

PREMIER OF EGYPT DIES AT SESSION

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 14 (AP)—Egyptian Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha collapsed and died today as he was reading King Farouk's speech from the throne at the opening session of parliament.

The premier was carried from the chamber and the reading of the speech was continued by the president of the senate.

Strangely, the words of the speech were much the same as those Sabry Pasha used in his first statement as new head of the government last June.

Then he said: "Egypt, who is anxious to maintain her integrity and independence is equally anxious to fulfill her obligations toward the great ally Britain and to carry out her alliance of friendship in the letter and spirit."

Today King Farouk said his country had "executed the treaty of alliance and friendship with Britain with complete sincerity, both in letter and spirit."

Egypt, he said, is jealous of her sovereignty and independence and is "striving to conserve her security and maintain her integrity."

The premier undertook the task of organizing a coalition cabinet last summer after Italy entered the war. Previously he had served as minister of communications and minister of marine and war.

His cabinet, formed June 28, consisted of representatives of all parties except the Wafdists, ardent nationalists who oppose Egyptian participation in the war.

In August there was a split in the cabinet, reportedly caused by insistence of the Sandists, an offshoot of the Wafdists, upon entry into the war on the side of Britain. However, the split was healed.

PROFESSIONAL MEN ELIGIBLE FOR DRAFT

SALEM, Nov. 14 (AP)—Professional men, including lawyers, doctors, dentists and proprietors of one-man commercial establishments, are eligible for the draft and their cases will be passed on by local boards in the same manner as those of other registrants, Lieutenant Colonel Elmer V. Wooton, state selective service director, said Wednesday.

Young doctors and dentists who are drafted probably will practice their professions in the army, he said, but it is doubtful that lawyers will find much opportunity for legal work in the army.

RAILWAYS DEFENSE WALL -- JEFFERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 14—(UP)—Railroads are the first wall of the American defense program," W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific railroad, said Wednesday.

Jeffers arrived in Portland for a 10-day stay in the Oregon-Washington district as a guest of F. N. Finch, district manager, "Since the manufacture of war materials has been planned for virtually every industrial section of the land, the need for a unified and rapid transportation system is increased manifold," Jeffers said.

He predicted a record-breaking year for revenue freight for the Union Pacific to which lumber movement out of the Pacific northwest would contribute.

"Better wages and more jobs throughout the land will have a profound influence on the demand and price level for agricultural products," Jeffers predicted. "Already this improvement is making itself felt."
