BIEBER FIREMEN HAVE HOT TIME

BIEBER, Calif.—Members of the Bieber Volunteer fire department were preparing to add some interior improvements to Firemen's hall.

They moved three little electric transformers in the wall that furnished current to the B.F.D. neon sign on the building's front, and hooked them up again to the wires.

Pretty soon, Pop! went a transformer and burst into flames. Firemen in that room started for the blaze and saw another transformer blow up. As they yelled "Fire" down the stairs the third transformer went bang. Some of the firemen working in the lower story jumped to open the big front doors and man the trucks. But others grasped hand extinguishers and the situation, dashed upstairs and put the fire out without damage to the building.

Fire Chief Gerald Packwood said an error was made in the reconnecting that threw too heavy a current into the transformers.

DRAFT CASES TO UNDERGO STUDY

GRANTS PASS, Jan. 28 (AP)—Niel R. Allen, chairman of the five man board of appeal No. 1 for Oregon, selective service, announced Monday that appeals for the area comprising the first congressional district would be considered in a session opening Sunday in Salem. Appeals reaching his office here by Saturday will be considered.

Twelve cases were on the docket Monday in addition to two decided at the organization meeting in Salem December 17.

Two concern conscientious objectors, Allen said. Investigation will be referred to the department of justice, with the appeal board making final decision after receiving the federal report. Conscientious objectors may be assigned to non-military service.

Another appellant disagreed with his local board's findings as to dependency upon him. Appeals concerning dependency may be carried on to the president, the only type of case in which the appeal boards' rulings are not final.

One appeal disputes the findings of the examining physician for the local board as to the appellant's physical ability. The case was carried to the county medical board, and although that board ruled with the original physician, was appealed to the district board.

Questions of deferment based upon occupation comprise the bulk of the appeals, Allen said. The chairman asked that local boards enlist the full services of appeal agents in forwarding records for inspection. Indiscriminate mailing of all the records cannot be accepted, he said, while appeal agents by briefing and indexing may present the appellants' cases to best advantage.
