

City Briefs

To School — Jack Liskey, son of John Liskey, well known Klamath county rancher, left Saturday morning for Oregon State college where he will enter his first year. Jack was one of the two Klamath county boys chosen from 25 winners of Sears Roebuck company scholarships. The other was Alvin Cheyne who will take advantage of his scholarship next year. The awards were made to youths taking an interest in agriculture.

Called to Portland — A. A. Montgomery, secretary of the League of Oregon Cities, has been called to Portland for an executive committee meeting to discuss matters of importance to the cities of the state. Governor Sprague has asked for an opportunity to confer with the executive committee at this meeting to discuss local cooperation in national defense plans.

Return Home — Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartley and Harvey Lohrey, all of Spokane, Wash., returned to their homes after a visit at the O. W. Lohrey home, 2144 Eberlein avenue. Mrs. Hartley is a sister of the Lohrey brothers, Harvey and Orville. During their visit the guests motored to Crater lake and the Lava beds.

Visiting — Mrs. Aluta Fink of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sparks, 1402 East Main street. Mrs. Fink is Mrs. Sparks' sister.

On Business — Ralph Peyton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peyton, is spending several days in the city on business from his headquarters at Portland.

For Stanford — Joe Voyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Voyer of High street, will leave this weekend to continue his studies at Stanford university.

Called by Illness — Mrs. Roy Pickett of this city has been called to Everett, Wash., by the illness of an uncle.

For Corvallis — Leo Molatore and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Molatore, will leave Sunday for Corvallis where Leo will enter Oregon State college. Young Molatore was graduated from Klamath Union high school with the class of 1939 and for the past year has been employed at The Herald and The News office in the engraving department and at Van's Camera shop.

To School — Bob Jester, son of Mrs. C. Jester, returned Friday from a deer hunting trip in the Bly district and brought back a fine buck. Last year was Bob's first successful hunting trip. Bob left Saturday morning for the University of Oregon to enter his first year.

Heard on Radio — J. D. Durrell, formerly of this city and now teaching English in New York City, was heard Wednesday evening over the national network in a quiz program. Durrell came off the winner of some $64 as the result of the contest. He gave his home address as Klamath Falls.

To OSC — Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Lamb will motor to Corvallis Sunday where their son, Calvin, will enter Oregon State college for his first year. The Lambs will return home immediately.

Attention Rebekahs — Funeral services for Sister Madge Coan will be held at Ward's at 2 p. m., Monday. Rebekahs will meet at the IOOF hall at 1:30 p. m. to march to the funeral home.

To Oregon State — Fred Peterson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson, will leave Sunday for Oregon State college where he will enter his junior year in engineering.

To Eugene — James Burness Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Burness, left Thursday for the University of Oregon to resume his studies for the year.

Presenting one of the greatest all-star casts in the history of motion pictures, and utilizing this billion-dollar talent in a story that is built for fast action and thrills, "Boom Town" opens Sunday at the Pelican theatre for an engagement of five days as one of the most thrilling and spectacular productions to come out of Hollywood in some time.

To Roseburg — Mrs. A. P. Lyle, superintendent of Hillside hospital, spent Thursday in Roseburg attending the Oregon State Nurses association annual convention. Mrs. Lyle continued north to visit her son, Jimmy, who left Thursday for Eugene to resume his studies at University of Oregon.

Mills PTA Board — The executive board of the Mills PTA will meet Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the teachers' room. All chairmen are urged to be present as this is an important meeting.

Officers to Meet — All officers and guards of Neighbors of Woodcraft are requested to meet in the KC hall Saturday, September 21 at 7:30 p. m. for practice.

With Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lamarr in stellar roles, "Boom Town" surpasses in star names even that former "greatest of thrill pictures," the air epic "Test Pilot" which had Gable, Tracy, Myrna Loy and Lionel Barrymore at the head of the cast.

The supporting cast of the picture is as distinguished as its stars, including such well-known names as Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, Chill Willis, Marion Martin and Minna Gombell, with lesser roles played by Joe Yule, Horace Murphy, Roy Gordon, Richard Lane, Casey Johnson, Baby Quintanilla of "Forty Little Mothers" fame, George Lessey, Sara Haden, Frank Orth, Frank McGlynn Sr., and Curt Bois.

These players join hands in presenting a thrill-packed human-interest story which shows Gable and Tracy in a total of five fights, one of which is a terrific battle between themselves, the frantic fight to blast out a roaring oil well fire, gushers tearing upward with mighty roars, a spouting water geyser, Gable on a bucking mule, a dive into a sea of mud by Gable and Tracy to escape the bullets of two gun fighters, a fight between two dance hall girls, a dramatic hold-up of a load of oil equipment, in addition to comedy by Morgan; Willis and Miss Gombell and even the songs of the men who spud in for oil.

Through a heart-tugging story of two men who are friends through all the heartaches and vicissitudes of oilmen runs a cavalcade of its intense thrills. In the picture, Gable and Tracy form a partnership which exists even after Gable marries Miss Colbert, Tracy's sweetheart. It breaks dramatically and is reunited just as dynamically when Tracy evolved a startling plan to break up Gable's affair with lovely Hedy Lamarr and send him back to Miss Colbert.

The picture, which was three months in the making and took filming units to more than thirty location sites, was directed by Jack Conway, maker of such thrill pictures as "Too Hot to Handle," "Labeled Lady" and "Viva Villa!"

News Notes and Comment

by June Michelson

From the time in the early morning when the national guard band marches down the company street until the after supper singing of songs around the mess tables, Coach "Snowy" Gustafson explained a full day in the life of a national guardsman at camp at the pep assembly Friday.

What Coach Gustafson, who is a reserve officer in the United States Army himself, didn't explain, was who got the band up so that they could wake the camp up. Batteries A and C of the 249th coast artillery were guests at the assembly. Guardsman Bobby Abbey thanked the student body for inviting the guards to attend the assembly.

Between 50 and 75 boys were absent from classes Friday. Reason: Deer hunting season.

Unless Junior or Johnny brings a note which says that "mama" or "papa" approves of his escapade into the woods, all hunting-absentees will receive two nights detention for each period missed or 12 nights for one day.

It will take a mighty big buck to keep their minds occupied all those nights in detention.

Jan Wiesendanger, who sold 158 season football tickets, was awarded a $7.50 money order from Foulger's. Paty Schupp received a $5 money order for selling 103 tickets.

Honorable mention was given Janice Bubb, who sold 54 tickets, Jerry Anne Denelie with 34, and Frances Foster with 30.

About 100 students have not as yet collected money due them at the Pelican book exchange. When the exchange opened on September 18, there was approximately $400 to be paid to students. The exchange, which was a new idea last year, is under the supervision of Harold Ayres.

Returns Home — Elizabeth M. Taylor, Tulalake postmistress, has returned from Hillside hospital following a tonsillectomy. She is convalescing at the William McClymonds home.
