the types recommended by Germany had appeared in a certain type of newspaper in the United States.

Told by a reporter that there was an impression being spread that Britain had said she could not last more than a few months without increased American aid, the chief executive declared that this never had been said unless it was by Berlin. It did not come, he added, from a responsible source.

A reporter remarked that people would be shocked to hear that Germany was sending orders to this country, and he asked how orders were sent out and how the system operated.

Mr. Roosevelt declined to go into details, because, he said, it might disclose how he got his information. But it does come, he said, from the German propaganda bureau in Berlin.

Mr. Roosevelt, responding to a question, said he could give a virtually complete account of Winant's mission back home from the American embassy in London.

First, he said, the ambassador came to report on 25, maybe 50, major topics and items relating to the conduct of the war by Britain.

Second, he said, Winant came to get information on 25 or 50 topics relating to defense to take back to England.

History of Klamath County Goes to Press This Month

The History of Klamath County has gone to press.

The lengthy job of putting into book form the history manuscript written by Rachel Applegate Good, as well as the large biographical section that required months of preparation, is being printed by a large concern at Berkeley, Calif., that specializes in book printing and binding.

However, with typesetters even now busy on the copy, it is expected to be mid-August or later before the books are ready for distribution, according to word received here, due to the time required for setting the type, proof-reading, printing, binding and seasoning. The latter is a necessary step to produce a secure binding before the books are handled, it is explained.

Public interest in the forthcoming book was revealed by the helpful information volunteered and by the fact that numerous libraries have placed orders for copies, including the state library, University of Oregon.

dishwashers' pay instead of the 50 cents asked by the alliance. The employer group also was against paying an additional 50 cents to split shift workers.

If it had been accepted the compromise would have raised the two scales to $3.20 which employers claim is higher than any other in the state and more than that paid in either Portland or Seattle. Both cities, according to the association, are booming with defense orders.

Requests for the general pay raise were first made by the alliance to all local employers in a letter on May 1. According to G. C. Tatman, secretary and business agent of the alliance, some of the employers returned signed contracts during May but a number of employers refused to sign.

On May 31 the union announced over 20 contracts had been approved and over 15 other employers had indicated they would sign. Eleven houses, Tatman, said, refused to agree. Since then, he stated, the Busy Bee cafe has okayed the new contract.

Tuesday night a meeting of negotiating committees, attended by Mrs. Gertrude Sweet, international vice president of the alliance, was held. It was termed "amicable" by both parties but no agreement was reached.

The association's compromise offer was decided upon Wednesday night and submitted to E. E. Driscoll, union attorney, Thursday morning.

Tatman issued the following statement Friday:
On May 1, 1941, in compliance with the terms of the contract under which local restaurants have been operating, the local mailed out new contracts to each employer giving 30 days notice of the desire of the union for increased pay and some new conditions.

"Many of these contracts were signed and returned to the secretary and not until May 20 was the local advised by H. C. Merryman that some of the employers objected to the new contract. At that time the union retained E. E. Driscoll, who met with Mr. Merryman and five employers and discussed the new contract. After this discussion, the union voted certain concessions asked by the employers and notified Merryman of the fact. Nothing further was heard from the employers until a further meeting was requested by them.

"The executive board of the local was glad to accord the employers this meeting and the same was held in the Pelican cafe on June 3, or three days after the deadline established by the first notice of a new con-

KLUB NEWS
Hello Klub members! Hope you were amongst the many boys and girls that were enjoying themselves at last Saturday morning's meeting at the Esquire Theatre. The young man who led the flag salute was Richard Woodcock. Maybe you will be the one to lead the members in the salute to "Old Glory" this Saturday morning. Each Saturday morning a different member handles this special assignment.

Last week's watermelon contest was even better than the previous contest. This time there were two contests. One for the boys and one for the girls. Those taking part in the contest for the boys were: Bob Steinsiefer (the winner), Hugo Lanouette, Bud Martin and Gerald Harrell. Those who participated in the contest for the girls were: Maudie Jane Thompson (the winner) Cherry Jo Hanson, Lorene and Colleen Lynch. Between the contests Emile Buzaid was caught eating a whole half of a watermelon! The last that we saw of Emile he was picking watermelon seeds out of his hair with a pair of tweezers!

This Saturday morning Klub members will have the opportunity of taking part in a special "Buried Treasure" contest. This is something new and should prove to be a lot of fun. Emile Buzaid will be at the Esquire Theatre Saturday morning to play the songs you like to sing.

CANDY TREAT!
The LOST RIVER DAIRY will present every boy and girl attending this week's meeting a special candy treat!
