Quartz Mt.

Thursday visitors at Quartz Mountain from Sprague River were Mr. and Mrs. Axel Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dilleburg.

"Open house" was held at the home of Mrs. Florence Ferguson Thursday afternoon to wish her a happy birthday. During the afternoon refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Thodius Bates, Mrs. Lula Taylor, Mrs. Merle Brown, Mrs. Gustara Karjala and Mrs. Hazel Piggett.

A Valentine party was held at school Friday afternoon, with a program by the children and refreshments served by the mothers. The seven children enrolled, gave a fine program and exhibit of their work, and ended with the opening of the Valentine box, in the form of a post-office, an activity the children have been studying.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown and family motored to Klamath Falls over the weekend. Mr. Brown visited Leo Moll, who is recuperating at the Klamath Valley hospital from an automobile accident which occurred last week.

Mrs. Vera Real spent last week in Portland visiting friends. In the party with her were her daughter, Mrs. Peggy Barnes of Klamath Falls and Miss Isabelle Thayer, also of Klamath Falls, who went on to Seattle by train to visit her folks.

M. C. Real motored to Klamath Falls Saturday evening to attend the Elk's Valentine dance, returning Sunday after visiting friends in Klamath Falls.

Roy Phillips of the Lapham ranch, eight miles back of Quartz mountain, came out on horseback Sunday, breaking trail all the way through snow so deep it reached the stirrups on the saddle.

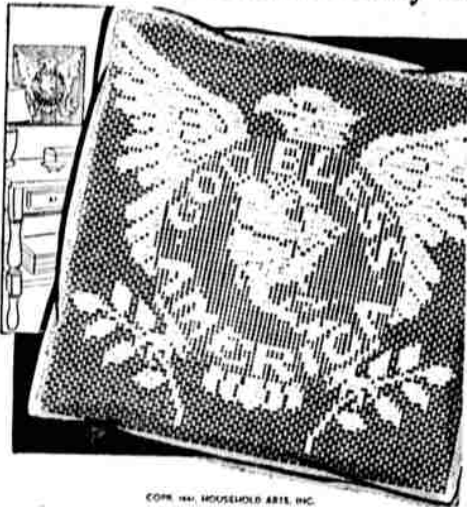

On Jan. 1, 1940, there were 60,000 productive workers employed in the American aircraft industry. On Jan. 1, 1941, this figure had been raised to 165,000.

Tips On Your Income Tax

DO Print Your Name Clearly on Tax Blank; DON'T Mail Loose Change in an Envelope

The third of six short articles outlining the most common errors of income tax payers.

By NEA SERVICE

It sounds absurdly simple, but one of the most troublesome things the income tax people have to deal with is illegible names. It stands to reason that you should have your name on your blank, and have it so it can be read. Don't use pencil, lead or indelible. Use pen and ink or a typewriter, and PRINT your name and address carefully in block letters at the top of the blank. Of course you sign it in your ordinary handwriting in the bottom.

And DON'T send money to pay the tax in the envelope in which you mail it in. Send a check or a money order properly made out in your own name. But don't send either bills or silver. Why? Because every time the revenue people open a large bag of income tax mail they scoop up a quart or two of silver out of the bottom of the bag, and they have no way in the world to know which envelopes it worked its way out of.

People will do this: they'll hand their money to a friend, and say "Get a money order for the amount of my taxes and send it in." The friend does, and the money order arrives at the Internal revenue bureau separate from the tax return, and with the friend's name on it. How can the government people figure out from that that YOU'VE paid YOUR tax?

Further, if you're sending two returns in the same envelope, say for husband and wife, don't make out a single check to cover both. Make separate checks. Otherwise it's hard, in sorting the returns, to keep them straight. One is likely to be registered as overpaid, and the other as not paid at all. Your cancelled check or money order stub is your receipt for having paid the tax. Get it and keep it.

NEXT: Social security payments and your income tax.

4-INCH SNOW REPORTED ON SUN MOUNTAIN

Four inches of new snow fell on the Sun mountain stretch of The Dalles-California highway during the night Monday, the only point on the state highway system where snow was reported. The fall was quickly cleared off by the highway plows and traffic was not interrupted.

The normal precipitation figure was passed with 9.03 inches reported for the stream year as compared to the usual figure of 7.45 inches. Observers who feel this is one of the wettest years they have seen, have but to check weather records to see that 10.09 inches of moisture had fallen last year at this time, almost all in rain.

According to the US weatherman, 21 inches fell between 5 p. m. and 8 a. m. Tuesday, with .05 inches falling before 5 p. m. Monday.

Forecast for Wednesday is for "more rain" with snow in the mountains.

Clouds Near Lakeview Give Unusual Effect

WESTSIDE—Clouds lying low on top of Abert rim in central Lake county Sunday morning literally poured over the rim and toward the valley nearly three thousand feet below, creating the effect of giant waterfalls suspended in air.

To travelers going north from Lakeview on the Fremont highway the far end of the rim was completely obscured by a waterfall of clouds curving out over the vertical rock drop, and smaller masses of clouds poured over at intervals all along the precipitous face of this largest exposed fault in North America.

A phenomenon of this kind has been visible in former years, although snow and not clouds created the waterfall effect. In the case of the snow the illusion is complete, for the snow falls till it reaches the lower slopes or the valley floor.

Bly Children Have Fun on Valentine Day

BLY—Valentine day was the occasion for much merriment and fun at Bly schools. Each elementary room had its gay box and refreshments and games for the kiddies.

The seventh and eighth grades had a Valentine box and elaborate refreshments under the supervision of their adviser, Miss Florence Trapp.

The junior and senior home room students with their adviser, Mrs. Hoffman, were hosts to the upper four grades. Hilarity attended the giving of humorous Valentines. Coach Mabey was presented with a special token by the basketball boys.

An elaborate heart shaped box of candy was presented to Mr. Elliott with a rhymed tribute of appreciation.

The entire faculty sent personal Valentine messages by mail to Mrs. George Elliott who is still in Klamath Falls under medical supervision after her long illness. The high school girls also gave her a handkerchief shower. Mrs. Elliott is missed very keenly by Bly people. Her cheery disposition and her talent for directing and entertaining is much in demand here. That she will recover completely and be able soon to resume her usual activities is the hope of all.
