

DRIVING KLAMATH QUINT DRUBS ROSEBURG 34-18

Locals Rout Highly-Rated Indian Team

INDIANS JUST SO-SO
After Friday night's slaughter at the local gym, we're wondering just how much credence to give early season reports that drifted out of Roseburg about the power and class of Jim Watt's gigantic Indians.

Either the Indians have been overrated and too much emphasis placed on their height, or Klamath Falls this season has the best bunch of ball players produced around here in a long long time.

Against Klamath the Roseburg team looked almost helpless.

From the start the Pelicans controlled the backboards despite their height disadvantage, and had they been able to hit their hats during the first two periods, Klamath would have run up a huge score.

It took the Pelicans two periods to find their stride. After that they literally ran the boys from across the mountains into the boards.

LOTS OF DRIVE

Pat Moses at center did a bang-up job of defense, and the whole Klamath quintet was behind, under and around the Indians' huge center, 6-foot 7-inch Royal Denton. Finlay at guard and Ward at forward were the only two Indians who showed ball-handling ability. The others were just tall.

The Pelicans this year are better ball-hawks than last year's quint and despite the poor form early in the game seem to be better shots. But most important, they're dynamite on French's peculiar shifting defense and have plenty of drive, the one thing that counts in the hoop sport.

Thanks to his series of hump-sweepers late in the game, Bocchi was the star of the encounter, but only in the scoring department. With only one substitution all evening, every member of the club handled the ball with enough finesse and snap to brand them easily as the team to watch this year from this part of the state.

DUNSMUIR WHIPS TIGERS

Medford meets Roseburg January 10 in the first of a series of district encounters that takes the Tigers, Ashland and Grants Pass to the Umpqua city. That will provide a good basis for comparison, but here's something to go on already.

Dunsmuir, victims of the Pelicans 28-18 last week, defeated Grants Pass Friday night 25-20. Chief among the Roseburg claims to fame is their recent four-point victory over Roosevelt high of Portland, a team which defeated Lincoln earlier in the year.

Dairymen Will Meet Lakeview

Lost River Dairymen, victors over Ricky's Jewelers by a slim 24-23 margin Friday night at the high school in a preliminary contest to the KUHS-Roseburg tilt, plan an invasion of Lakeview next Friday and Saturday nights to engage Coach Earl Vossen's high school quintet.

With practically the same lineup that opposed the Lakeview club last winter when Klamath High met the Lake county outfit, the Dairymen hope to give the well-drilled prepsters a real battle. Coach Clyde Walsh of the Lost River five says that the Flower Basket squad, also a Klamath hoop aggregation, will open the doubleheader program each evening against the Lakeview second team.

George Cooley, Byron Cody, Harold Eittrich and John Mathis all regulars on the KUHS squad last winter, form the nucleus of the Lost River club that at present holds fourth spot in the Klamath Commercial league with two victories in three games. Bill Mayhew and Rex Higbee, also former Pelican court performers, together with George Gray, ex-Marysville high basketball star, will also make the trip to Lakeview for the Dairymen, according to Walsh.

Bocchi Paces Scoring With 12; Klamathites Overcome Height Edge

By BILL CUMMINGS
Every basket spurred a hard-driving Klamath Falls hoop quintet to a faster pace last night at the high school gym as Dutch French's well-balanced Pelican giant killers routed the highly-touted Roseburg Indians 34-18.

Never headed except by a converted foul shot that opened the scoring, the Klamathites overcame a disadvantage in height of nearly two inches per man and completely outclassed the visitors.

Bocchi Gets Hot

The Pelicans bottled up Royal Denton, Roseburg center who stands 6 feet 7 inches and is rated the tallest prep basketballer on the coast. He failed to control the backboards and didn't score a point.

Jim Bocchi, guard, got hot as a blowtorch in the second half and sent six consecutive field goals swishing through the hoop to grab scoring honors for the game with 12 points.

He was followed by Jim Finlay, standout guard of the visiting squad, who looped in four field goals and a foul shot for 9.

Bob Erlanson, veteran Pelican forward and captain, connected with three one-handed pivot shots and a cripple for 8.

Both teams started slow. Roseburg chalked up the first counter when Ward, rangy forward, looped in a free toss. Then Marion Reginato, Klamath forward, potted a field goal midway in the first quarter to start the Pelicans' scoring and give the locals a lead which was never lost.

