

Pageant Presented By School Children

Scene of Nativity With Singing of Lovely Carols Results in Inspirational Program

By MRS. B. C. THOMAS
The annual carol service presented by the music department of the city schools of Klamath Falls, was held at the Methodist church, Sunday afternoon at half past three o'clock, under the direction of Miss Lillie Darby.

A few new and many familiar old carols were sung by the choruses of children from the seventh and eighth grades, assisted at the two pianos by Miss Ola Mae Hough of Roosevelt and Mrs. Eleanor Robinson of Fairview school. The first number, "O Tuneful Hosts," by the girls' chorus was followed by "Silent Night" hummed by the four-part chorus of girls and boys. Mrs. David Burgoyne of Mills school played the violin accompaniment for members of the echo choir seated in the gallery at the rear of the auditorium. One of the outstanding numbers was "Fairiest Lord Jesus," with this choir of high voices singing the obligato part. There was something thrilling and angelic in these pure, clear, children's voices. After the anthem, "O Holy Night," and the carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," was given the beautiful violin solo, "Ave Maria," played by Mrs. Burgoyne, accompanied by Miss Hough.

At this point the Angel of Annunciation entered slowly from the right. The part was taken by Nina Robertson of Mills and she read the Christmas story as given in the Gospel according to Luke. Her voice was strong and clear. Her readings tied the pageant and carols together. Mary, played by Juanita Shinn, and Joseph, played by Henry Schortgen, seated themselves near a manger illuminated by light. During the singing of carols the Shepherds appeared and knelt before the manger. After reading the story of the coming of the Magi, the three wise men appeared, each bearing a gift carried by a slave, and these gifts were presented while the chorus sang, "We Three Kings of the Orient Are." Then a group of little angels appeared carrying lighted candles and stood near the nativity scene. Eighteen children dressed in the costumes of foreign countries came forward and stood before the altar.

The children taking part in the pageant were under the direction of Miss Frances Dix, auditorium teacher at Mills school. They showed an attitude of reverence and entered into the spirit of the Christmas story. After the offertory the actors in the pageant moved slowly back down the aisle while the entire chorus sang "Now the Day is Over." This was followed by the Benediction song from Wagner's opera, "Parsifal," the words "Bring Peace on Earth, Holy, Holy, Lord," touched all hearts.

These choruses have maintained the high plane of excellence established in the past by Miss Darby. Their work was tone perfect, with fine smoothness, and splendid response of feeling in singing. Klamath Falls is to be congratulated on having such a capable music department in the schools. This pageant was worthy of production in a large auditorium where all who love music could hear it.

SEWING CLUB WORKS ON PROJECT FOR BRITAIN

KENO — An enjoyable evening was spent by the Keno sewing club December the twelfth when members worked on a comforter, the material for which was donated by Mrs. Tom Calmes, and which will be presented to Bundles for Britain.

Those at the meeting were Mrs. Lois Fishback, Mrs. Edna Pinney, Mrs. Hazel Chase, Mrs. Grace Ramsey, Mrs. Clara Kerns, Mrs. Bertha Moore, Mrs. Lena Parsons, Mrs. Besie Bourne, Mrs. Ruth Parsons, Mrs. Mable Huskinson, Mrs. Florence Calmes and Mrs. Alice Putnam.

The next meeting will be held on January the ninth with Mrs. Clara Kerns presiding as hostess.

President Is Hostess

Mrs. Voye To Entertain Members of Toastmistress Club

The spirit of Christmas will be enjoyed Monday evening, December the twenty-third, when Mrs. A. J. Voye, president of the Toastmistress club, will be hostess to the members at her home on High street at a six o'clock dinner.

There will be a gift exchange and the subject for the dinner hour discussion will be "What Christmas Means to Me." Mrs. Logan Black as toastmistress will conduct the main program of the evening, the story of the birth of the Christ child, a series of historical talks given with a background of history and romance depicting the birth of Christ.

Introducing the series will be Mrs. A. J. Voye speaking of the coming of the Prince of Peace foretold centuries before the event transpired. An intimate glimpse of the Virgin Mother will be given by Mrs. Walter Brown in her subject, "Mary, the Mother of Christ." With Mrs. Dent Savage the Magi of old will ride through the night, bearing precious gifts. Astronomical facts concerning the "Star in the East," with much of comparative interest regarding the stars of today, will be discussed by Mrs. S. E. Rife.

Mrs. W. R. Boyd's subject, "The Shepherds and the Heavenly Song," describes the ancient shepherds on the plains of Moab and the heavenly chorus as heard by them. Mrs. Hiram Murdock, speaking on "The Birth of Christ," tells of the Holy Night, the plight of Mary and Joseph and the historical background of events that transpired at the manger. "Bethlehem, Today and Yesterday" will be the subject presented by Mrs. W. H. Hibbard speaking comparatively of today and twenty centuries ago. In conclusion, Mrs. Esther Klemsmeier will speak on "The Spirit of Christmas."

