EXPERT—An authority on engineering problems is Dexter S. Kimball (above), newly-named tools and equipment priority executive in the office of production management, the defense group. He was Cornell engineering dean from 1920-36.

JEFFERSON MEMORIAL TAKES SHAPE IN CAPITAL—On the south bank of the tidal basin in Washington, D. C., the $2,000,000 memorial to Thomas Jefferson, Virginia-born third U. S. president, is taking shape, though scaffolding still hides the beauty of its marble columns. Noteworthy is the central circular room with the portico which faces north. Portico will be main entrance; domed central room will be 80 feet in diameter. Site provoked argument because some Japanese cherry trees had to be removed.

MOTHER NATURE PAINTS A CANVAS—Rolling waves that dashed their spray over ice-capped boulders made this picture of chill northern beauty. It's on Lake Superior near Lutsen, Minn. Towering cliffs, out of reach of the waves, add to the grimness of scene.

SKI JAUNT—Ski fans meet Ed Borders, 24, University of Alaska student, who's making a 1,300-mile solo ski jaunt from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Hazelton, British Columbia. Carrying food, camera and sleeping bag, he hopes to do it in 90 days.

ORCHIDS TO HER—Spring's already on the calendar for pretty Gay Hayden, smart New Yorker who has given her pale green afternoon crepe a festive look with the regal orchids. Soft epaulets call attention to the natural shoulder line.

NAVY HONOR MEN—A navy patrol bomber model holds the attention of the three top-ranking men of the U. S. naval academy midyear graduating class, which numbers 400 midshipmen. Left to right: William Nicholson of Pasadena, Cal., who was the "honor man"; Frank M. Sanger, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., second highest; Francis P. Cuccias of Woodhaven, N. Y., third.

20-CANDLEPOWER WARFARE!—Billowing clouds of smoke released from 20 candles laid down the chemical screen through which these masked, bundled-up soldiers emerge at Camp Upton, Long Island. They belong to the 198th Coast Artillery and were taking part in some chemical warfare maneuvers staged by Maj. Monroe A. Blumenstiel, chemical warfare officer at Upton.

COY... BOY!—It's plain to see that romance is in the air for Blanche Brewer, who turned up with this idea for Valentine's day. The muff bouquet is made of roses, snapdragons, carnations and cornflowers, which are repeated in the tiny hat.

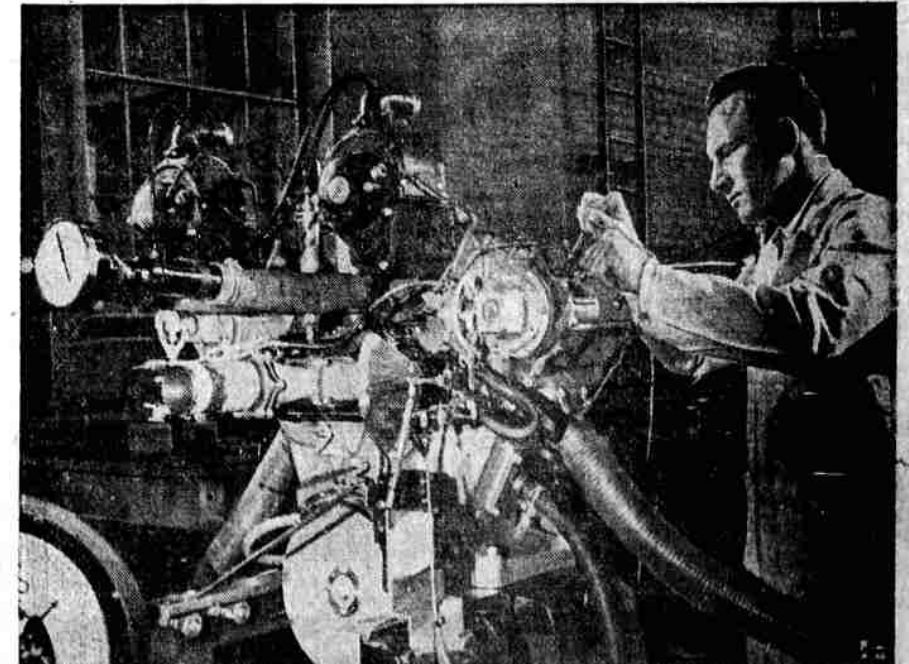

DRAMA OF THEIR OWN—When Broadway paid tribute recently to the 40 years Ethel Barrymore (right), 61, has starred on the stage, Helen Hayes (left), another First Lady of the Theater, added her good wishes, too. Above, the pair is listening to broadcast greetings from two other Barrymores, John and Lionel. Ethel now has Welsh schoolmistress role in N. Y. hit.

COME CLEAN, NOW!—As only boy entrant among 350 girls, "Tubby" Youngworth, 6, won special prize in N. Y. contest to teach cleanliness by means of doll care. Joan McGonnell, also shown with Bess Johnson who gave out awards, won a prize, too.

CAT'S ERROR ALMOST COST A LIFE—Because the family cat apparently mistook it for a mouse, this toy Pomeranian dog almost didn't live to take an hourly feeding from a bottle. The pup, which weighed one and one-fourth ounces at birth, was grabbed by the cat two days later. Owner Mrs. Jack Barclay of Shelton, Wash., believes it the smallest puppy ever to survive.

TEST FOR FORD MOTOR—To determine the power output which can be expected from 12 cylinders, above two-cylinder model of the aviation motor Henry Ford hopes to adapt to mass production is undergoing tests (above) at Detroit. After a study of many aircraft motors, Ford engineers now have in the making a 12-cylinder, V-type, liquid-cooled motor with injector fuel system.
