Coal Program

At New York representatives of 100,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners formally submitted to the operators their program, including demands for pay increases and paid vacations. The present contract expires April 30.

The anthracite operators responded with a proposal to extend the present agreement "with only slight modifications." They issued a statement proposing that no changes be made which would result in increased costs as a price increase "will gravely imperil present markets and employment."

Deadlock

While soft coal wage negotiations remained in a deadlock, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation at Pittsburgh said a shortage of Beehive coke, caused by the coal shutdown, had forced the banking of a blast furnace.

At Aluminum Company of America plants at Cleveland CIO "work stoppages" slowed production. Alex Balint, organizer for the CIO Die Casters union, estimated one-third of the 7500 employees were taking part. He accused the company of "stalling" on settlement of wage demands.

free use of the pool for 15 years. The group needs $10,000, and it is hoped 100 memberships in the swimming pool will be sold. Mayor Houston said one membership has been sold already. The recreation committee has an additional $11,000 in sight. It was pointed out, and if the balance can be raised by the membership drive the pool can be constructed.

Memberships can be bought for four monthly payments of $25 each. The plan was accepted by the council.

Information on the swimming pool membership may be obtained at the office of The Herald and News. The staff will be glad to assist in receiving memberships for the recreation committee.

Licensing of juke boxes — nickel music machines — was discussed and a suggestion was entertained that a fee of $400 be placed on each distributor, allowing 20 machines to each with an additional $10 for each box over 20. The only exception to this rule would be a license of ahead of last year and irrigation is starting correspondingly early. Crop land soil moisture is good as a whole though winds have caused surface drying.

The Gerber reservoir will store about 257,000 acre feet this year and the Clear lake about 82,420, insuring two years' supply.

Medford and Rogue River: Fish lake and Four-Mile lake which supply water for this region will store a total of only about 10,500 acre feet, which is only 65 per cent of last year and only 50 per cent of the average requirements. Some flood water is being used now but it is not expected to last longer than April 20 on the east side and May 1 on the west side.

Water conservation measures including early plowing of cover crops in orchards are advised. All water from reservoirs will be pro-rated this season with estimates now running at from 8 to 9 inches per acre total to be allowed. Flow from the reservoirs will probably last only five to six weeks, which means no water after the middle of July if withdrawal can be delayed until June 1.

The season is advanced two weeks at least which probably will advance harvest correspondingly. Soil moisture is not as good as last year. The water shortage is expected to be worse than for any year since 1931.

Talent District: The Hyatt Prairie and Emigrant Gap reservoirs will store a total of about 14,500 acre feet, or about 80 per cent of last year. Average needs are 16,200 acre feet, but with conservation methods and pro-rated supply no orchard is expected to suffer before harvest. Flood water irrigation started in March.

The Wagner gap canal may shut down the last week in June,

Man Bound Over Burglary Charge

Leo Joseph Kent was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Joseph A. Mahoney on a charge of burglary not in a dwelling.

Kent is accused of breaking into the Klamath Machine and Locomotive Works property and stealing a quantity of brass. He was held in lieu of $1000 bond.

Truck Line Reports Theft of Tools

Theft of a box of tools from the platform of the Bend-Portland Trucking company was reported to city police Tuesday by T. W. Laird. Laird said the tools were missing from the platform Sunday.

No vagrants appeared before Police Judge Leigh Ackerman Tuesday but he heard two drunks and 17 traffic violators.

Grants Pass: Low flow of the Rogue at Ray-Gold dam for July, August and September is estimated at 95 per cent of last year.

Alternating supplies will probably go into effect about July 25, but no serious shortage is foreseen.

The Applegate river is expected to run about 95 per cent of last year and be short in August. The Little Applegate will run correspondingly but will be short in July.

Umpqua: Poorest snow supply in years was reported from the headwaters of the Umpqua and its chief tributaries. Low flow of tributaries used for irrigation will be the shortest for any year since 1931. The same applies to lower tributaries of the Rogue.