Both Teams Wild
Both teams missed dozens of setups during the opening minutes and Klamath, keeping an amazing control over the ball despite their handicap in size, was particularly sloppy in scoring early in the contest.

Only one more basket was tallied during the first quarter, giving Klamath a 3-1 edge at the end of the first period.

Scoring gradually picked up as the game progressed but at halftime the scoreboard still read like the tally sheet at a baseball game. Klamath led at the midway point by only 9 to 5.

Roseburg's only field goal during the first half was scored in the second quarter by Neil Schrimpf, guard.

After the rest period Bocchi, who failed to score during the first two periods, found the range and looped in baskets on "unconscious" shots.

It was largely his fast ball-handling and uncanny shotmaking that speeded up the pace of the game in this quarter and gave Klamath a 22-13 margin at the close of the third stanza. Bocchi accounted for most of this scoring with five field goals.

Big Royal Denton committed his third personal foul midway in the third period and Coach Jim Watt replaced him with Larry Anderson.

The game was a rout during the closing minutes, with Klamath running the legs off the big fellows from the Umpqua valley. Denton went back into the game, but neither the Indians' height nor the clever ball-handling of Finlay, their high scorer, was enough to stop the drive of the now red-hot Klamathites.

Erlanson swished the net with a couple of one-handed pivot shots to spark the last-minute scoring. Bocchi took a long pass under his own backboard to score without interference, and Erlanson was also all alone when he looped in his final tally.

Eugene Love, guard, ended the scoring just before the final gun by sinking a foul shot to bring Klamath's winning margin to 16 points.

French substituted only once for his starting five, sending in Swanson for a short time at guard.

Chiloquin, by virtue of a 38-13 victory over the bottom-place Keno cagers Wednesday night, jumped into second place, while Bly slid into a tie with Henley for third after dropping a 27-25 decision to Bonanza Friday night.

Henley and Gilchrist were idle this week because of the flu epidemic.

BLY — Bonanza's surprising Antler basketball quint, second from the bottom last week in county B league standings, edged the Bly cagers in a nip-and-tuck game at Bly Friday night 27-25.

Paced by Bray, pivot man who tallied 12 points, the Bonanza team held a close advantage during most of the game. The lead frequently changed hands. Bonanza led at halftime by one point, 14-13.

St. John and Krog tied for scoring honors on the losing quintet, each with 8.

In a preliminary, the Bonanza B team won 23-11 over the Bly secondaries.

Welter King Forced To Use Back-Alley Tactics In Even Break With Texas

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Welterweight Champion Fritz Zivic and Lightweight Champ Low Jenkins battled through 10 rough rounds to a draw Friday night before 16,000 fans at Madison Square garden.

Zivic, the "good big man," was forced to use a lot of back-alley tactics to hammer through to the even break against Jenkins, the "good little man."

Showing Redeemed
Jenkins gave one of the greatest performances of his career and proved beyond question that he is a dead game guy. He weathered severe battering to the head in clinches and then came back time after time to stagger his larger opponent with savage smashes to body and chin.

Jenkins' performance in the non-title tilt redeemed his poor showing against former Welterweight Champion Henry Armstrong, July 17, when Texas Lew suffered a technical knockout. His performance was all the more remarkable because Zivic had wrested the welter-title from Armstrong on October 4.

It was a see-saw fight that wound up so even the three officials cast three different ballots, resulting in the draw. Referee George Walsh voted for Jenkins; Judge Steve Hamas for a draw, and Judge Charley Draycott for Zivic.

No Knockdowns
The United Press scoring gave Zivic five rounds, Jenkins four and one even.

Although this was a meeting of two of the ring's hardest punchers, there wasn't a knockdown in the bout. Jenkins, who scaled 134 pounds—seven and a quarter less than the welter ruler—wound up bleeding from both eyes and from the bridge of his nose, where Zivic had cuffed him in the clinches.

Beavers Win Second Tourney Contest, 42-36

DENVER, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Oregon State's basketball team required an overtime period Friday night to subdue an expected inferior Colorado college team 42-36, in the feature game of the second session of a three-day collegiate basketball tournament.

Colorado college trailed all the way, but Worth Stimits and his teammates staged a great second-half rally to tie the score at 36-all at the end of the regular laying time.

