UNCLE BILLY'S LAST CIGAR — "No one could tell me," says Uncle Billy—"Wm. H." Ridgeway, head of a Coatsville, Pa., concern—"Wm. H." on the letterhead but Uncle Billy to most folks.

"If I wanted to smoke my after dinner cigar and out in front at that, it was my business." But the other speakers at the Young Peoples' Conference did not like it. Under this man had grown the notable Rock Creek Sunday School; he had seen the Iron Rose Bible Class of husky metal workers, take on size and power. Young people knew him as their friend and confidant. And for him to plead with them to follow on in the Christ-way and then the next hour to set an example that might be questioned, did not sit well with the other speakers. Feeling that way, they entered into a compact to pray that God would quit Uncle Billy of the tobacco habit, saying nothing to him about it.

Some months later, a couple of them met Uncle Billy on the street in Philadelphia.

"Enjoying good health and your cigar as usual, Uncle Billy?"

"Ha-Ha boys, I'm done with Lady Nicotine forever. Lost my appetite for 'baccy'."

At this up went a shout of joy and more shouts. And so it is that this veteran business man and witness for the Lord tells this as one case of answered prayer. It is here set forth, not to argue that God's people should or should not use tobacco. But we do recall that when the saved know their ground and pray, God works. "When we pray God works." It brings back the day when the crowd packed out the synagogue and four bearing a paralytic, let the man down thru the roof. Seeing their faith Christ acted and healed the man. And also Naaman, the great general of Syria, angry that the prophet in Israel would not do honor to such a one as he, would have turned back home, still a leper. Yet there stood the faith of the little Jewish maid serving in his household and he went to the Jordan as the prophet said and dipped seven times and was healed. Not his faith but hers. Redeemed by Christ's blood; all sins confessed; claim the promises. "If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you." So pledges the Lord who bought you with His blood. Do you live close enough to the throne to get things from God? GEO. N. TAYLOR, —Pd. Adv. Beaverton, Ore.

Camp Fire News

Fairhaven Camp Fire Girls held a meeting and potluck at their school Friday. Mrs. George Britt, assistant guardian of this group, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy and Dixie Lee Robinson's mother, were sponsors of the affair. Before eating we played basketball in the gym. Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Britt served a very hearty dinner at the close of which we sang Camp Fire songs. They said we sang so loud you could hardly hear yourself think. Each girl took care of her own dishes and then we all played hide-and-go-seek in the gym while some of the girls played spooky music on the piano. Then we formed our Camp Fire circle and repeated the woodgatherer's desire. The meeting was adjourned and we all went home.

20-30 Club Starts Drive To Halt Youth Car Thefts

The local 20-30 club today started its second annual drive to educate the motoring public in the importance of removing car keys from parked automobiles. The Boy Scouts of troop 11 will distribute reminder cards in all cars found with keys left in the lock.

A recent survey made at the Oregon State Correction school for boys at Salem showed the fact that 55 per cent of all juvenile crime delinquencies were attributed to the theft of cars when the keys had been left in locks.

Boys coming upon an automobile with keys left in the lock were in most cases attracted with the thrill of driving a modern high-powered vehicle, and therefore "borrowed" the car with intention of later returning it.
