

LOYD COX, 37, HERALD-NEWS PRINTER, DIES

Lloyd Malcolm Cox, 37, assistant foreman of The Herald-News mechanical department, died at his home, 1612 Oregon avenue, at 12:10 p. m. Wednesday following an illness of several months.

Mr. Cox was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Cox with whom he made his home. He was born November 19, 1903, in Merrill and after several years residence there moved to Cottage Grove where the family lived for three years, later returning to Merrill. In 1920, the Cox family moved to Klamath Falls and Loyd attended Klamath Union high school. In 1927, he worked as an apprentice in The Herald-News mechanical department and five years later received his card as a union member.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Cox is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Elsie Cherry, Mrs. Elva M. Harris, Mrs. Eva L. Winkelman, and Mrs. Velma A. Clark, all of this city. Services will be announced later by the Earl Whitlock Funeral home.

Production of motor fuel in 1940 totaled 614,459,000 barrels, against 611,043,000 barrels in 1939.

Axis to Allow French Air Force

VICHY, Unoccupied France, May 28 (AP)—Germany and Italy have relaxed armistice regulations to allow France to build up a continental air force for "defense of her empire," it was disclosed today.

The disclosure was made in connection with a visit by Chief of State Marshal Petain to groups of French bombardment, reconnaissance and pursuit planes at the Aulnat base near Clermont-Ferrand in unoccupied territory.

ities," said the London Evening Star in a full-page editorial headed "America at Action Stations." "They now have their own weapon turned against them." The newspaper pointed out that, while the declaration of war is a prerogative of congress, the president of the United States, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, "can send the ships and the men where he chooses."

In far-off Canberra, Australian Labor Leader John Curtin said "Every Britisher and Australian who is a democrat and lover of freedom... must offer a prayer of gratitude for all the speech says and involves."

are lately inherent in his unique office."

PHILADELPHIA EVENING LEDGER, (Ind.-Rep.)—The hour of decision found American public opinion thoroughly prepared. There was no appreciable sense of shock from anything the president said... It all seems natural, now.

WASHINGTON, D. C., POST (Ind.)—With a full recognition of the "sudden striking force of modern war"... The president last night turned commander-in-chief. He was in the role of a general who has discovered the enemy and must destroy him lest the general himself be destroyed.

PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, (Ind.-Rep.)—President Roosevelt strips the axis' designs of all camouflage. He shows that Nazi progress toward domination of Europe means a present and increasing threat to the new world.

THE DENVER POST (Ind.)—"The president has put this nation upon a war basis. While it may be said we are in a 'state of undeclared war' as congress has not voted any declaration of war, the president left no doubt that so far as he is concerned we already are in the war. He will decide when we are to start shooting. And he made it plain he does not intend to wait until we actually are fired upon before he gives the order to shoot."

Coast Guard Office To Remain Open

Due to the national emergency the United States coast guard recruiting office, located at 202 Klamath Falls Federal building, will be open all day Friday and Saturday.

The coast guard offers ambitious young men, who wish to serve their country, wide opportunity for mental and physical development, and most of all, it offers a livelihood difficult to equal in benefits, according to H. O. Nielsen, recruiting officer.

hemisphere (and aid to embattled Britain) by placing restrictions on export of war supplies to areas outside this continent.

At least seven South and Central American republics already have adopted export control systems of varying degrees, and negotiations inspired by the United States now are in progress among the other republics.

Brazil, Colombia and Cuba, it was said, have set up control systems which closely approximate the export control administration here, requiring licenses for the shipment of arms, munitions and a long list of strategic raw materials and manufactured products.

British Announce 561 Axis Vessels Sunk, Captured

LONDON, May 28 (AP)—Five hundred and sixty-one axis ships totaling 2,873,000 tons have been sunk, captured or scuttled since the war began up to the middle of May, it was learned officially today.

The Germans lost 346 ships totaling 1,773,000 tons, of which 61 were captured or seized and 285 sunk or scuttled.

The Italians lost 215 ships totaling 1,100,000 tons of which 39 were captured or seized and 176 sunk or scuttled.

asked how the newer patrol method was more effective. Mr. Roosevelt said he thought he had explained that last night too, when he noted that additional elements had entered into ocean shipping under wartime conditions. These, he said, are improved submarines, armed raiders, and aircraft.

FREMONT BRIDGE MAY GET SIDEWALK

A sidewalk may be added to Fremont bridge, according to City Engineer Edwin A. Thomas, who has taken the matter up with the state highway commission.

