

JCC FLOAT PLAN WINS APPROVAL

Announcement last week that the Junior chamber of commerce will sponsor a floral float in the forthcoming Portland Rose festival, brought praise from businessmen and citizens throughout the Klamath basin. At this particular time it is necessary that the tourists be educated as to the rich benefits that they can derive from this locality and this float is just a start in that direction.

Along with this idea is a new state wide Junior chamber project, called the "Tourist Guidance" plan, whereby the tourist public is taught the advantage of seeing and urged to stay over an extra day or so in Klamath Falls to take full advantage of scenic spots. The plan will mean extra tourist dollars flowing into the Klamath basin and will benefit everyone. Under the direction of Estle Affleck, the large float has already been planned and will be ready for entry in the parade June 13. Charles Fiske is head of the new "Tourist Guidance" plan and has many ideas intended to bring Klamath county its share of tourist trade.

Close to 4,000,000 of the 13,000,000 people in Argentina are Italians.

Six Klamath Men Rise in Ranks At Fort Stevens

FORT STEVENS, Ore., May 16 (UP)—Six Klamath Falls members of Battery C, 240th artillery have been promoted, it was announced here by regimental commander, Col. Clifton M. Irwin.

Corporal Virgil R. Jarret was promoted to sergeant. Privates First Class Marion J. Britton, Earl G. Johnston, Jerry Paccassi, Frances N. Robitaille and Tarrell J. Tipton have all received corporal ranking.

Girls Hired for Singing Telegrams

CLEVELAND, May 16 (AP)—Singing telegrams began coming in contraalto here Thursday.

Western Union hired seven attractive girls to replace boys taken by the draft or gobbled up by defense industries. The company expects to add more later.

The messengerettes, all more than 21 years old, wear ordinary street clothes, and are handling routine delivery messages and singing telegrams, but are not sent farther than downtown office buildings. Boy messengers continue to do outside errands entailing bicycle riding.

Indians learned the practice of scalping from the white man.

AFL LABOR RALLY EXPECTED TO DRAW

Plans were progressing Thursday for the big AFL labor rally scheduled for Sunday night at 7:30 at the Eagles hall to which all basin lumber workers as well as the general public has been invited.

The meeting will follow a conciliatory of Lumber and Sawmill union delegates from surrounding towns which will take place Sunday afternoon.

Scheduled to speak at both gatherings are B. W. Sleeman, northwest representative of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, and Kenneth Davis, executive secretary of the Northwest L & S U council.

Always Disconnect Appliances, Say Fire Underwriters

Ten thousand telephone calls every day are ended with the words, "Good-bye. I've got to go. I smell something burning." Then the housewife rushed out to the kitchen to find that when she answered the telephone, she forgot to disconnect her electric iron which is now burning a hole in her best dress. Or it may be the curling iron searing the woodwork of her dressing table. Or the toaster charring bread. Sometimes she finds she can save the situation, but sometimes she must call the fire department. That is why the National Board of Fire Underwriters, now celebrating its 75th anniversary, receives reports of thousands of fires each year caused by electrical apparatus carelessly used.

Every housewife should form the habit of disconnecting any electrical appliance every time she leaves the room, even for a moment. Because she can never be sure she is leaving only for a moment. She may be delayed. If she makes a habit of disconnecting electrical appliances, the habit may save her life. A child once said "Pies have saved the lives of a great many people by not being swallowed." Electric irons have saved the lives of a great many people by being disconnected.

Have you ever found yourself on a bus, miles from home, wondering if you turned off the toaster? And finally you got so worried that you turned around and went home, just to make sure? Get the disconnecting habit.

BAKER ILL

PORTLAND, May 16 (AP)—Friends said yesterday that George L. Baker, 72, Portland mayor from 1917 to 1923, was seriously ill at his Seaside home. He has suffered from a heart ailment for several years.

PLANS SHAPED UP FOR CANBY VOTE

Emory S. Neal, National Labor Relations board examiner from San Francisco, has arrived in the city in preparation for a board election Friday at the Canby mill of the Big Lakes Box company, it was learned Thursday.

The election, between the AFL and "no-union," will be held for about 100 workers.

Scheduled for next Wednesday, May 21, is an NLRB representation hearing for the Big Lakes Klamath mill.

NOT SO BLOWY

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—"Dopey," Mrs. T. R. James' turtle, is no dope with the ladies.

Three weeks ago he disappeared from the James lawn pool. He was given up for lost until recently when Mrs. James found Dopey in the pool with another turtle on whose back was scratched "Maggie."

Mrs. James doesn't know where Dopey got Maggie but she assumes it must be "Mrs. Dopey" now.

Kitchen Duties Become Vital In National Defense Effort

We must revise our idea that wars are fought only by armies. The kitchen front is vital, too.

There the housewife can be particularly effective. Her job is to keep up morale—that is, she must maintain a safe standard of nutrition for her family, and also co-operate with her neighbors in preventing unjustified increases in food prices.

Those are the opinions of Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the vitally important Bureau of Home Economics in Washington, D. C.

Urges Simple Dishes
The physical efficiency and mental health of all men, women and children in the United States must be maintained if our efforts for national defense are to be effective. Our armed forces fight on their stomachs; so do our un-armed forces. American women must realize fully the urgent need today for a 100 per cent healthy population, and their part in making it healthy, Dr. Stanley believes.

"Women must begin to simplify their housekeeping if defense costs are to be met," she says. "It won't hurt any of us to get down to domestic essentials. Women spend too much time and energy on fancy dishes, 'prettiness,' and complicated meals. That time and money today are needed to keep democracy safe in the world."

Agencies Will Help
Federal and state agencies have prepared marketing, nutrition, diet and cooking material for use of community groups who are working to raise nutrition standards and control food costs in this emergency period.

"Keep up the national morale now—that is the job every American woman must accept," Dr. Stanley states. "Some women must work in offices, schools and factories, of course. But those who do not, face a personal responsibility today, at once, to join local groups working in co-operation with state and federal agencies to maintain a safe standard of living and reasonable commodity costs in this time of grave national emergency."

Menu
BREAKFAST: Stewed rhubarb and strawberries, corn-bread, jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Split pea soup with frankfurter rings, whole-wheat rolls, fruit bowl, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, meat, potato and vegetable casserole, lettuce and tomato salad, ginger bread, lemon sauce, coffee, milk.

FINALIST

TILLAMOOK, May 16 (AP)—Eloise Burdick of Garibaldi high school won the district finals in the state Elk's oratorical contest here yesterday, defeating Keith Dyer of Marshfield.

She will compete in the state finals at Astoria in August.
