

ANDERSON BOY TELLS STORY OF SHOOTING

shooting might have occurred within the reservation, placing the case under federal jurisdiction. The highway from Bonanza to Olene, however, along which the two men must have been traveling when the argument and shooting took place, is outside reservation boundaries.

Young Anderson was brought to the county jail Friday night after his father had repeated the story of the shooting as told him by the youth.

Argument Develops

According to Sheriff Lloyd Low, young Anderson surrendered quietly to arrest at his father's ranch and corroborated the account of the shooting as reported to the sheriff by his father.

Young Anderson said he and Zulkoski had taken a pickup truck to go out and get a load of limewood and had taken along some whisky purchased in Bly. Later Zulkoski attempted to buy more liquor in Bonanza but was unable to get the amount he wanted so the pair decided to drive to Klamath Falls.

On the way, an argument developed, young Anderson said, and Zulkoski tried to seize control of the car. When Anderson stopped the machine, Zulkoski pushed him out, he said, but as he stepped out he grabbed one of the two rifles in the car.

Outside, he realized that Zulkoski also had a rifle, he said, and decided to "shoot first." It was about dusk then, he said.

Later, Anderson said, he got back into the car and drove on. Wondering at Zulkoski's silence, he lit a match to see the man's face and decided his companion was dead. He then stopped and pushed Zulkoski's body out of the car and returned to Beatty, Anderson said.

His car stuck in the mud a mile from the ranch and he walked from there to the ranch where he took a horse and rode out to Plute camp where his father and others were checking brands. He arrived at daylight and told his father of the shooting.

Sheriff Low was accompanied on the trip to Beatty by Deputies Dale Mattoon and Willis Pankey and by Special Indian Officer Bud Wilson. The elder Anderson accompanied the party to Klamath Falls and interviewed Attorney J. C. O'Neill on his son's behalf after the boy was lodged in the county jail.

Farm Leader Pledges Spud Consideration

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Secretary Wickard assured a group of western members of congress Friday that he would give "every consideration" to a proposal that the surplus marketing administration purchase 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels of potatoes in the west for use as livestock feed.

The SMA rejected the proposal yesterday but said it planned to purchase possibly 600,000 bushels monthly in several western states for distribution to needy persons.

"Mr. Wickard told us that something would have to be done because of the depression in the potato industry, and he assured us he would give our diversion proposal every consideration," said Senator Clark (D-Idaho).

Blehn street toward the Black Top service station. He followed him and while peering around inside the garage was struck again. Casebier said he fell down, partly under a parked car in the garage. He remembered calling the prowl car. Officers then lodged Casebier in jail. He was released the next day.

In the meantime city police started making investigations and attempted to locate young Reynolds who had worked at various restaurants and hotels in the town. He had recently come to Klamath Falls from Portland.

Just what charge will be lodged against Reynolds is not known although it is thought he will face a count of robbery by force. Casebier claimed the young man made off with the sum of $150.

to cash in if it had acted quickly." Asked what he considered the most immediate needs, Halifax said:

"Mobilization of your great industrial strength, and transplanting that into action in supplying us with the ships and supplies we need."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (UP)—Lord Halifax, the new British ambassador, arrived here last night after an unprecedented meeting with President Roosevelt in storm-swept Chesapeake bay—a meeting dramatized by the envoy's prediction that, with United States help, his country will win the war.

Lord Halifax arrived off Annapolis, Md., today after a secret trip aboard the new 35,000-ton British dreadnaught, King George V, from which he was brought ashore by President Roosevelt on the presidential yacht Potomac.

Speed Urged Lord Halifax came here as a member of the British war cabinet "to make known to the government and people of the United States from time to time in what way, if they are willing, they can best give us the help we need."

"The more quickly your generous help can be made effective," he said, "the sooner shall we be able to break this Nazi power that is trying to enslave Europe and the world."

His prediction was made in a statement issued at Annapolis after his historic meeting with Mr. Roosevelt.

"Piped" Aboard The president had motored unheralded to Annapolis in a cold, driving rain and then had boarded the Potomac to meet the camouflaged battleship anchored in Annapolis Roads.

Contact was made in choppy seas. While the Potomac cruised around a guard of honor of royal marines stood at present arms aboard the dreadnaught and played the "Star Spangled Banner," apparently in lieu of the customary honorary gun salute.

A few moments later Lord and Lady Halifax were "piped" aboard the Potomac which turned and slowly felt her way through the storm back to the Annapolis dock.

Precedent Broken The president had cast aside precedent to greet the distinguished arrivals who left England secretly nine days ago.

Dinner aboard the Potomac followed their arrival at Annapolis.

Lord Halifax was smiling and affable as he walked down the gangplank at Annapolis with Lady Halifax on his arm and greeted newspapermen. While Lady Halifax, wearing galoshes, withdrew to join the president in his car the ambassador posed for photographers and his secretary distributed his statement.

