STOCK MARKET LACKS POWER IN RALLY TRY

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Leading stocks made rallying gestures in today's market but most lacked conviction. Transfers were around 400,000 shares.

Favored steels, rails, motors, aircrafts and specialists edged up fractions to a point or so in the morning.

Such purchasing as took place, brokers said, was due partly to a cheerful business budget, the feeling that the market had done much discounting ahead of the war, and a sharp rise in agricultural commodity futures.

Stocks up at one time or another included Union Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, Standard Oil of N. J., General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Du Pont, American Can, Western Union and American Smelting.

Inclined to waver were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, U. S. Gypsum, Anaconda, Union Carbide, American Telephone and U. S. Rubber.

Bonds were narrow. Extension Unit News

In cooperation with the national defense program, the Oregon Home Economics association is attempting to register all home economics graduates in the state of Oregon. Winnifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent, would like to have all home economics graduates in Klamath county contact her to fill out national registration cards for emergency service.

The state nutrition council for defense will find this list of home economists very helpful in developing the state wide nutrition program. Mrs. Gillen's office is 208 Federal building, telephone 5213. This registration should be completed within the next three weeks.

At all of the unit meetings during May, reports are being collected. These reports indicate what practices have been changed since the demonstration on menu planning, table setting, and main dish meals were held. The following questions are being asked cooperators who saw the demonstrations:

Menu Planning and Table Setting 1. Have you planned menus for the three meals of the day? 2. Have you planned daily menus to include all foods necessary for adequate nutrition? 3. Have you planned better meals from the standpoint of flavor, texture, digestibility, and variety? 4. Have you planned meals to save time and labor? 5. Have you adapted family menus to child's needs? 6. Have you better methods for table setting and serving? 7. Do you use some type of centerpiece? (Flowers, ferns, fruits, vegetables, etc.) 8. Number of families to whom you have given information on menu planning?

Main Dish Meals 1. Have you frequently saved time and labor by the use of suggestions on the preparation of main dish meals? 2. Have you had a better main dish, with more variety through the use of home grown products? 3. Have your meals been economical through better use of left overs? 4. Check the recipes that you have used: Lima beans and frankfurters—Polenta—Scalloped corn and sea food—Klatchup—

5. Have you included milk and a raw fruit or raw vegetable salad in your menus, using main dish meals? 6. Number of families to whom you have passed on information? These reports are tabulated and sent to Oregon State College and to Washington, D. C. Therefore, it is very important that all homemakers in the units make a report this month.

Unit meetings this week held by project leaders on the subject of care of the feet, will be held on Tuesday, May 13 at 8 p. m.; May 14, Modoc Point; May 15, at Dairy and at Henley; and May 16, at Homedale.

The meeting on weight control, given by Winnifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent, Tuesday, May 13, at Bonanza; May 14, Algoma; and May 15, Weyerhaeuser Camp 4.