Thomas said state engineers are considering the improvement on the span, which is on a secondary state highway. At present, pedestrians cross the bridge on the auto traffic lane.

City councilmen have indicated that in case a sidewalk is built, it may alter the "No fishing" rule now in effect on the bridge.

Defense Spending Due to Soar Over 31 Billion Mark

300,000,000. Incorporation of the new request in this legislation would greatly expedite congressional consideration.

Legislators said that the total to be paid out by the treasury for defense equipment and materials actually delivered before July 1, 1942—without taking into account orders for subsequent deliveries—was likely to reach $29,400,000,000 previously contemplated by the OPM.

The OPM, it was disclosed in a letter made public by Senator Brewster (R-Me.), has scheduled production activities totaling $19,800,000,000 for the new fiscal year, compared with $9,800,000,000 estimated expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1941.

Employment Man III—C. V. Heath, senior employment officer at the Klamath office of the state employment service, is confined to his home by illness.

Unlimited Emergency Edict Issued by F. R. in Speech vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used and would be used as a base of attack upon the Americas.

"Second, from the point of view of strict naval and military necessity, we shall give every possible assistance to Britain, and to all who, with Britain, are resisting Hitlerism or its equivalent with force of arms.

Our patrols are helping now to insure delivery of the needed supplies to Britain. All additional measures necessary to deliver the goods will be taken. Any and all further methods or combination of methods, which can or shall be utilized, are being devised by our military and naval technicians, who, with me, will work out and put into effect such new and additional safeguards as may be needed."

Draconic Step
The president did not give even a hint that a national emergency would be proclaimed until near the end of his remarks.

It was one of the most drastic short-of-war steps which he could take and it was disclosed immediately after he had warned that work stoppages would not be permitted to hamper the defense effort.

Harmony Urged
The president called upon workers and employers to subordinate their differences for the national good and upon all citizens to place patriotism ahead of personal privilege.

The proclamation has the effect of automatically ending the "business as usual" policy and for the duration of the emergency to submerge all personal aims and ambitions to the requirements of defense.

LIVING PROOF

DES MOINES, Ia., (AP)—A county welfare board recommended denial of a blind pension to a woman applicant who had no documentary proof that she was more than 18 years old, the minimum age requirement.

The state board of social welfare, however, suggested that the proof might be waived.

The women, it seems, has five grand children.

BIDS INVITED ON NORTH ROAD WORK

Further work on The Dalles-California highway relocation job north of Klamath Falls will be contracted for on June 13, according to advance notices sent out by the state highway commission Wednesday.

The new work will include 1.48 miles of grading, 4.39 miles of topping, 5.03 miles of surfacing, and 4.38 miles of paving with bituminous macadam on the Algoma-Terminal City section.

This will carry the construction program to the foot of the Algoma hill, stretching the highway straight across Rabbit flat and Graham marsh.

QUINTS CELEBRATE SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28 (AP)—Canada's five little sweethearts, the vivacious Dionne quintuplets, celebrated today their seventh birthday anniversary.

Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emille and Marie had a mammoth cake to share with members of their immediate family at a party at noon.

Dr. Allan Roy Dafos, who brought the five little girls into the world at a little farmhouse near this northern Ontario town, was recovering at a Toronto hospital from an operation and thus was forced to miss the celebration.

The girls' program for the day included a pontifical mass celebrated by Bishop Leo Nelligan of Pembroke; the presentation of a $27,500 ambulance, bought by them from the Ontario Red Cross society, and a broadcast before retiring in the evening.

Whether the girls will speak in French or English was not known. Their last broadcast on May 11 caused a minor stir in Canada. They had been rehearsed carefully by their government sponsors to speak in English, but stepped up to the microphone and used French. Judge J. A. Valin, chairman of the board of guardians, said he understood Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, the parents, intervened at the last minute and caused the switch to French.

Among the highlight incidents of their lives during the past year the quintos donated $1000 to the Canadian Red Cross, posed for Red Cross posters, received their first holy communion, placed a $20,000 subscription on the books of Canada's second war loan and were given a blessing by Pope Pius XII.

In the 1938 fiscal year, air lines flew approximately 13,400,000 miles per passenger fatality; in the fiscal year 1939 this figure had increased to 18,400,000 miles. In the calendar year 1940, the figure jumped to 32,260,000 miles, or an improvement of 170 per cent over the fiscal year of 1938.
