

SPRAGUE GETS ADDITION FOR SCHOOLGROUND

SPRAGUE RIVER — A real estate transaction of interest to Sprague River people was the recent acquisition of eight lots in front of the Sprague River school by the county school board. The lots were purchased from the Western Cities, incorporated, through their local agent, Ben Wolford. The addition gives the 170 school children a safe and spacious playground. Heretofore cars have sped across this public property, cattle have been pastured on it and trash has been dumped there.

A clean-up and fencing program will begin immediately. Present plans call for the placing of veneer core posts every six feet with a cable threaded through the top part of the posts. The posts will be painted aluminum color.

One of the biggest problems of the school has been the lack of smooth playground space. Cars have been driving through the school ground and during muddy weather have cut such deep ruts in the ground that play was almost impossible. The acquisition of this property will allow the local school authorities to close the ground to traffic except on special occasions during dry weather. A row of trees will be planted completely around the grounds affording shade and a windbreak for future years.

Investigation Asked After Convict Guilty In Alcatraz Scrape

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (AP) A federal court jury which last night convicted Henri Young, 29, of involuntary manslaughter in the knifing of a fellow convict at Alcatraz, today asked Washington officials to investigate conditions at the island prison.

Paul Verdier, San Francisco merchant and foreman of the jury, said the six men and six women on the panel declared in the petition they were "convinced that conditions in this federal prison are unbelievably inhuman."

Verdier told newspapermen and attorneys in the case of the petition which, he said, was telegraphed to Attorney General Jackson, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation; James V. Bennett, director of the bureau of prisons; Justice Frank Murphy of the supreme court, and the California congressional delegation.

The verdict against Young, Spokane, Wash., bank robber charged with the murder of Rufus Roy McCain, another bank robber from Oklahoma City, carries a maximum penalty of three years.

The contest and a style show for the Girls' league at one o'clock and again that evening for the Parents and Patrons. It was then that the prizes were awarded.

On May 14 El Rodeos will be distributed. All work on the book itself is completed; the staff is now working on circulation. The annuals will be distributed in the same manner as they were last year, in the book exchange and El Rodeo room 316.

Two things that make the book, which is 20 pages larger than any previous KUHS annual, outstanding are the facts that the order has been completely changed and that snapshots record every school event. Never before has your reporter heard an adviser speak so highly of a student as does Clifford Rowe of Helen Cox, annual editor. Helen planned the whole book last summer. Rowe also remarked that the annual would be a surprise to him when it comes out. He hasn't written one bit of copy and hasn't even seen most of it.

Jerry Ann Denebie will be crowned queen of the 20-30 track meet Friday night.

Jerry Ann polled 3690 votes; Roberta Tucker, 870; Virginia Howard, 315; Joanne Hamilton, 300.

A slate and a book used by the blind are on exhibit in the El Rodeo case. These were brought to school by Wendell Smith, English teacher, and were used by his mother.

All English classes in school took the annual English achievement tests on Thursday. These diagnostic tests are similar to the Oregon State entrance exam. From the results, freshmen, sophomores, and juniors will be divided into the A, B, and C English classes for next year.
