OREGON AIRWAY TO PRESS FOR KLAMATH LINE

Oregon Airways will press vigorously for approval of its application for an air line into Klamath Falls via central Oregon points, H. E. Stearns, head of the company, declared on a visit here Thursday.

On September 30, in Washington, D. C., the applications of Oregon Airways, United Airlines and Nick Bez will be consolidated for hearing. All of them want to start air service into Klamath Falls.

Stearns claimed that his company has pioneered the way and is responsible for getting the hearing set for September 30.

"We are the only strictly Oregon outfit applying," said Stearns. "For that reason, we have received assurances of support from Oregon's senators and representatives in Washington."

Stearns said his operation, if approved, would run between Klamath Falls and Portland via North Dalles, Bend, Prineville and Redmond. Central Oregon points, he said, are giving him strong backing.

Some months ago Stearns' company started daily service into Klamath Falls. It was discontinued, Stearns said, pending government approval.

Stearns was accompanied here by T. T. Hinman, who is affiliated with his company.

British Censor Time of Raids

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Reports circulated anew today that Great Britain had made inquiries about the possibility of obtaining some of the army's long range B-17 bombing planes.

The British were said to have asked if they could have some of the 59 bombers of that type now in service, particularly the older models, or if they could take over some of the army's current order for improved types of the plane. The improved ships are credited with a speed in excess of 300 miles an hour and a range of more than 3000 miles.

Anglo-American Union Discussed

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Clement R. Atlee, lord privy seal, assured the house of commons today that the members will have opportunity for the fullest discussion "before any union of the kind proposed to France is put forward in regard to the United States."

Just before France signed her armistice with Germany it was announced Prime Minister Churchill had proposed a form of British-French union with common citizenship.

Churchill is preparing to give such assurance of discussion "if ever such a far reaching scheme were put forward," Atlee said.

OREGON BANK RULE ACCEPTED BY COURT

The Oregon Bank and Trust company "compromise settlement" on stockholders assessments was legally effected through Circuit Judge Edward B. Ashurst's court Thursday.

Under terms of the compromise, stockholders of the defunct banking company who have paid 100 per cent of their assessments, are refunded 25 per cent.

A. A. Rogers, superintendent of state banks, came to Klamath Falls a few weeks ago to discuss with depositors the proposal for this compromise.

After the bank's doors closed in 1933, the state superintendent of banks levied an assessment of $100 a share on stockholders under a law since held unconstitutional and void.

In 1935, the state superintendent levied a second assessment, after finding that the assets of the institution lacked $77,064 of meeting deposit liabilities.

Since then, liquidation has proceeded and more has been realized on assets than had been expected. It has been found that an assessment of $68 a share would have paid off the liabilities.

To end litigation which has been started in the case and bring the liquidation nearer conclusion, the compromise was agreed upon. Under stipulations filed in Judge Ashurst's court Thursday the banking superintendent will retain all principal amounts paid by the stockholders in 1933 and credit these amounts against their liabilities for 1935. Where stockholders have paid 100 per cent of assessments, a refund of 25 per cent is granted.

R. C. Groesbeck and Harold Merryman and J. H. Napier represented various stockholders in the case. J. S. Graham represented the banking superintendent.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD DINNER

A dinner in honor of democratic county precinct committeemen and committeewomen will be held at the Willard hotel, the tentative date being October 1. This event will formally open the campaign for the fall election and prominent speakers will be present, democratic leaders said Wednesday.

All democrats are being invited and further details will be announced later.

The democrats also announced formation of a Roosevelt-Wallace club for Klamath county with G. C. Persell as chairman. Prospective members were asked to get in touch with Persell, whose telephone number is 3545 and whose address is route 3, box 907.

HOMESTEAD CASE END SEEN TODAY

Witnesses for the contestee in the Tule lake homestead case of Wilford Dixon versus Albert Schindler were put on the stand Wednesday and testified Schindler had resided on the land in accordance with homestead laws.

It was also claimed he had made improvements on the property amounting to approximately $4000. Many of the witnesses were neighboring homesteaders.

The case, in which Dixon contends Schindler has not fulfilled requirements for ownership of the homestead involved, is being conducted by U. S. Commissioner Bert C. Thomas.

Schindler himself took the stand near the close of yesterday's hearing and was expected to finish his testimony Thursday.

The case will be decided by the federal land office.

GOP MAKES PLANS FOR WILLKIE VISIT

A tentative program for the impending visit of Wendell L. Willkie to Klamath Falls Sunday was outlined Wednesday night before the Republican Central committee meeting in the courthouse and plans shaped for cooperation in the matter of handling the large crowd expected at the station.

According to William Kuykendall, chairman of the group, an agricultural display of Klamath county products will probably be assembled.

