

RESIDENT OF CRYSTAL HEARS STRANGE PLANE

A possible clue in the mysterious disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Walbert, missing Medford fliers, has reached the chamber of commerce here from Mrs. Fred G. Brown of Crystal, on the west side of Upper Klamath lake.

Mrs. Brown wrote the chamber that on a foggy day, about the end of December, she heard a plane flying over the Brown ranch. The Walberts disappeared on November 29.

The Crystal woman said she noticed the sound of the plane on the foggy day, but did not give it further thought until she heard of the Walberts, disappearance.

A check at the Klamath airport showed that no planes left the local port on November 29. A few days after the Walberts disappeared, however, a plane from the field here flew over the west shores of the Upper lake, looking for signs of the missing Medford couple. Nothing of consequence was sighted.

It is believed possible the plane heard by Mrs. Brown was a Culver Cadet plane which flew over this area on November 30, looking for the Walberts. This plane was seen over Crater lake on November 30 by local people who were surprised to witness a plane up on a day of heavy fog.

MEDFORD, Jan. 3 (AP)—The directors of the Medford Flying club have voted to extend their $250 reward offer for the finding of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Walbert, missing Medford couple, until February 13, Chester Hubbard, president of the organization reported Friday. The reward was originally posted to expire Monday, January 13.

The Walberts, members of the club, left this city Friday, November 29, in a small cabin plane for Portland, and disappeared, their fate unsolved.

Hubbard said he had received scores of letters from all over the state, some of them of a "crank nature," since the tragedy, and that some ground searches had been made. Hubbard further said air searches had been conducted as long and as thoroughly as weather conditions would permit. Clearing weather, he said would undoubtedly spur both ground and air searches.

Reports of hearing a plane, apparently lost on the afternoon of the Walbert's departure have been received from the Tiller-Trail, Prospect-Union Creek, lower Rogue and Eugene sectors.

ONE ACCIDENT REPORTED TO POLICE FRIDAY

Despite slippery streets covered with frost during the early morning and evening hours, city police received but one automobile accident report for Thursday and Friday. No personal injuries were reported.

Harold McPherson, 703 North Ninth street, reported he located his car, missing since December 30, at the corner of Eleventh street and Klamath avenue where it had been abandoned by thieves.

Five traffic tickets, three drunks, and one vag made up the police court report Friday morning.

MR. LARSON AND CAT LOOK FOR NAUTICAL SPARROW

ASTORIA, Jan. 3 (AP)—William Larson Sr., looked for another nautical sparrow Thursday. So did his cat.

Until it disappeared, a neighborhood sparrow rode the rigging of Larson's miniature sailing vessels. Larson didn't know how the sparrow picked up the trick, but it pleased him greatly.

He thinks the sparrow must have wandered ashore one day, for he has not seen the bird recently and his cat keeps an alert watch beside the sailing pool—as though in wait for another watering sparrow.

Assistant leaders, receiving $36 a month, and leaders, receiving $55 a month, must send only $15 a month to dependents.

Klamath People Recovering After Stockton Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Miller, 2221 Reclamation avenue, were reported recovering from serious injuries received December 23 in an automobile accident which occurred eight miles north of Stockton, Calif.

Both are in Dameron hospital, Stockton, where Mrs. Miller submitted to an emergency operation shortly after the accident. Miller, local lumberman, received a fractured pelvis and broken facial bones, and his wife has a fractured pelvis and ruptured bladder. The Millers had crossed an intersection when they were struck by a car. They were en route south for the holidays.

Dr. and Mrs. F. Cecil Adams returned Friday morning from Stockton where they visited the Millers. Dr. Adams is Mrs. Miller's brother.

MEASLES CUTS KUHS ATTENDANCE

A mild epidemic of measles, not of serious enough nature to cause alarm, was reported Friday at Klamath Union high school. Two or three students have been absent daily because of the sickness since the start of school this week, according to high school officials.

Substituting—Mrs. Don Fisher is substituting at Joseph Conger school during the illness of the principal, Mrs. Myrtle Helm, confined to her home in the Earley hotel recovering from an attack of flu.

COUNTY, CITY TO SWEAR IN NEW OFFICERS

is no secret that Houston would like to see the long-dreamed-about and long-talked-about public swimming pool realized during his administration.

County Clerk Mae K. Short said Friday that all newly-elected county officials, constables and justices of the peace should be at the courthouse at 10 a. m. Monday for the swearing-in ceremonies.

It is possible these may be held in the circuit court room, with Circuit Judge-elect David R. Vandenberg administering the oath. Heretofore, the clerk has given the oath in the county court room.

Vandenberg and District Attorney L. Orth Sisemore, being state officers, do not take the oath at the county ceremonies. Those to be sworn in include Mrs. Short, Sheriff Lloyd L. Low, Treasurer Chet Langseth, County Commissioner John Reber and Dr. George Adler, coroner.

Judge-elect Vandenberg was out of town Friday. He is in Portland visiting relatives. It is possible the new judge's mother will be here from Portland to see her son take the circuit judge bench for the first time.