HOLIDAY AFFAIR OF INTEREST

A delightful affair was the Christmas party given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. R. Van Hoomissen and Mrs. K. M. Moty at the home of the latter for members of the Tuesday Contract club and additional guests.

Dessert was served at tables prettily decorated in the holiday motif with favors marking the cover for each guest. Honors in cards went to Mrs. Lloyd Low and Mrs. Stanley Ramage, and the guest award to Mrs. R. E. Gearhart. This is the last meeting of the group until after the New Year, at which time they will be entertained by Mrs. Lloyd Low.

Guests of the hostesses included Mrs. J. A. Burke, Mrs. J. J. Cole, Mrs. Lloyd Low, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Mrs. W. B. Milkey, Mrs. T. Molatore, Mrs. Stanley Ramage, Mrs. A. J. SCHOOLMATES MEET FOR 1940 CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Minnie Grizzle was hostess to members of the Schoolmates club at her home on Jefferson street Friday afternoon when the annual Christmas party sponsored by the group was enjoyed. Assisting Mrs. Grizzle were Mrs. Georgia Sloan and Mrs. Edna Carnahan. The rooms were particularly lovely with Christmas greens, a decorated tree, and lighted candles.

A turkey dinner was served at one o'clock and the usual gift exchange followed. Members of the club have been meeting each month for the past fourteen years. They are long time residents of this city, many of the women having attended the first grade together, and all going to school in Klamath Falls during their girlhood.

Guests at the Friday party included Lottie Kirkpatrick, Sally Wood, Ida Grimes, Anna Funk, Maude Holmes, Margaret Calahan, Atta DeLap, Winnie Cleghorn, Flora Smith, Alice Lawrence, Rachel Good, Georgia Sloan, Edna Carnahan, and the hostess, Minnie Grizzle.

WEDNESDAY CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY PARTY

Christmas decorations were used at the annual holiday party and gift exchange enjoyed Wednesday evening of the past week by members of the Wednesday club of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Buffet dessert was served from a prettily appointed table where greens and tall red candles were used.

Games were played during the evening. The party was arranged by Mrs. Just Trippett, Mrs. Brady Montgomery, Mrs. John Ferrell, and Mrs. Cecil Lee, hostesses.

Benefit Tea Event Held Wednesday

Women of City Respond to Bundles for Britain Party Given at Pelican Cafe

A delightful affair of the past week was the pre-holiday benefit tea given at the Pelican cafe by Mrs. Avis McConnell for the Bundles for Britain, Klamath unit. The party was an event of Wednesday afternoon from three o'clock until five o'clock.

Christmas Parties Given

Langell Home Scene Of Affairs During Early December

LANGELL VALLEY—Mrs. Owen Pepple entertained at her home on December the sixth with a Christmas party for her bridge club when the rooms were attractively decorated in the holiday motif. At the close of cards members enjoyed a gift exchange, followed by refreshments.

Mrs. Paul Monroe received the high score at the close of play. Mrs. Claude Murray, low, and Mrs. Malcolm Teare the traveling prize.

Others enjoying the occasion were Mrs. Florence Botkins, Mrs. Mary Dearborn, Mrs. Frank Pepple, Mrs. Lloyd Gift, Mrs. Al Gale, Mrs. Harry Frazier, Mrs. Charles Revell, Mrs. Lester Leavitt and Mrs. Lloyd Pepple.

Mrs. Leland Harris entertained with contract at her home on Wednesday evening in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Owen Pepple who was presented with a lovely gift. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Pepple, Mrs. Dee Chandler, Howard Pepple, Les Leavitt, Lloyd Pepple and Leland Harris.

Through Mrs. McConnell's generosity the first social affair planned by the Bundles for Britain group was an interesting success. A great many hanks of yarn were sold to knitters who will turn in the finished products to be mailed to Britain. Gifts were also sold during the afternoon.

Pouring at the tea table which was centered with pine boughs, cones and silver Christmas ornaments, were Mrs. Jacques J. Steiger, Mrs. Peter A. Albertson, Mrs. Harry Weimar, Mrs. Charles G. Hovey, Mrs. Harold D. Mortenson, and Mrs. Lawrence Shaw. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. George H. Merryman, Mrs. Charles I. Roberts, Mrs. William Dinsmore, and Mrs. Nelson Reed.

Other large affairs are being planned by the Bundles for Britain workers in order to reach the quota which they have set for themselves.

Lawrence Revell entertained at his home on Saturday evening with a dinner party followed by a social hour when covers were laid for Miss Helen Radcliffe, Miss Nanette Schubert, Miss Nancy Burness and Miss Hazel Morrison of Klamath Falls, Dick Pepple and Ted Pepple of Bonanza and Roger Jones of Laquell Valley. Earlier in the day the young people spent several hours on Bly mountain gathering Christmas greens.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ostendorf and daughter, Jean, are planning to spend the holidays in California.
