Movies—"Stop Forest Fires"—A movie made locally by Klamath Post No. 8, American Legion, will be presented at the Legion meeting Tuesday night according to Walter Wiesendanger, Stop Forest Fires campaign chairman. The film will also be shown before several service clubs and schools as part of the fire prevention program in Klamath Falls and Klamath county this week. This picture was included in the program used by the Oregon state forestry "Show Boat" as part of the education tour through the Willamette valley this spring.

From Pasco—Mr. and Mrs. John D. MacDougall of Pasco, Wash., left Klamath Falls early Monday morning for their home after spending the weekend in this city with Mrs. MacDougall's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Greene of St. Francis park. Little Mary Grace Greene accompanied her grandparents home for a visit of several weeks. Mrs. MacDougall is a former resident of this city.

To Portland—Robert Hall, Altamont, for many years employed by the Oregon State highway department in the Altamont shops, will leave Tuesday for Portland where he will be employed in the ship yards as mechanic. Members of the department honored Hall Saturday when they presented him with a traveling bag.

Elected—Patricia Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Olds, Riverside street, was one of five Whitman college junior women "tapped" Saturday night to Mortar Board, national senior honorary. Miss Gallagher was chosen president of the organization for next year.

Mothers' Dinner—Plans are complete for the annual Mothers' day dinner to be given by the American Legion auxiliary in Legion hall Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. All mothers of war veterans are invited. For reservations, please call Mrs. Samuel P. Miller or Mrs. Samuel Connie. The dinner will be potluck.

From Portland—W. T. Crawford, owner of the North Bank Stage lines, Portland, spent Saturday in Klamath Falls en route to Phoenix, Ariz., where he will spend a month or six weeks vacationing on a dude ranch near that city. Crawford is a frequent visitor in this city.

Visitors—Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Bynon of Portland stopped briefly in Klamath Falls Saturday night en route home after visiting their son, Alan Jr., student at New Mexico Military institute at Roswell, N. M.

Visitor—Among the out-of-town residents here Monday to take part in the Stop Forest Fires campaign was Don C. Fisher, custodian of Lava Beds national monument.

Our Home Town

My Mother's Garden

By ALICE E. ALLEN

Her heart is like her garden.
Old-fashioned, quaint and sweet,
With here a wealth of blossoms
And there a still retreat.
Sweet violets are hiding,
We know, as we pass by,
And lilies, pure as angels,
Are opening somewhere nigh.

Forget-me-nots there linger,
To full perfection brought,
And there bloom purple pansies
In many a tender thought.
There love's own roses blossom
As from enchanted ground,
And lavish perfume unexcelled
The whole glad year around.

And in that quiet garden—
The garden of her heart—
Song-birds are always singing
Their songs of cheer apart.
And from it floats forever,
Overcoming sin and strife,
Sweet as the breath of roses
blown,
The fragrance of her life.

"You are invited to visit Memory Garden."

Next Saturday, Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on Mother's Day.

To Redding—Mrs. Grace Kintgen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kintgen and daughter, Nancy, motored to the Shasta dam Sunday and, also spent quite some time at Kennett. Herbert Kintgen was born in Kennett 29 years ago Sunday and as the town will be covered when the Shasta dam is completed, made a last visit to his birthplace. Mrs. Kintgen reported the wild flowers especially gorgeous at this time of the year with a profusion of dogwood, "firecrackers", azalea, redbud and mock orange.

Flag Standards—Businessmen of the city are advised the American Legion is now taking orders for the flag standards which can be placed on sidewalks. Some 80 of the standards were sold in the business district last year and there are 40 on hand at the present time. Anyone wishing to obtain the flag standards may contact O. D. Matthews, city hall.

Meet Tuesday—The monthly meeting of the Past Noble Grands club will be held Tuesday afternoon at the IOOF hall, opening at a 1 o'clock potluck luncheon. Hostesses for the afternoon are Julia Wohlander, Frances Kangas and Maude Shuey. All visiting Rebekahs are invited to attend.

Suffers Injury—Henri Conrad, 1028 Jefferson street, is recovering at his home from a painful injury received when he cut his left hand while chopping wood. Several tendons were severed and the wound was exceptionally deep.

AAUW Book Section—The afternoon book section of AAUW will meet Tuesday, May 6, at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Godfrey Blohm at 1234 Pacific terrace, instead of with Mrs. Howard Barnhisel, as had been previously arranged.

Fence Damaged—Mack Lillard, 915 North Ninth street, reported to city police the damage done to his picket fence. Young boys are thought to have pulled a number of pickets from the fence, breaking them in pieces.

From Medford—Carlisle Crouch, chief ranger of Crater Lake national park, was among the out-of-town visitors in Klamath Falls Monday. Crouch took part in the Stop Forest Fires campaign parade.

