an aeronaut replied nonchalantly. "Just floating around."

Then the balloon rose suddenly out of sight. Durham, not quite sure of anything, ran to police headquarters, where Patrolman Frederick Borho was inclined to recommend a soothing cup of hot milk and a good night's sleep.

But the telephone began to ring and Patrolman Borho decided there was nothing for it but to send out word a balloon was floating around frightening decent people out of their wits.

There was a considerable stir of police activity a little later when reports came in the balloon was headed toward Croton dam, which controls 14,839,000,000 (B) gallons of New York City's water supply.

Everything turned out all right when the balloon finally landed at Millford, Conn., where the occupants explained they came down to avoid being blown into Long Island sound. The occupants were Lieut. W. A. Hanger, commander, and three young pilots in their first long distance training flight—Lieut. J. Baronowski, Ensign E. D. Jackson and Ensign Frank Buckley.

COLLEGE LEADER AGAINST 3RD TERM

WOODSTOCK, Conn., July 22 (UP)—Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins college in Winter Park, Fla., and a lifelong democrat, Saturday issued a statement calling on all democrats to unite against a third term for President Roosevelt.

Dr. Holt said that the president's qualifications did not enter into the question, that he might be the best qualified American for the next four years as was George Washington in his time yet "Washington's reasons for refusing a third term . . . are more cogent to date than they were in his time."

"If a third term why not a fourth, a fifth or a sixth term," Dr. Holt said. "If a sixth term why not a dictatorship for life and a crown prince? There must be more than 5000 men in the democratic party and more than 5000 men in the republican party who, if elected, would be capable of meeting the exalted standards required of an American president in these fateful times. To deny this is to indict democracy in action under a system of universal education."

He urged passage of a constitutional amendment limiting the presidency to two terms. Dr. Holt was a candidate for United States senator from Connecticut in 1924.

Java residents were greatly relieved when the United States fleet returned to Hawaii after its recent "mystery" trip, passengers said. They feared Uncle Sam's greyhounds of the sea were headed for the Atlantic coast.

Kirsten Criticizes U. S. For Lack of Interest in New 'Cycloidal' Invention

SEATTLE, July 22 (AP)—Prof. F. K. Kirsten of the University of Washington last week criticized the government's "lack of interest" in his cycloidal propeller invention, which he claims would revolutionize American air defense and which, he asserted, has already been perfected and is in use by the German navy.

The propeller, on which he has worked for years and which operates on the principle of an egg beater, would enable warplanes to take off, fly and land without noise, he said.

Discussed With Lindy
Col. Charles Lindbergh discussed the national defense features of the invention with him here last year, he said. As now used by the German navy on fast torpedo boats, the marine cycloidal propeller stabilizes the boats and enables them to make right-angle turns at full speed, making them difficult targets. Rolling in rough seas is also eliminated.

Operating like an egg beater, the marine propeller is a set of blades. They are shaped like short airplane propeller blades and follow each other around in a circle like seats on a merry-go-round.

"The government is spending thousands of dollars for parachute troops, but with this plane they wouldn't need parachutes," Professor Kirsten said.

Would Be Silent
"A cycloidal plane could land at night, unload troops and be gone before the enemy knew anything about it. A silent plane, flying at night, would be hard to detect."

He recalled that he attempted to interest the navy in the cycloidal propeller as far back as 1922 and that the navy bureau of construction assisted him with trial runs on Lake Union, but the navy bureau of engineering refused to consider the completed plans.

"The admiral in the engineering bureau pointed to the door and told my representative to get out and not come back," Kirsten asserted. "Germany was working in the same field and a company there agreed to use my invention."

Dirigible to Be Fitted
Professor Kirsten said further that the dirigible Shenandoah, which crashed in Ohio in 1935, was on the way to Fort Lewis to be fitted with a Kirsten propeller, when the tragedy occurred.

"I haven't been able to interest the government armed forces in the idea since," he added.

The cost of an airplane equipped with cycloidal propellers, he said would be $250,000. His other inventions, including the Kirsten pipe, will eventually give him money to do further work on it, he said, but "that doesn't help national defense in 1940!"

CAMP FIRE GIRLS HAVE FULL WEEK

Six counselors, headed by Mrs. John Kennedy, saw the Camp Fire girls through an enjoyable week of work and play at Lake of the Woods last week.

Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. George Doran, Mrs. Herman Bremer and Mrs. L. A. French attended the national training camp for Camp Fire guardians held at Namanu near Portland. Mrs. Bremer has just returned from an extensive training course in Red Cross waterfront activity.

Following is a typical schedule of a day at Camp Esther Applegate:

Beginning at 7 a. m., reveille; 7:25, flag-raising, nurse inspection; 7:30, breakfast; 8:15, cleanup; 9:00, morning assembly; 9:40, craft classes; swimming, camp and nature, handicraft; 10:10, change classes; 10:50, change classes; 11:30, free period; 12:15, lunch.

Afternoon events, 1:00, canteen and library; 1:15, rest period; 2:30, swimming; 3:30, classes; 3:45, horseback and hobbies; 4:45, free period; 5:30, dinner.

Evening period, 6:30 games and sports; 7:30 evening camp fire; 9:00, taps.

Mrs. L. A. French, nature and campcraft counselor, led several girls on a nature hike Tuesday afternoon. The girls returned with specimens of wild flowers and boughs which they used in making centerpieces for the dinner tables.

Wednesday evening a costume carnival party was held at the lodge. Seven booths and exhibits, advertised by "barkers," were the high lights of the entertainment.

WEDNESDAY EVENING A COSTUME CARNIVAL PARTY WAS HELD AT THE LODGE. SEVEN BOOTHS AND EXHIBITS, ADVERTISED BY "BARKERS," WERE THE HIGH LIGHTS OF THE ENTERTAINMENT.
