

MARCH OF DIMES BEGINS CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—America's fourth "March of Dimes" began its trans-continental sweep on January 13 as one of the principal features of the 1941 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

With the full support of industry, labor, business organizations both large and small, the nation's churches and institutions of all kinds, this year's march will be conducted on the most extensive scale ever attempted, Morgan declared.

As in previous years, one of the most spirited features of the drive will be the "March of Dimes of the Air," under the direction of Eddie Cantor who will be supported by scores of celebrities of the stage, radio and screen, the musical and literary worlds.

Already many leaders in the entertainment field have wired their assurances and cooperation to national headquarters of the committee. Among these are Bing Crosby, Ezra Stone, Fred Allen, Amos 'n' Andy, Clifton Fadiman, Edward G. Robinson and Kay Kyser.

In announcing the plans for the 1941 "March of Dimes," Morgan said:

"Year after year, we have watched the 'March of Dimes' grow into one of the great humanitarian movements of America. Millions of people in every field of our national life have learned to look forward to it as one means of helping the afflicted boys and girls of our own country. The card coin containers and the coin boxes of the campaign have become familiar in every city, town and village.

"This year, we are confronted by new difficulties and supported by new strength. The nation has suffered its fifth worst attack of infantile paralysis. And to meet this challenge, we have the untold support of Americans in every field of endeavor. We shall certainly realize the hope expressed in our slogan: 'Help the Youngster Around Your Own Corner.'"

Millions of coin cards and hundreds of thousands of coin boxes have gone out across the country to be distributed by the new army of volunteer workers as well as the veterans of previous "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaigns, Morgan said. The cards, with coins inserted, may be mailed direct to the White House or to the headquarters of the state or local committee.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL TO BE SOLD HERE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (UP)—Approximately 45,000 bales of Australian wool are on the high seas en route to the United States to be stored as a strategic reserve material, Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones said Wednesday.

Additional shipments of 800,000 bales will be delivered during the next six months, Jones said. Wool shipped to west coast ports will account for 335,000 bales of the total, and will be stored by the Texas City Railway Terminal, Texas City, Tex.; the Arkansas Compress company, Corpus Christi, Tex., and the Southern Warehouse corporation, Houston, Tex.

The storage rates to be paid by the Defense Supplies corporation will range from 4 and 4/10 cents per single bale to 8 cents per double bale per month. Additional fire insurance rates will boost the storage to 9.42 cents per single bale and 10.75 cents per double bale per month.

Altamont, "Think and Eat" Sewing Club

On Monday the division 2 "Think and Eat" Sewing club of Altamont school held its regular meeting. We have nine members enrolled. President, Geraldine Book, vice pres., Eleanor Galetti; secretary, Connie Coski; news reporter, Illeen Cook; song and yell leader, Ulvena McCool. Three members who do not hold offices are Lucille Tilton, Millie Motachenbacker and Peggy Tutor. Our leader is Mrs. Lund.

The members held a discussion about their dresses and aprons. It was decided to have a potluck lunch and then sew at our leader's house.

We then said the club pledge and the club motto. The president adjourned the meeting.

Riverside "Busy Bee Sewing" Club

A group of girls met at Riverside school the latter part of October and organized the "Busy Bee Sewing club." Darlene Price was elected president; Shirley Heath, vice president; Donna Beck, secretary; Icel Seymour, news reporter, and Mrs. W. F. Seymour is our leader.

During the month of November we had two business meetings and two work meetings. We all have our luncheon cloths nearly finished.

We had a Christmas party at our leader's home on December 19. We played games and had refreshments served by refreshment committee, Donna Beck and Shirley Heath. Myrna Casler, Darlene Price, and Olga Yerkovich were in charge of the games.

At our last meeting, December 31, we all tried to have our luncheon cloths finished. Clarence Berg and Muriel Hicks told us about our next project.

Fairhaven Sewing Club

We met at the Fairhaven school in the third grade room. The meeting was called to order by Ruth Schultz, who is president. All of the members were present except Jewell Hutton, who has moved away. Lovetta Turpin has taken Jewell's place as yell leader.

We had a Christmas party and exchanged gifts. We played games and were served refreshments.

Sewing I is getting along well in their project. We will meet again on January 17.

George Slyter, Mrs. Carrie Rush and Mrs. Blanche Jones, local leaders, would like to thank the parents of those 4-H boys and girls for their interest and cooperation in helping to make this one of the best club years.

Afton Phelps, president of the club, and several others were absent due to bad weather and sickness.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, January 21, at 7 p. m.

Altamont "Thirteen Cooks"

The Thirteen Cooks of Altamont Junior high school met Monday, January 13, 1941, from 3:15 to 4 p. m.

We had roll call and the minutes of the last meeting were read by our secretary. Another very interesting demonstration on setting the table was put on by Billie Jean Blaine and Barbara Francis.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Embryo Rodeo Competitors Warned Original Outlay of $1179.50 Is Prerequisite

By LOUDON KELLY DENVER, Jan. 16 (AP)—Anybody who has notions he can fork a bronco or bulldog a steer expertly enough to be a rodeo rider must figure on an original investment of about $1,179.50.

Roy Hunter, a lean young man with bright blue eyes and a slight bandiness at the knees of his blue jeans, says that's what it cost him.

Hunter, raised on a ranch near Loveland, Colo., is one of the 150 cowboys at the National Western Horse Show and Rodeo. He's never been a national champion, but he makes a living at a hard business. He's been in it 11 years, starting as a trick roper when he was 14.

"I'm just an average hand," he said Wednesday over a bottle of beer in the eating tent. "I figure if I win top money in one of every eight events I enter, I can keep going." I make about $1200 or $1400 a year above expenses.

Cowboy Roy says these are the "musts" for a rodeo rider: horse, $1000; saddle $95; bridle $7.50; boots $25; hat, $16.50; blue jeans $2; chaps $15; spurs $8; gabor-dine shirt, "for when you want to dress up," $12.50.

"It takes 18 months to a couple of years to train a horse for bulldogging or roping," he said. "He'll last four or five years. It's nerve-racking work for a horse."

Part of the rodeo hand's expenses are entry fees. It cost $20, for instance, to compete in bronco riding at the Denver show. The guaranteed prize money for the eight days is $1712.50, so a cowboy can get his entry fee back by winning just one of the four "day money" prizes, ranging from $25 to $75.

"A lot of the boys get stomach trouble," Hunter said, "what with the nervous tension and all that abuse you take on a horse. Most of the boys drink and most of 'em shoot dice. If they weren't an easy-going bunch, they wouldn't be in a racket like this."

ATLANTIC FLIGHT RECORDS SET BY BOMBER PILOTS

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Trans-Atlantic flights between breakfast and bedtime are being made repeatedly by pilots ferrying United States-made bombers to Britain, an authoritative aviation source said Wednesday.

This statement was made to correct a previous declaration that a breakfast-to-tea flight by Capt. Pat Eves of British Airways had set a record for the crossing.

This source said the trans-Atlantic record had been "broken time and again," but he would not give the name of the pilot who holds the new record nor Eves' exact time.
