BUYERS ALOOF AS WAR NEWS DIMS STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—The stock market today looked as though it was pretty well "sold out" but many potential buyers again were kept in the waiting column by the pessimistic tenor of the war news.

The turnover of approximately 400,000 shares was helped by two 200,000-share blocks of Commonwealth and Southern, unchanged at 8.

That the market may have done a lot of discounting of unpalatable foreign happenings was thought to have attracted bidding.

While business progress was viewed as fairly satisfactory, tax and labor worries remained as speculative handicaps.

WHEAT MARKET IN CONTINUED SLUMP

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—The wheat market today resumed the slow retreat which began with the Balkan invasion. Losses of more than a cent at times carried prices to levels 4 to 5 cents below the highs reached about two weeks ago.

War news, weakness of securities and failure of temperatures in the southwest to fall as low as had been expected Saturday were largely responsible for the selling. Buying which stimulated a recovery of about half the loss was associated with heavy overseas shipments of wheat and flour from North America and reports that Spain was after more Argentine grain.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/4c lower compared with Saturday, May 90 1/4-1/2c, July 88 1/4-1/2c; corn 1/4c off to 1/2c up, May 67 1/2c, July 68 1/2c, Oats 1/4c lower to 1/2c higher.

Early Western Author Passes

PORTLAND, April 21 (AP)—George Estes, 80, author, banker and lawyer, died in a Portland hospital Saturday.

Son of pioneers who crossed the plains to Oregon with Jesse Applegate in 1843, he was born at Yoncalla. He became president of the Estacada State bank and was a lawyer for 20 years.

Among his books were "Rawhide Railroad," "Way-Faring Man" and "The Stage Coach."

A sister, Virginia Applegate, 90, Roseburg, and a daughter, Mrs. Bertha E. Fraley, Seaside, survive.

According to recent reports, eight "Tomahawks" (P-40) are being produced daily for the British by Curtiss-Wright.

Interest Shown In Bible Meeting Here This Week

Exceptional interest was shown by those in attendance Sunday morning and evening in the unusual self-styled way of presenting God's Word by Evangelist E. K. Bailey, at the Fundamental Bible center located at North Second at Pine, according to G. W. Wheatley. Bible incidents are made living pictures as the Evangelist unfolds his message. His knowledge of the Scriptures is refreshing and leaves no doubt in the mind of his listeners that what has been said was from no other source than the Bible.

These special meetings will continue each evening through Friday at 7:45 opening with song service and special numbers. G. W. Wheatley is assisting the evangelist in these meetings.

Monday evening the evangelist was to speak on "The Most Unique Man in History," "Who Is He? Where Does He Get His Power?"

Subjects for the remainder of the week are, Tuesday, "Portals of Prominence"; Wednesday, "The World Outlook"; Thursday, "A Three-fold Cord"; Friday, "A Message on Life." These meetings are free, no public collections are taken at any time during the service. The public is cordially invited. Further information can be had by dialing 7210.

Grand Guardians Honor Job Leaders At Luncheon Meet

The Past Grand Guardians and Associate Grand Guardians met for luncheon Saturday noon in the blue room of the Willard hotel. Mrs. A. J. Young of Roseburg, Mrs. C. Wing and Ralph Thomas of Portland were hosts. Eighteen guests were present.

Mrs. Velva R. Schlorff, supreme guardian of Jobs Daughters, here from Omaha, Neb., to attend last week's convention, and Mrs. Stella Jensen, junior past supreme guardian, San Francisco, were special guests.

The table was decorated with a variety of fruits and nuts grown on the young ranch near Roseburg.

AFRICAN BELIEFS

Some African savages still believe that white men are the ghosts of black men, that all deaths from disease are caused by evil spirits, and that apes are a race of human beings.

Music should be offered in a democratic way to large masses at the lowest possible admission costs.—Arthur Rodzinski, Cleveland symphony conductor.

UNIVERSITY PANEL DISCUSSIONS SET

A symposium group of speakers from the University of Oregon will give two panel discussions Tuesday, April 22, on "Women's Careers in the Modern World." The first discussion will take place in the Bonanza high school gymnasium at 2 o'clock sponsored by the high school and the PTA.

The second discussion will be held at the Bonanza city library at 8 p. m. and sponsored by the Women's club. The public is invited. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity. The panel discussion group has won favorable comments throughout the state and will prove interesting to the men and women of the community.

PTA Groups Issued Invitations to Visit Local Health Unit

Special invitations have been issued to officers and members of the PTA in Klamath county to attend the open house at the county's health department, corner of Eighth and Pine streets, on Thursday afternoon when the department's work and equipment may be seen and demonstrated.

This open house will be the most interesting feature of the Early Diagnosis campaign, sponsored by the Klamath County Public Health Association. Chairman of this annual April campaign is Mrs. Robert Hart, and Mrs. Mahr Reymers in charge of the open house to which the entire public is invited.

In connection with the Early Diagnosis, R. Paul Roberts, president of the health association, points out that tuberculosis among persons over 50 years of age constitutes one of the largest public health problems in this country.

"For many years, it was commonly believed that persons over 50 were immune to tuberculosis. This is not true," said Roberts. "But even now the prevalence of the disease among elderly persons is not generally realized. Many instances of tuberculous infection in children may be traced directly to contact with grandparents who are not even aware they have the disease. They call it bronchitis or asthma."

Roberts emphasized that the anti-tuberculosis campaign cannot afford to neglect this part of the population.

A Reputation for Fair Prices

By EARL WHITLOCK

Hardly a week goes by without some patron exclaiming, "Well, really, I had no idea that such a beautiful service as this could be bought for so little."

Now statements of this sort naturally make me feel pretty happy. Because I have always felt that, unless I could create the most beautiful Funeral Service AND do it for less, I was falling down on my alms.

You see, almost anyone could create a superlative Funeral Service. The superb casket designs put out by the manufacturers, plus the banks of flowers sent by friends, would take care of that. And almost anyone could furnish an inexpensive Funeral Service. That's merely a matter of supplying an inexpensive casket. But to combine the two—to furnish richness and distinction and beauty and to do it for the lowest possible price, there's a task to test one.

But it is a task to which I have devoted myself for years. And clients are pleased with the economy which results. The years behind this firm, years during which we have satisfactorily served rich and poor and middle class families, give you assurance that your price needs will be properly appreciated—and met!

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on Home Perils.
