

'CITY BEAUTIFUL' CAMPAIGN STARTS

TULELAKE — Tulelake residents who are interested in a city improvement project are asked to cooperate with the chamber of commerce in a "city beautiful" campaign that will include a tree planting day on March 16 following a week of city face washing.

J. W. Carlisle and Johnny Cortez, acting for the chamber, have purchased 300 Siberian elm trees ranging from five to seven feet in height to be planted on both sides of principal streets in town from Modoc avenue to the well in the city park site.

Vacant lots and alleys are getting a thorough going over this week. The Tulelake Garden club has accepted an invitation to cooperate.

Sprague River

The Women's Service league netted a profit of about $10 toward the library fund at a public card party held Friday night, March 7, in the school gymnasium. At a late hour refreshments were served to the players. Mrs. Little, Mrs. Fenning and Mrs. Masters were in charge of the affair.

Mrs. Isabelle Brixner, county school supervisor, spent Monday visiting the Sprague River school. While here she gave tests to the primary grades.

Miss Alice Jean Grossman, primary teacher in the Sprague River school, spent the weekend in Ashland visiting her parents.

Due to the flooding in the Sacramento river last week, Mr. Fidler was unable to obtain films for his regular show. He assured the large crowd, that was turned away, that this would probably not happen again and regular shows would continue.

The home economics girls of the Sprague River school entertained the faculty of the school at a four o'clock tea, Monday in the school kitchen. Refreshments of chocolate cream pie and coffee were served on a cleverly decorated table. Dolores Cody, Blanche Schonchin and Ruth Wilson acted as hostesses for this party. A later planned function of the class will be an afternoon tea for the mothers of the girls. Miss Florence Stone is the teacher in charge of the girls.

Mario Carnini, proprietor of the Sprague River Woodmen Box cafe, is building an addition to his restaurant. The enlargement will give more room for the kitchen.

Mrs. Lottie Patterson and daughters, Patricia and Wilma Schonchin, visited the Klamath Agency, Monday, March 10.

Crater Lake

Because of a beautiful spring-like weekend at Crater lake there were more sightseers than there were skiers in the park; 629 sightseers and 352 skiers were checked in at the Annie Springs checking station, 718 persons coming in through the south entrance.

Skiers from Klamath Falls who spent Saturday night at park headquarters were: George Turner, Clarence Hill, Tom Welsh, Lillian Redkey, Eleanor Coulter, Maxine Johnson, Evilo Thrasher, Janice Bubb, Sol Wirth family, Bob Sprout, Al Carlson, Barbara Adams, Gordon Cunningham, Cecil Drew, Marcille Reynolds, Betty Buchanan, Barbara Beane, Donna Fife, Maxine Dixon, Merlyn Albrecht, Marie Divens, Don Divens, Jeff Linville, Marianne Linville, Mary Drew, Lloyd Drew, Jim Coonan, Fred Schmidt and Bob Morrison.

Only four injuries were reported. Calvin Robinson of Grants Pass received a laceration on his head. He fell in the upper end of the ski bowl and cut his head on his ski. First aid was given him by Ranger Folles and CCC Enrollee Lockhart.

Mrs. Marian Bard of Klamath Falls incurred a left ankle sprain or possible fracture by a fall in the ski bowl. She was brought in by members of the ski patrol and treatment was given her by Ranger Folles.

Lester Lindow of Klamath Falls received a cut on the left side of his head by a ski pole while on Garfield slide. First aid was given by Ranger Gilbert.

Vern Kellenbeck of Medford received a sprained right ankle. It occurred on Knob hill and was due to the slippery snow conditions. He was brought in by the ski patrol and treatment was given by Ranger Folles.

Bill Beckman, snow removal foreman in this area, went to the Oregon Caves national monument Monday to get the push blade snow plow there. It is no longer needed for this season in the monument so will be used at Crater lake to remove spring slush and ice from the highways.

Mrs. Hazel Frost and her two small sons, Charles and Gordon Frost, left here last Wednesday for a two weeks visit in Berkeley, Calif. They are visiting Mrs. Frost's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Roach and daughter Barbara spent four days of last week visiting friends in Medford and Phoenix, Ore.

Because this week is California Conservation week, Merle Walker, Crater lake's chief park naturalist, Don C. Fisher, custodian of the Lava Beds national monument, and Ranger Frost of Crater lake are giving a series of talks on that subject to high schools, rotary clubs and Boy Scout groups in Klamath Falls.

SIGNS HAVE MOVED

When astrologists say we are in the sign of Gemini, the sun is in the sign of Taurus. At one time, the "signs" of the Zodiac agreed with the "constellations" of the Zodiac, but due to precession of the equinoxes during the last 2000 years, each sign has moved into the constellation west of it.

DESTRUCTIVE

New England's 1938 hurricane destroyed a third of Vermont's hard maples, and two-thirds of New Hampshire's syrup-producing trees.

Matador 'El Magnifico' Has Pants Torn, Redeems Self

MEXICO CITY, March 12 (AP) — An uncooperative bull almost ruined Lorenzo (El Magnifico) Garza's attempt to come back from "supreme disgrace" Sunday but "supreme success" followed when the matador's pants, after which Garza promptly slew the bull—and two others.

El Magnifico was still pretty much in the doghouse today, though, finding himself tossed from the horns of the bull to the horns of the same dilemma.

The big noise started a week ago yesterday when, after nine plunges of the matador's sword, a bull refused to roll over and die and, amid approving cheers, was led out to spend the rest of his days on a stud farm.

Failure to kill the bull is the low of bullfighting, a great humiliation punishable up to last week by a fine of 1000 pesos (about $200), which is what it cost Garza.

His failure, a thing unheard of in ten years, moved the authorities last week to adopt a new rule stiffening the penalty to provide up to 15 days in jail and a fine of 5000 pesos.

Moreover, the reception he would get was doubtful when he appeared to redeem himself yesterday, Mexican fans being as fickle as they are loud.

With such a buildup of suspense, the arena naturally was jammed when Garza, resplendent in embroidered green and silver, took his bows and squared away against a bull which in nowise resembled the fabled Ferdinand. Garza flicked his cape and made several beautiful passes. The fans approvingly yelled "Ole."

Then the bull caught Garza with his horns and the matador was down, but not for the count. Suffering nothing worse than a hole in his pants, he sprang up and quickly killed the animal. Two more bulls were dispatched in quick succession.

Having scored three for three, or par for the course, Garza bowed out amid the mixed manifestations of the 20,000 fans. Some tossed flowers, others hur-ed cushions and other articles denoting disapproval.

IS THIS EDEN?

A diversity of produce is grown in Arizona's Valley of the Sun. Here is grown a large part of the nation's winter head lettuce, cantaloupes that go to every state in the union; alfalfa that retains its natural green color and rich vitamins; world's best grapefruit; oranges of delicate flavor and color; and dates that surpass the best of Iraq in Arabia.

REALLY SMALL

So small is the filament of a 6-watt 115-volt lamp that only the best eyes can see it. It has a diameter of less than five one-thousandths of an inch. It would take 2130 of these, laid side by side, to make an inch.
