

SCHOOLS TOPIC OF DISCUSSION BY VENTURISTS

"Our Schools; their Management and Supervision," was the topic of a recent meeting of the Venture club held at the Willard hotel, attended by 11 members and two advisers.

Dorothy O'Sullivan discussed the advantages of appointed and elected boards with reference to securing qualified members. Selection, qualifications and duties of the superintendent were discussed by Dorothy Teed, and Emma Howard gave an interesting resume of school budgeting.

Adult education, vocational education, federal help and nursery schools were discussed by the group and the information brought out that the local schools are maintaining two nursery schools for children of pre-school age.

Peggy Johnson, an employe of the local schools, talked on the supervision of state and federal governments in connection with education; Dora Foster's topic dealt with proper lighting, heating, ventilation and safety measures; Margaret West, Venture president, discussed certification of teachers and their selection. Hazel Shepherd discussed library facilities, and Dora Cameron told of the proportion of graduates going on to high school and on to college. Beverly Saunders enumerated the most important problems of the town's school system.

The Venturists voted to join with the Sororist club in celebrating the joint anniversaries of the two clubs on June 6, when the guest of honor will be the president of the American Federation of Sororist clubs, Mrs. Jean Bennett.

An invitation is extended by the club to all women of the community to attend the spring tea when Venturists will be hostesses at the garden of Mrs. Rose Poole's home, 400 Conger avenue, Saturday afternoon, May 24.

During the months of June and July, the club will take a vacation from its regular study programs, turning the regular dinner meetings into picnics or outdoor affairs, it was announced.

strike was called after a breakdown in negotiations for adjustment of working conditions and vacations with pay. The union said the strike was in no way related to the current widespread CIO-International Woodworkers' strike in western Washington camps and mills, a walkout which now is before the national defense mediation board.

Approximately 500 members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Klamath Falls, Medford, Lakeview, Bend, Marshfield, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Shasta City, Yreka and Boise attended the district convention in Medford Sunday.

Twenty-three candidates were initiated. These neophytes were from Klamath Falls and Medford. Speakers of the day included D. D. Gillespie, Oregon state president, and Sam Leland, deputy grand worthy president and district auditor.

The Klamath Falls drum corps and auxiliary drum corps participated in a street parade in the afternoon. Later the Klamath corps presented musical numbers on the Jackson county chamber of commerce lawn, and drills were presented by the auxiliary drum corps and the Medford auxiliary drill team. Don Forest, director of the local drum corps, received a trophy for best drum corps and musical selections.

Refreshments and dancing concluded the convention.

Music accompaniment was provided by Stirling Richardson, class pianist.

DRAGGING BRAKES

When well lubricated and with brakes properly adjusted the car should be easy to roll by hand on a level surface, according to the emergency road service department of the Oregon State Motor association. Rolling the car in this manner is a test which will reveal whether the brakes are dragging, a condition which causes low gasoline mileage, or whether there is lack of proper lubrication, which causes rapid wear of moving parts.