He then joined Mr. Roosevelt and they left at once for Washington. The president dropped his distinguished passengers off at the British embassy, shook their hands, wished them well and then returned to the White House.

What he and Lord Halifax discussed, or whether the new emissary brought Mr. Roosevelt a personal message from British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, was not disclosed. They apparently had at least two hours together aboard the Potomac.

Greeks Capture 530 Italians In Three Days, Claim

ATHENS, Saturday, Jan. 25 (UP)—Capture of 530 Italian prisoners, including two majors, during the past 72 hours in a new Greek offensive launched on several sectors of the central Albanian front was reported early today by a government spokesman.

Most of the prisoners were understood to have been seized above Klisura where the Greeks are driving upon Italy's vital base of Berat, lying northward along a military highway.

Bombers Grounded Above Klisura the Greeks were reported to have taken several strategic mountain heights along the road to Berat after hurling back "violent Italian attacks" in heavy fighting.

The Athens newspaper Eleftheron-Vima reported from Klisura that Italian bombers were grounded by driving rain on the central front but that Greek planes aided Greek artillery and infantry in the new offensive.

"The Greeks have resumed the offensive on various parts of the central front despite bad weather and have captured several fortified heights," the government spokesman said.

"In their retreat the Italians yielded prisoners and materials to us."

BROTHERS ENTER INNOCENT PLEA

Joe and Henry Vincze, brothers charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of two truck tires, entered pleas of innocence Saturday morning when arraigned before Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg.

They were returned to the county jail under bond of $1000 each. The two tires were allegedly sold by the brothers to an automobile dealer for $16.

Joe Vincze claims the tires were part of a wage claim paid to him.

With football wrapped up in mothballs, baseball is showing signs of waking up. Players and managers are beginning to play hide-and-seek with contracts—the ball chasers asking twice as much as they are worth so they may finally get more than they expect. Managers are living in hopes their healthy young athletes won't attract too much attention from the draft boards. Picking high fliers off an outfield fence still misses as an "essential industry."

Agricultural Bill Ready For Solons

SALEM, Jan. 25 (AP)—A measure designed to expand the market for Oregon's agricultural sub-committee of Governor Charles A. Sragaue's Oregon economic council for introduction in the legislature.

Participation by any commodity group would be voluntary, the group to come under the act only when 60 per cent of the growers petition to do so.

Tax Provided If the growers of any one product asked to come under the law, they would be taxed up to two per cent on their products. Committees would supervise the marketing of each commodity, giving state seals of quality to the best products.

These seals, the committee said, would increase the sale of the commodities by assuring the purchaser he is getting the best products of Oregon.

"This would not only give recognition to highest quality but would put the state of Oregon directly behind an aggressive attempt to broaden the agricultural market for Oregon products and to increase the income of the agricultural producers of Oregon," the committee said.

The marketing committee also would have control over sales promotion, which would include advertising over the nation.

During the first 10 months of 1940 a total of 2,013,208 revenue passengers were flown 899,325, 153 revenue passenger miles as compared to 1,219,928 passengers and 551,890,658 revenue passenger miles in the same period of 1939.

The U. S. army air corps would like to have American auto manufacturers build 8000 twin-engine bombers and 4000 four-engine bombing planes.

visions on the effective use of our instruments of defense are as vital as if we had already been attacked."

Wisdom Seen "Bill 1776 (the British aid legislation) is designed to empower the president to make those decisions," Bullitt said. "By passing it, the congress would show, I believe, that the wisdom of the framers of our constitution is still alive in our land, and that we, like our forefathers, will submit to no master but God."

After giving his support to the aid-Britain legislation, Bullitt was questioned by committeemen about what lessons could be learned by the United States from the fall of France.

"I think there is a likeness between France and us that is extraordinary," replied the witness, neatly-clad in a dark blue suit.

"The state of mind of this country is almost exactly that which prevailed in France a year before the state of war with Germany."

"They had the same confidence in the Maginot line that many in the United States have in the Atlantic ocean. They just did not think it could be attacked successfully and there was no sense of urgency in their preparations that there should have been."

MAN ARRESTED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Rex Gaunt, ranch worker employed at O. T. (Buck) Anderson's Tableland ranch near Beatty, was arrested Friday and lodged in the county jail on charges of assault with intent to kill.

District Attorney L. Orth Sisenore said Gaunt allegedly shot Roscoe Watah, aged Indian, in the back with a shotgun as the Indian stood near a boundary fence on the ranch. Gaunt told officers that he was attempting to enforce a "no trespassing" rule.

The Indian, deaf and said to be partially blind, is a resident of the Beatty district. His wounds were said not to be serious. The shooting occurred January 4.
