

Return From Motor Tour

Mrs. Rogers, Guest Enjoy Leisurely Trip Through Northwest

Mrs. Frank W. Jennings and Mrs. Leslie Rogers have just returned to Klamath Falls from a 4000-mile motor trip through the northwest states, visiting numerous places of historical as well as scenic interest.

Their journey took them through Idaho, Nebraska, Wyoming, North and South Dakota. They were greatly impressed by the Black Hills region where they attended the Passion play that is receiving national acclaim. They made a leisurely tour of Yellowstone park and while in Wyoming were guests at several of the large dude ranches. On the homeward route they motored through Washington and were entertained by friends at Olympia and Tacoma.

Mrs. Rogers told of the manner in which some of the outstanding characters of the early west are played up by many of the communities, arousing the immediate interest of visitors, but most outstanding, they thought, were the little parks available in practically all of the cities and towns to tourists or residents desiring a cool spot for rest or a lunch.

In talking to numerous people, they learned that such parks have a tremendous asset in tourist trade, inasmuch as they provide a comfortable place in a central location for an hour or so stop-over.

Mrs. Jennings left immediately after her return here for San Francisco to meet friends from the Hawaiian islands, her former home, but expects to return to Klamath Falls again in September.

HENLEY — The Mt. Laki Ladies Aid will meet at the Henley school Wednesday afternoon, August the fourth, at one o'clock to complete the Red Cross work on hand, inasmuch as the articles must be at the Red Cross headquarters ready for shipping by August the fifteenth. All the members are urged to attend and assist.

Students Hold Get-Together

Mary O'Connor Hostess to Academy Graduating Class

The home of Miss Mary J. O'Connor in the Spring Lake district was the scene on August the third of a gay get-together party of the 1940 graduating class from the Sacred Heart academy. A few of the classmates had left immediately after school and could not be present, and many more will be leaving in September to continue their education at colleges and universities.

Miss Barbara Lavenik and Miss Jane Kenyon are leaving immediately for San Francisco to enroll in nurse's training, and Miss Mary O'Connor plans to attend Armstrong's Business college. Games and a marshmallow roast filled the early part of the evening, and later dancing was enjoyed until midnight when refreshments were served on the lighted lawn.

Those present were Miss Phyllis Smith, Miss Barbara Lavenik, Miss Jane Kenyon, Miss Lucille Parker, Miss Rosemary Zupan, Miss Renata Sari, Miss Dorothy Burgeson, Miss Frances Lee McMullen, Miss Dolly Matney, Miss Peggy Wells, Miss Gertrude Parker, Miss Tilly Zupan, Stephen Szabo, Tommy Jobe, Arthur Moloni, Don Foster, James Hammond, Alvin Cheyne, Jackie Liske, Albert Warner, Charles Minor, Billy Hill, Warren Johnson, Larry Rae, Dan O'Connor, Jackie O'Connor and the hostess of the evening.

Dinner Honors Medford Visitor

At her home on Preston street Thursday evening, August the first, Mrs. Dewey Foster entertained at a six o'clock dinner in honor of Mrs. William O'Brien of Medford when those present besides the host or guest were Mrs. Frank Sexton, Mrs. J. G. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Lee Kennedy, Mrs. E. E. Smith and the hostess.

All those present were old time residents of Marcus, Washington, and as they gathered about the table there were many reminiscences of the home town which will soon be submerged by the waters of the lake behind the Coulee dam. Miss Doris Foster entertained with several musical numbers.
