

INCOME WOULD LIFT PENSION SUM FOR AGED

... on $200 a month after serving 17 years and reaching the age of 70. The supreme court justices would contribute three per cent of their salaries, and the circuit judges two per cent.

Today was the 60th day of the session, which might end Saturday night, but the adjournment time hinges on when the senate-house dispute on the unemployment compensation bill is settled.

A memorial asking congress to enact anti-lynching legislation was passed 17 to 12 by the senate and sent to the house.

Sen. Ashby C. Dickson (D-Multnomah), a former Texan, protested that such legislation is an invasion of state rights.

The senate reconsidered a bill to change the assessment date from March 1 to January 1 and sent the bill back to committee. The measure was defeated yesterday.

The senate passed and sent to the governor a bill appropriating $15,000 for educating handicapped children. The bill also would permit establishment of special schools in such institutions as the Shrine hospital and Doernbecher hospital, both of Portland, and the State Tuberculosis hospitals.

SALEM, March 13 (AP)—A house-senate conference committee labored over the controversial unemployment compensation measures today.

The senate amended the bills to its liking yesterday, but the house refused to concur. Finally a joint committee was named, including: Reps. Frank J. Loneragan (R-Multnomah) and Orval J. Thompson (D-Linn) and Senators

The house killed a senate bill providing for 12 ports of entry at which trucks weighing up to 88,000 pounds could come into Oregon to load and unload. Present limit on trucks is 54,000 pounds.

The senate sent three liquor bills to the governor. They would permit the liquor commission to license and regulate night clubs, permit court appeals by persons whose licenses have been revoked or suspended by the commission, and prohibit delivery by messenger from state liquor stores.

The senate amendments to the unemployment compensation law which the house refused to accept are:

Employers' payroll tax rates should be from 1 to 2.7 per cent when the fund, which now totals $11,000,000, reaches $14,000,000. The house provided that rates should range from 1 to 4 per cent, no matter how big the fund is.

Minimum weekly benefits should be $7, same as in the existing law. The house had boosted them to $10.

Industries would be ruled seasonal if they are shut down for three succeeding months in four straight years. The effect of this seasonality amendment would be to give many seasonal workers, who now do not draw benefits during off seasons, benefits throughout their entire periods of unemployment. The house had made no changes in the seasonality provisions.

in his address. He brought out the thought that we need Christ as the cornerstone of our lives, using Ephesians 2:20 as his text, "And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief cornerstone."

"Jesus knew all the answers," he said, speaking of problems we must face. Civilization crumbles because of its foundation. Dr. Dunn gave several reasons for accepting Christ as the cornerstone of our lives: "He is a superlative Savior, surpassing all others. Jesus offers us the power to become, not just the purveyor of ideals. He is the ideal."

Challenging the statement heard so frequently today that the world was never so bad as it is just now, Dr. Dunn stated that history shows that throughout the centuries the world has been steadily improving. Christ came into the world at its worst and yet he saw the possibility of God's kingdom here on earth, he said.

Dr. Dunn emphasized the fact that Jesus kept peace in his heart and that he was never vindictive. He said that although all the armaments in the world might be destroyed, we shall never have peace until we are unarmored within. As long as the spirit of retaliation exists we shall have struggle, he declared.

He continued that we have a redemption Christ. "Behold I stand at the door and knock. Come unto me." Christianity has the answer. The answer is Christ.

The program for Thursday included a session for the ministers at 10 a. m. and a session for women at the same time.

At 2 p. m. three separate seminars were to take place, conducted by Dr. Norman K. Tully, Dr. Ray S. Dunn and R. W. Coleman on the subjects, "Personal Faith and Experience," "The Church. How can we make the church effective in its present day task?" and "Local relations. How can we live as Christians in an un-Christian society?"

The evening meeting was to begin at 7:30 with Dr. R. S. Dunn as speaker.

HEAVIEST RAF BLOW OF WAR CARRIED OUT

Boeing bombers to help British Short Stirlings and Avro-Manchesters with heavy long-range bombing, a well-placed source said, would enable the British to spread their attacking area.

This spread, he asserted, besides increasing the effectiveness on the raids, is expected to force the Germans to disperse their anti-aircraft defenses, giving the RAF a better break.

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—The British air force, throwing new and more powerful bombers into its greatest assault of the war, blasted Germany and German-held territory from Berlin to Boulogne and Norway in the last 24 hours, the air ministry said today, and was "very successful."

Tremendous fires and explosions were declared by the air ministry to have been started at Berlin, Hamburg and Bremen and a German destroyer was reported torpedoed in the Skagerrak, arm of the North sea between Norway and Denmark.

Matching the massive offensive operations, informed sources said Britain now was prepared also to fill the skies over England with night fighters to fend off the Luftwaffe's destructive dusk-to-dawn assaults.

The effectiveness of the reinforced defense set-up was demonstrated by a one-night record last night when at least nine German bombers were shot down as they attacked the Merseyside, important shipping area concentrated at Liverpool.

Further proof was offered in the declaration that the ratio of one raider downed out of 30 heretofore had been reduced now to a 1-to-20 ratio.

Bombers Raid Isle of Rhodes

CAIRO, Egypt, March 13 (AP)—British bombers carried out a heavy attack on airdromes on the Italian island of Rhodes last night, an RAF communique said tonight. Rhodes is in the Dodecanese islands in the eastern Mediterranean.

The communique said heavy explosions and fires were caused at the Dodecanese island of Scarpanto.