John Mandic, OSC center, and Clayton Shaw dropped in the three overtime field goals to clinch Oregon State's second straight victory in the tournament.

Mandic scored 14 points for high honors, and Stimits had nine.

Oregon State and Denver, only two undefeated teams of the six entered in the round-robin event, play the feature game of the concluding show Saturday night.

Dairymen Nip Ricky's in Opener 24-23

Lost River Dairy came from behind in the closing minutes of a hectic preliminary last night at the KUHS gym to edge the rangy Ricky Jewelers of the Klamath Commercial league 24-23.

The game opened the program for the Klamath-Roseburg contest.

Overcoming a lead which the Jewelers maintained during most of the tilt, the hard-driving Lost River quint turned on the heat in the last minutes. Harold Eittrich, guard, led the parade with seven points scored in the last half.

Rickey's were held scoreless during the fourth quarter as the Dairymen gradually climbed up on a 23-17 third period deficit. Eittrich potted a free toss to bring the Dairy quint within one point of the lead and Mathis, forward, sank a field goal with less than two minutes in the ballgame to give the Dairymen the winning one-point margin.

Bishop, Rickey guard, missed a foul shot just before the final gun that would have tied the score.

Jack Waits, tall Rickey forward, was high point man with 12, followed by Harold Eittrich's 7.

Lost River led 5-2 at the end of the first quarter but trailed 11-14 at halftime.

Klamath Hoop Program Stops For Holidays

Schedule of games for teams in the Klamath Basketball conference will be resumed after Monday, December 30, according to Bob Howard, secretary-treasurer of the local casaba league.

Three games billed for Monday, December 23, have been postponed until later in the season. These contests, which called for Weyerhaeuser's Timbermen to tangle with Tik Tok, Bly to tackle Gienger's Grocery of Chiloquin and Merrill to meet Lost River Dairy, will be played either at the completion of the regular first half season or on some open date in January.

Inability of at least two of the Monday night contestants to floor a complete team was cited as the reason for the postponement.

MISSOULA, Mont., Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Montana university used its first string only part of the time Friday night in whipping the Willamette university basketball team, 57 to 34.

The visitors took plenty of shots—58, to be exact—but were unable to hit the hoop most of the time. Montana led at halftime, 24 to 15.

Eberly, center, and Robertson, guard, were outstanding performers for Willamette.

New Bowling Alleys Open

T. H. McArdle Renovates Plant on Klamath Avenue

Operating under the sanction of the American Bowling Congress, six new "streamlined" alleys were opened to the patronage of Klamath Falls kегlers Saturday afternoon at the new Kern Bowling Center, 605 Klamath avenue.

Formerly known as the Bowlers' Gardens, the new bowling center has been purchased from Harold Haight by T. H. McArdle of Los Angeles and George Dufault of Klamath Falls.

Plans for forming ladies' and men's bowling leagues, entertaining kегlers from all parts of the Pacific coast in the forthcoming Southern Pacific bowling tournament and numerous large prizes for local tournament competition were announced Saturday by McArdle.

The leagues will be formed immediately after the first of the year, McArdle said.

The bowling center has been completely remodeled and redecorated, offering kегlers a clean and attractive place to bowl.

McArdle, who engaged in extensive publicity and promotion work at Los Angeles before coming here, is managing the alleys in partnership with Dufault.

Sanction has been obtained from Lloyd C. Britt of Klamath Falls, local ABC representative.

Indians Take Stiff 3-Hour Grid Practice

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Stanford's football squad, drilling for its Rose Bowl game with Nebraska, took a stiff, three-hour practice Friday and Coach Clark Shaughnessy said his team was showing more fire every day.

The line went through heavy scrimmage and backs concentrated almost exclusively on passing. Tackle Jack Warnecke, just recovered from influenza, was back in suit but Collin McClintock, reserve center, who was injured in practice Thursday, was found to be suffering from a slight concussion. He was injured when he got in front of one of Fullback Norm Standlee's line bucks.

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Nebraska's Rose Bowl football players rested Friday as they rolled toward their training camp at Phoenix, Ariz., by train.

The 43-man squad of Cornhuskers strolled on Tucumcari streets for a few minutes when their train paused here and announced the walk would be their only workout until they reached Phoenix.
