News Notes and Comment

By June Michelson

Friday's Variety show promises variety. One half hour play, "Suitable for Charity," which concerns the famous rummage sale subject; "Stump Hollow Train," a one act play; the all-boy cast of the "Persecuted Maiden," and several shorter numbers will make up the big program.

Picture approximately 30 "cats" and one lone male, Bob Cline, awaiting the same train and you have the plot of the "Stump Hollow Train." "Suitable for Charity" leaves the leading man in an embarrassing position — with no trousers. Everyone who saw the preview of the "Persecuted Maiden" at the amateur show last week knows that the skit is really something.

Featured on the show will be Jack Colvin, Bob Burke, Marcelle Reynolds and Bob Smith. Friday, February 28 is the date; the price of admission is 10 cents.

A check for $11.25 has been sent to the British relief fund by the Girls' league, the profits from one week at their candy booth.

Another check for $11.18 was sent by the league last week, to the Greek relief fund.

Professor W. A. Dahlberg of the University of Oregon and three Eugene speech students — Jack Robinson, Portland; George Moser, McMinnville; Leonard Clark, Portland — spoke to a junior-senior assembly Wednesday on world conditions.

Robinson gave a background talk; time did not permit Moser to give his discussion of the constitution; Clark ended the assembly by evaluating the 1941 situation.

Clark pointed out that the American way was the middle course between individualism which leads to anarchism and regulation which leads to tyranny.

"Intelligence is America's first line of defense, not Great Britain," according to Clark.

Walter Eschebeck, a former student of Dahlberg, was in charge; Patty Croup was chairman.

Deep maroon robes will soon be worn by the capello chorus. The attractive shanting robes are ankle length, fitted over the shoulders with long, full sleeves and have wide white trimming down the front. Girls will wear white collars.

The chorus should have the vestments in about three weeks, according to Director Charles Stanfield.

On Thursday and Friday nights of next week, the Pelicans will play Bend here for the district tournament title. Winner of the fight will go to the state basketball tourney in Salem.

Student body or complimentary tickets will not admit. Admission is 15 cents for students, 35 cents for adults.