The British reported fires visible 20 miles away from Scarpanto, and said that at Calato and Kattavia "all bombs fell on airdromes."

Rayburn Plans Aid Bill Rush

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Speaker Rayburn told his press conference today it was planned to have the $7,000,000 British-aid appropriation bill ready for the house on Tuesday and that efforts would be made to pass it the same day.

A short time before a house appropriations subcommittee was to start brief, secret hearings on the huge measure, Acting Chairman Woodrum (D-Va.) told newsmen he hoped to conclude the testimony late tomorrow.

"The time has come for action, the Virginian said. "There's been enough talk."

invasion of a new field of revenue, Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the senate finance committee told reporters that he personally felt that present taxes should be revised upward without attempting to bring in untried levies.

Estimating that congress might be asked to provide an additional $1,500,000,000 in new revenue this session, Harrison said he felt there might be some justifiable increases in excess profits levies and normal corporation tax, as long as rates were not boosted so high that they would hurt business and result in reduced, rather than boosted, revenues.

trial town which was virtually razed the night of Nov. 14.

"Ocean of Flames" "Hell broke loose on the Mersey," one pilot reported, describing an "ocean of flames" visible 25-minutes flight away from the scene.

Another observer declared 10,000 explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped, many ships in the harbor were damaged, and huge losses were inflicted especially among grain elevators and storehouses.

Thirteen British planes were said by the high command to have been shot down, ten of them in the attacks on Berlin, Hamburg and Bremen.

"Only residence sections, hospitals and a church" were listed as damaged. Military and industrial objectives escaped for the most part, it was declared. The many fires were extinguished quickly and night fighters and anti-aircraft guns often forced the British to dump their bombs prematurely, the Germans said.

In other actions, the high command reported:

- 1. The sinking of a British destroyer by a Nazi speedboat off the English southeast coast.
- 2. The hitting of three big merchantmen and the sinking of another in attacks by reconnaissance planes on convoys off the British east coast.
- 3. Daylight attacks on industrial and military objectives in Scotland and south England.
- 4. The German air force "effectively fought" British transport columns in north Africa.
- 5. Another raid was made on Malta, in cooperation with Italian fliers.

A United States embassy attaché said the building of the United States consulate general at Hamburg was hit in the British raid there, but no one was injured.

At Bremen, DNB said, three persons were killed and three slightly injured and only slight damage was done. Only minor damage was done to Hamburg's industrial centers, the agency added.

The high command admitted losing six of its own planes. (The British said they shot down at least 12 German aircraft over England and Germany.)

Greeks Block New Offensive

ATHENS, March 13 (AP)—Dispatches from the Albanian front today said that the large scale offensive presumably ordered by Premier Mussolini himself from field headquarters had failed before powerful Greek resistance.

An earlier report said that Mussolini had given his generals until Saturday to "do something."

The Italians, dispatches from the front said, have been unable to gain a single inch of ground in the last six days. Their losses unofficially have been placed at more than 10,000, including 2000 dead. These figures do not cover the 3500 prisoners listed by the Greeks.

Seven Believed Killed As Two Bombers Hit

BONDHEAD, Ont., March 13 (AP)—Seven men were believed to have been killed today when two large bombing planes touched wings and crashed on a farm just north of this village 35 miles from Toronto.

At Camp Borden air base, Royal Canadian air force officials said that the machines probably were from the royal air force training base at Port Albert.

The commanding officer at Port Albert said he had received "a vague report of a crash" but had not finished checking it.

The machines hit the ground with such force that one apparently exploded, witnesses said.

Red Hitwell, a grocer, said five men were in one plane and four in the other. Two men were taken from the wreckage alive, he said, and moved to a Barrie hospital.

Hitler spoke in a hall near the railway station to an audience which Germans estimated at 40,000.

His arrival here was not as spectacular as his return to Austria on March 13, 1938 to proclaim a new pan-German reich, but he received an enthusiastic reception from the townspeople. Hitler was born at nearby Braunau.

HODGCARRIERS IN PARLEY ON WAGES

With a prediction of an early agreement, negotiations between Klamath local 1078 of the AFL, Hodccarriers and Laborers union and the Association of Building Contractors and employers were revealed Thursday to have been under way for the past four months.

The announcement by C. A. Doane, field representative of the Columbia river council of the union through the Klamath labor temple, said that contracts covering a change in working and wage conditions were being sought and that the negotiations were progressing very satisfactorily.

Doane, in Klamath Falls to assist the local union in completing the agreement, also warned craft men seeking employment not to go to Hermiton or Pendleton in search of jobs. Doane said work on the huge air base and arsenal at the two places has not been started yet.

On another employment front Joe Willis, of the AFL local, said that because steel for the Tulelake tunnel project has not arrived work there is at a standstill.

British Close Red Sea Gate

LONDON, March 13 (AP)—The admiralty announced today that the small Strait of Bab El Mandeb at the southern end of the Red Sea was "dangerous to navigation."

The admiralty statement said: "The admiralty gives notice that the small Strait of Bab El Mandeb is dangerous to navigation and that all vessels passing between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden should proceed by way of the large strait. Vessels which disregard this warning do so at their risk and peril."

Closure of the small strait leaves the British only one channel to watch to prevent any Italian ships in the Red Sea from escaping into the open ocean as the land pressure in Eritrea increases, observers said.

The admiralty declined to disclose how it blocked the small channel between Perim Island and the Arabian coast, but probably used mines.

It took 210 gallons to make a tun of ale when that liquid measure was in general use.
