Church Janitor Admits Burning Teacher's Body

AKRON, O., April 19 (AP)—Police said today the 38-year-old janitor of North Hill Methodist church had confessed incinerating the body of Ruth Zwicker, 24-year-old music teacher, but contended she died accidentally in a scuffle after he sought a kiss.

Detective Inspector Verne Cross attributed the confession to Albert B. Lukens father of three grown children. Cross said Lukens signed a statement relating:

Struck Head "I asked her for a kiss and she struck my face. I grabbed her right arm and in the scuffle she fell, striking her head against the piano bench. "Then I dragged her down the steps and into the coal bin. About 6 o'clock Easter morning I returned to the church and built a fire in the boilers. I threw her and the music sheets into the boiler."

Miss Zwicker had been missing since she went to the church last Saturday morning to practice piano. Detectives, acting on a hunch, sifted ash under the boiler grates and found the remains. The young woman's father identified the remains through dental work.

Cross said the janitor in his statement related he once clubbed to death a Cincinnati woman, and served time in Mansfield, Ohio, reformatory. (Cincinnati record) show that an Albert B. Lukens was convicted of beating to death 44 years ago the mother of William Stiegler, once dramatic critic of the Cincinnati Times-Star.)

Cross quoted the janitor as saying he burned the body for fear he would be incriminated in the death.

British Women to Register in Labor Draft for Industry

LONDON, April 19 (AP) — A quarter-million women of 20 and 21 are expected to register today in England's first conscription of feminine labor for war industries.

When Labor Minister Ernest Bevin announced the plan to draft women workers March 16, he declared the registration call was to be heeded equally in the drawing room and the laundry room.

The only exemptions will be for women already serving with the nursing service, full-time air raid precautions and civil defense volunteers and students at universities, technical and professional schools.