A delegation of county republican leaders including the president of the Willkie-McNary Veterans' club, the head of the Young Republican's organization and Chairman Kuykendall was named to greet the GOP nominee.

CITIZENS HEAD FOR SHELTERS AT NIGHT FALL

shot down in morning fighting, one over East Anglia, northeast of London and two off the southeast coast.

Tremendous loads of explosive were dumped by the Germans last night, principally in south London, but also in central London and in practically every other part of England as well—Lancashire, Hertfordshire, Berkshire, Essex, Sussex, Kent, the midlands, northeast and southwest.

New devastation and damage in central London included the Peter Robinson department store at Oxford Circus, the London county hall, just across Westminster bridge from the houses of parliament, the courtyard of the world-famous British museum, the Wallace Art Collection courtyard, the Inner Temple (law courts) library and the public records office.

The government said at least 90 persons were killed and 350 injured last night in London. This compared with 308 killed and 1937 injured the night of Sept. 17, the highest casualty list of any single night.

Striking singly and in waves, the Germans threw great numbers of planes into the night sky, dropping a new type of explosive fire bomb as well as the usual explosives and incendiaries, causing buildings to sway with the power of their blasts and great ruddy fires to light the sky.

More than 1000 persons marched in an eerie procession through fire-lit streets from a shelter more than 60 feet underground when one mammoth bomb hit a famous London building above them and set it ablaze. They took refuge in surface shelters.

A rescue party, trying to dig out a man whose body was partly exposed, was trapped after an all-night struggle when a wall collapsed. But a second rescue party rescued their comrades, freed the trapped man and continued digging for others.

Former Governor Judd of Hawaii Says Mainlanders Should Know More of Isles

Mainlanders ought to know more about Hawaii, said former Governor Lawrence Judd of the famed offshore territory on a visit to Klamath Falls Thursday. Here to address the Rotary club Friday, Governor Judd with Mrs. Judd was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Macartney.

"It is a curious circumstance," said Judd, "that mainlanders know so much about their offshore territory of Hawaii and yet so little. Even our children sing her songs, yet few of them know her place in United States history. For that matter, only a small percentage of their parents seem aware that here is United States soil, not merely by reason of annexation as a territory in 1898, but by virtue of more than a century of rich United States tradition."

"All the epic unties of our country's early history are there: A virgin land; a handful of New England pioneers crossing an ocean to found a new home; hardship, indomitable courage and limitless energy; the development of agriculture and industry from primitive beginnings in the American way; the steady infiltration of American institutions into the existing body politic; and finally, the end result, a commonwealth of the United States which is an industrial and military stronghold of vital importance to the nation, and, in the temper of its citizenship, a striking demonstration of the virility of American ideals."

"Measuring her achievements, one wonders that she still remains a territory. She pays more taxes into the federal treasury than any one of fourteen of the states. She produces one-sixth of the nation's supply of sugar, and adds $200,000,000 a year to its domestic trade."

"She is not only the crossroads of trans-Pacific commerce by water, but the indispensable pivot of transport by air. As impregnable as she is, she is priceless insurance to national security."

"One can understand why the people of Hawaii look steadfastly forward to recognition of these facts in the not distant future by the ultimate reward—the star of statehood. In the meantime Hawaii should be accorded complete economic, industrial and political parity with the rest of the nation, of which she is an important, integral part."

State Budget Figures Higher

SALEM, Sept. 19 (AP)—State departments and institutions within the six per cent constitutional tax limitation have asked the legislature for $19,902,000 for the 1941-42 biennium, compared with the $14,135,000 actually appropriated for the 1939-1940 biennium, Budget Director David Eccles said today.

Eccles said the increase was caused by proposed building construction at state institutions, higher commodity prices, and the proposed reduction in working hours for institution employees.

MARTIN POINTS WARNING TO U. S.

PORTLAND, Sept. 19 (AP)—The United States stands today where France stood in 1938, former Governor Charles H. Martin told a republican women's gathering here Wednesday.

"We have had our warning," he added. "We must banish the miserable class warfare that is ruining our nation."

FATEFUL POWERS

PELICAN HOTEL NOW UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

SALEM, Sept. 19 (AP)—Congress probably will remain in session until just before the November general election, U. S. Representative James W. Mott said today after arriving at his home here for two or three days.

UNTIL ELECTION

He was sworn in by Stanley Reed, associate justice of the supreme court, in the presence of President Roosevelt.

Just before going to the White House to take the oath of his new office, he was reminding inquirers that, although he had not been in the cabinet before, he had not been exactly idle during the eight years in which he disbursed about $10,000,000,000 through the reconstruction finance corporation and related agencies.

"The job I had was about as important as most," he smiled.
