MARK these words that have come down to us through 2400 years: "You have perfected your weapons and your discipline."

The historical record of these 24 centuries proves over and over again that only thus can democracy survive. Because they failed to heed this lesson of history, the democracies are now in distress.

responding tax on book makers; one cent levy on electric light bulbs and a five per cent tax on the sale price of slot machines and other coin operated devices. The list also included a suggestion that second class postage be placed on a paying basis, exclusive of county free delivery, and it was estimated this would produce $78,000,000 in revenue. The proposal was not further explained.

The group suggested a five per cent rental tax on motion picture films, an increase in the capital stock tax from $1.10 to $1.50; a levy of two cents a gallon on fuel oil used for motor fuel and a 3 1/2 per cent tax on the production of natural gas.

Mr. Roosevelt declined to be drawn into specific comments designed to amplify his views on the convoy situation.

But he said that for a year and a half vessels of the neutrality patrol had been operating as far as a thousand miles into the Atlantic from the eastern shore of Maryland. He said there were erroneous reports and assumptions at the time that the patrol was operating approximately 30 miles from the American coast.

The concerted demand by three cabinet members for decisive action in the present war crisis was generally interpreted here as a pointed forewarning that a development of top magnitude was near.

Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Navy Knox and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, addressing widely different audiences yesterday, all spoke out in unusually strong language.

1100 Christian Endeavor Delegates Attending Conclave

Theme of the junior convention is, "Trust and Do," and the place, Klamath temple.

The Methodist church was packed Thursday night for the opening meeting.

The dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. Chester P. Gates of Portland and Seattle, J. Claude Neely leading service of song. Mayor John Houston expressed the welcome of Klamath Falls and presented the president a floral as well as a rhetorical bouquet. A worship service, led by Albert Paget of Eugene, featured a selection on the Vibraharp by Mrs. Walter Fiscus of Eugene and a solo, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by Dean Stevens of Klamath Falls. The convention chorals, directed by Charles Stanfield, music teacher of Klamath Union high school, rendered two numbers: "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Peace I Leave With You." The convention announcements were made by Veldon Diment of Newberg, former president of the state union.

Dr. Luther E. Stein, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Glendale, Calif., brought the opening message of the convention on the theme, "In God We Trust."

Dr. Stein declared, "If the Christian world had been true to the principle expressed in the theme of this convention, 'Trust and Do,' we would not have the present slaughter across the oceans. When this crisis is over, the biggest purposes is yet to be met. Our forefathers put more trust in God than in materials. I want to say three things about that trust in God: First, put first the surrender to God which demands that each man must conclude what it is that God requires him to do regardless of consequences. We must make the surrender even when it demands that we bear a cross. I am going to see that God gets what belongs to God."

"Second, not only God demands this surrender, but our generation needs it. The world needs the fight of more Christians who are out and out surrendered to God. When we have won this war, we will need to win another for the ways of men are not the ways of God."

"Third, you and I need to be surrendered to God. We can never reach our highest purpose unless we are yielded entirely to God. I am a person that has one master, Jesus Christ. I need to be surrendered to God, because only thus can I realize my highest destiny."

The session closed with prayer and meditation led by Dr. Stein.

UNIONS CARRY ELECTIONS AT WEYERHAEUSER

Unionism won a triple victory at the Weyerhaeuser Timber company in national labor relations board elections held Wednesday and Thursday, it was revealed Friday by Robert Davies, NLRB field representative who conducted the polls.

Weyerhaeuser trainmen and machinists all voted heavily for affiliation with two railroad brotherhoods and the AFL Machinists' union.

Of the three ballots staged, the timber firm's 12 eligible trainmen voted unanimously for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Out of 22 eligible firemen and engineemen 21 voted for the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineemen. The other did not vote.

The International Association of Machinists (AFL) was the victor, when out of 106 eligible Weyerhaeuser machinists, 76 voted in favor of affiliation, 18 against, and 12 failed to cast their ballots.

The election was the first of a series of labor board polls scheduled for the basin in the next week. Monday and Tuesday polls will be held at the Algoma Lumber company mill and woods in which the CIO, AFL and "no-union" are the principals. On Wednesday and Thursday Chiloquin Lumber company employes will vote either for or against the International Woodworkers of America (CIO) as their bargaining agent.

Jury in Horse Case Falls in All-Night Study

An all-night grind was ended at 5:45 a. m. Friday for the circuit court jury of 11 men and one woman who heard the trial of the case of William Brown versus Gilbert Fleet, involving $100 alleged damages to a horse. The jury deadlocked through the night.

The jurors went out at 9:20 p. m. Thursday, after telling Judge David R. Vandenberg they preferred to finish up that night. When the jury sought to report a deadlock a few hours later, Judge Vandenberg advised it to return to the jury room and attempt to reach a verdict.

Finally, the judge came down just before 6 a. m. and the jury reported it was hopelessly "hung." The judge then dismissed the sleepy-eyed jurors.

The suit involved an accident in which a motor vehicle driven by Fleet hit a horse on the Weed highway. Brown sued for $873 for loss of the use of the horse, $100 for damages to the horse and $50 veterinarian's fee.

The judge instructed the jurors they could bring in a verdict for no more than $100, or the alleged difference in value of the horse before and after the accident.

U. S. Balentine represented Brown and William Kuykendall represented Fleet. Members of the all-night jury were Adolph Cacka, John Giacomini, Clyde Griffith, P. D. Reeder, John A. Jones, Charles Balin, Melvin Nelson, Louie Pastega, Joseph Zumpfe, Lawrence Bertram, Vera Donelson and John Anderson.
