Medical Auxiliary Tea

A delightful affair of Wednesday afternoon, February the nineteenth, was the tea given by the auxiliary to the Klamath Medical society at the home of Mrs. Ralph W. Stearns, 1209 Pacific Terrace, honoring new members, including Mrs. C. V. Reichman, Mrs. George D. Massey, Mrs. Neil Black and Mrs. George H. Merryman Jr. About twenty-five members called between the hours of three and five o'clock.

Pouring at the tea table, centered by an effective arrangement of Talisman roses and freesias and lighted tapers were Mrs. Merle Swansen, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Myra Cain Stewart. Those in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Dean H. Osborn, Mrs. Ralph W. Stearns, Mrs. George H. Adler, and Mrs. F. Cecil Adams.

Mrs. Myra Cain Stewart, seated, and Mrs. George H. Adler, at the right, serving tea to Mrs. L. D. Gass, Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg and Mrs. Neil Black who was one of the honored guests.

Enjoying a few moments together at the close of tea hours are Mrs. Merle Swansen, president of the medical auxiliary, Mrs. F. Cecil Adams, Mrs. Dean H. Osborn and Mrs. Ralph W. Stearns.