To Lake—Dr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Peate opened their summer home at Lake o' the Woods Sunday. They reported a number of people at the resort despite rain, wind and snow which highlighted the weekend weather.

In Hospital—Isaac Loe, 68, Malin, well known Klamath county resident, is receiving medical treatment at Klamath Valley hospital. He was admitted Sunday.

Plate Lost—Mrs. Erma Wauchope, 1009 Pacific terrace, reported to city police the loss of an Oregon license plate, No. 336-324.

From Medford—N. H. Jones reported fair weather in the Rogue River valley Sunday where he spent the weekend with Mrs. Jones.

From Dunsmuir—Mrs. Timothy Murphy spent Saturday afternoon in Klamath Falls from her home in Dunsmuir, returning by train that evening.

To Entertain—Group one of the Eastern Star Social club will be entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Christine Murdoch.

To Lakeview—Dr. J. C. Hunt, city meat and milk inspector, made a business trip to Lakeview Sunday.

From Bend—J. L. Edmondson of Bend made a short business trip to Klamath Falls Thursday.

In Bend—E. H. Tillman of Klamath Falls was in Bend Friday on business.

DEATHS PROBED—REEDSPORT, May 5 (AP)—Lee Kuhn, Oregon State college fish and game expert, said today that the mysterious deaths hereabouts recently of deer and other animals could have been caused by "cycles cells." He said carcasses examined so far have been too decomposed to permit exact diagnosis.

The largest and most modern iron ore docks in the world, at Allouez, Wisconsin, owned and operated by the Great Northern Railway. "24" and "12" are magic figures here. They keep this part of America's life line flowing smoothly at peak efficiency—24 hours a day; ore cars 24 feet in length; 12-foot centers between openings to the ore pockets, loading chutes and hatches of the steamers. The docks, which extend 2,244 feet into the bay and rise 82 feet above the water, contain 1,352 pockets, each with a capacity of 327 long tons.

The G. N.'s No. 1 Job

Let's go up on the iron range, in northern Minnesota, where America's life line begins.

You stand on the brink of a yawning man-made chasm. In it could be dumped the Fort Peck, Grand Coulee and Boulder dams, or all the material excavated from the Panama Canal!

It's the largest, open-pit iron ore mine in the world—this mine at Hibbing—2 1/2 miles long, a mile wide, and more than 300 feet deep. You're looking down on 60 miles of railroad track, with toy-like trains and power shovels scooping up the ore.

Down there, you realize, are the beginnings of battleships, airplanes, tanks, cannons, trucks, and automobiles.

For, from this red ore, the ingenuity of American industry creates everything made of iron and steel.

The task of moving nearly one-third of all the ore which the hard-pressed blast furnaces of this nation can handle this year is the Great Northern's No. 1 job on the national defense program.

Between the opening of navigation this spring and next fall's freeze-up—about 210 days—the Great Northern will be called upon to move 24 million long tons of iron ore from the open-pit and underground mines on the Mesabi range and load it into boats at the head of the lakes.

It will require thirteen trains a day during most of the season—each loaded with more than 10,000 long tons of iron ore—a shipload to a train!

2,200 cars of ore a day will have to be assembled on the iron range; moved 112 miles to the terminals at Allouez; and a corresponding number of empty cars returned and distributed to the mines.

Each carload of ore has been sampled before it leaves the mine, and in the Allouez yards the cars are switched and assembled so that whole boatloads of ore can be built up in sections of the ore docks to meet the different specifications required by various steel mills.

Modern facilities and equipment, together with a highly specialized personnel, enable the Great Northern to meet these demands of a national emergency with the utmost confidence that its obligations will be fully and competently discharged.

Sergeant Huhn To Return to Local Recruiting Office

The United States army recruiting service announced today that Sergeant Frank J. Huhn, former sub-station commander of the local army recruiting office, has been ordered to return to Klamath Falls for station. Sergeant Huhn left here last February to take charge of the army's mobile recruiting unit which has traveled extensively throughout the state during the past few months showing motion pictures of the latest developments of the mechanized army.

Lt. Col. B. H. Hensley, district recruiting officer at Portland, stated that never before in the history of the United States army have the opportunities for young men in the service been as numerous as at the present time. Choice of service and location is offered to every applicant and according to his qualifications he may serve with the air corps, ordnance department, chemical service, infantry, field artillery, coast artillery, quartermaster corps, Panama, Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, and the Philippine Islands are available for the applicant who desires foreign service. Immediate enlistment may be expected for those who qualify.

The army recruiting office is located in room 210 Post office building, Klamath Falls, full particulars and literature are
