

Logger Blows
Self to Bits

OREGON CITY, March 6 (U.P.)—Clinton Helm Routledge, a logger, blew himself to bits in a dynamite explosion that rocked a three-mile area, the coroner's office reported Wednesday.

The 52-year-old woodcutter, employed by Joseph P. Lynch of Wemme, discharged a heavy charge of explosive placed in a stump, according to the coroner's report.

The fatal blast was believed to be one that rocked a three-mile area at 11:40 p. m. Monday. A note found on Routledge's door indicated suicide.

Parking Meter
Blast Rejected

SALEM, March 6 (P) — The house judiciary committee recommended unanimously last night against passage of a bill to abolish parking meters in Eugene, Portland and Astoria, the only Oregon cities which have the meters.

The committee said it is not a state function to interfere with purely city affairs. The bill was introduced by Rep. A. Hugh Adams (D-Multnomah).