Calling the docket will be a first matter of business to be taken up after the court is convened. The formal call to order, beginning, "Hear ye! Hear ye!" will be given for the first time Monday morning by Frank Ira White, old time newspaper man and real estate man, who will take over as court bailiff.

It is expected members of the bar will be present for the opening events.

NLRB CALLS FOR ELECTION AT TIONESTA

Last summer Shaw workers voted "no union" in a two-way election in which the CIO's IWA was the only labor union on the ballot. The AFL charged the CIO with raiding an AFL pep meeting prior to the balloting.

In the ruling received Friday the labor board stated that "all production and maintenance employees of the company at its Tionesta plant including sawmill, box factory, machine shop, yard, planing mill and green chain employees and watchmen and warehousemen, but excluding all employees engaged in logging operations, clerical, store, sales and supervisory employees, cookhouse employees and employees of the Lawrence Warehouse company, constitute a unit appropriate for the purpose of collective bargaining, and that such unit will insure to the employees of the company full benefit of their right to self organization and to collective bargaining and other wise effectuate the policies of the Wagner act."

The decision further states "The IWA and the company advanced no argument for inclusion of the truck drivers as distinguished from other woods employees. Local 2544 desiring to exclude them along with other woods employees." The truck drivers were excluded.

Officials of both the CIO and the AFL said they are prepared to participate in the election.

Joe Boyd and Mike Pavolka, AFL organizers in this area, said the decision states that there are only 24 IWA-CIO designations in the mill unit.

Boyd declared that "there is no doubt" of the proper AFL bargaining organization, and that the AFL contends that an election should not be necessary.

"It would be proper and legal," Boyd said, "for the company to recognize the union without an election. However, we are prepared to participate."

L. H. Fenton, international representative of the IWA, said that his organization is also prepared to participate.

Commenting further on the decision, Boyd said, "We feel especially good because every point for which we contended, even in minor details, was granted. Our members at Tionesta appreciate the length to which the government has gone to give them a chance to get a collective bargaining agreement."

Health Bad

Hopkins will not be the permanent, new ambassador. Mr. Roosevelt asserted, because his health is not sufficiently good to allow him to take over a desk job. It was because of his health that Hopkins resigned in August as commerce secretary.

He is one of Mr. Roosevelt's most intimate friends and has spent much of his time at the White House or with the chief executive on out of town trips since his retirement.

Hopkins will have no title, Mr. Roosevelt said, but probably will receive his expenses from the government. No other person will accompany him.

One member of the crew of the bomber, which became lost in a blinding snowstorm approximately 500 miles north of here yesterday mid-afternoon, lost his life when he parachuted to earth near Big Spring. He was W. F. Percich, 25, machinist's mate of Friday Harbor, Wash.

Four other members of the crew who jumped on orders of Lt. Hanson were injured, none seriously. Radioman A. M. Perry, 31, said the men bailed out at 17,000 feet after encountering a storm that smashed the plane's windows, and momentarily sent it out of control.

U. S. May Take Over British Trade Routes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (UP)—The United States may inaugurate its program of all-out material aid to axis foes by lending or leasing merchant ships to Britain and possibly by taking over British trade routes in the Pacific for the duration of the war, official quarters said today.

Loss of American cargo vessels turned over to Britain on a lend-lease basis probably would be compensated for by United States acquisition of most of the 133 ships owned by German-occupied foreign countries and now tied up in American ports. There was no indication, however, the government would take over German or Italian "refugee" ships—seizure of which Germany and Italy have said would be considered a "warlike" act.

LABOR COUNCIL TO HOLD NOMINATIONS

The next step would be to win Hitler's blessing, which some regard as more important than that of French Chief of State Philippe Petain.

Montfort's one major rival for the throne of France is the Count of Paris, pretender of the old Bourbon Orleans line.

Montfort's backers say that during his nation's brief war with Germany the young prince served under the name of Louis Blanchard as an armored car driver with the Foreign Legion in Tunisia.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE MAKES COMEBACK

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3 (UP)—A veteran actress, name of Shirley Temple, came out of retirement Thursday to make a movie comeback at a salary of at least $100,000 for this year.

The 11-year-old Shirley appeared before Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson to have her contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer approved and remarked that she'd be glad to get back to work.

"School, you know, is so dull," she said.

Shirley reports to the studio Feb. 15 to work in the Andy Hardy pictures at $2500 a week, with 40 weeks' work guaranteed. In all advertising and titles her contract specifies her name shall be spelled out in type at least as large as Mickey Rooney's, who was voted last week America's most popular box office star.

The contract had several unusual stipulations.

One was that she needn't join the Screen Actor's Guild, because she was too young. Another was that she appear on not more than eight radio broadcasts during the year. A third was that the studio provide "reasonable lodging" for Shirley and her mother.

When older age retired Shirley last May 12, a month after her 11th birthday, she had earned a fortune estimated at around $3,000,000.

Shirley's last big picture was "The Blue Bird," an abysmal flop in technicolor.

The first electric lighted train in America was put into service on the Pennsylvania lines in 1887.