The Illinois river, like the Applegate, will run about 95 per cent of last year's flow.

Range conditions in the Rogue River forest are reported fair with a about average prospects. The high range between Klamath Falls and Lakeview is better than last year though the low range in that region is badly dried at the surface by recent winds and needs rain.

The following in addition to Mr. Work attended the session here:

Klamath Falls—John V. Walker and E. L. Stephens, bureau of reclamation; John W. Sarginson, US forest service; C. A. Henderson, county agent.

tion meeting the brunt of the Nazi attack, the newspaper Kathimerini said, formed of volunteers for service in outposts. Every man, the paper said, was highly qualified for the work of defending the positions to the last moment to cover the withdrawal of the main forces. After that, the paper said, their job was to blow up all communications and bridges before falling back.

The paper related that one group of 150 held back a German force twenty times as large for 36 hours.

Greek correspondents returning from Yugoslavia today brought only fragmentary accounts of the war. They said terrific air battles were being waged over Skopje and other cities and that Yugoslav troops were fighting valiantly against superior German forces.

Apparently Yugoslavia was getting the heaviest fighting since the battle of France. The United States legation at Athens has been unable to communicate with the legation at Belgrade since Sunday.

Crowd Expected to Hear Administrator Of Bonneville

Bonneville Power committee of Klamath county expect a large crowd at the Klamath union high school auditorium Friday night when Paul Raver, Bonneville administrator, speaks.

Raver, who has charge of the big dams and plants at both Bonneville and Grand Coulee, cancelled a trip east in order to make his speaking appearance here, according to A. M. Thomas, secretary of the local power committee. His topic here will be "Public Power."

Thomas emphasized that the invitation to the Friday night meeting is to everyone in the Klamath basin.

Potato Rate Cut Effective on GN, Connected Lines

The recently announced potato shipment rate reductions which became effective Tuesday is also applicable to the Great Northern railroad and connections south, which include the Western Pacific and the Atchafon, Topeka and Santa Fe, Harry Wayne of the GN office revealed Tuesday.

The new schedule brings the rate from the Klamath basin to Los Angeles down six cents to 34 cents. The slash will be only temporary, expiring in late May.

City Officials View Jail as Warning Heard

she was sick, lay on a cot. The other, a young but stoutish girl, lay on the floor in a corner on a pile of blankets, reading a cheap magazine.

This ward appeared to be comparatively dry, but someone made the mistake of trying the toilet equipment. Water immediately overflowed and spread over the floor. The Indian girl got up from her corner and resignedly climbed to the upper story of the double-decker bed.

The trustees' ward was found to be better lighted and dryer than the other jail departments, but the stench was present there, also. It followed the visitors into the main hall above.

"Sanitation begins at home," paraphrased Mayor Houston in calling the matter to the attention of the council. "The authority of the city is hardly in a position to demand its citizens maintain proper sanitation when there is a condition like that in our own basement. I'm serving notice right now that something must be done."

It is understood there is a plan under consideration for enlarging the jail quarters in the basement, possibly moving the city engineer from basement offices to quarters above the garage. Plumbing equipment in the jail will be worked over.

For some time there has been talk of the possibility of a joint city-county jail, but officials of both jurisdictions have ignored the suggestion.

Messages received from the searchers did not say whether they had seen any survivors of the two officers and eight enlisted men aboard the bomber when she took off from here for the naval air station at Quonset Point, R. I.

The broken bomber was sighted by a plane attached to a naval air carrier. The plane was not able to land. The pilot flashed word that he also sighted a life raft but could not tell if anyone was on it.

The coast guard immediately dispatched the cutters Dionne and Rush to the scene, as well as three life boats from stations near the scene of the crash.

FIFTH VICTIM DIES

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You

No. 26 of a Series

ARE YOU SEEING ONLY PART OF THE PICTURE?

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places.

Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices.

Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to Oregon—13,238 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $11,541,550 and $617,020.86 taxes paid last year.

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely.

You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.
