Visitors—Rev. Roy Southard, accompanied by Mrs. Southard and daughter, Patty, spent the forepart of the week in Klamath Falls visiting Rev. Southard's sister, Veril, and father, S. F. Southard of Eugene. Mr. and Mrs. Southard and children have spent most of the time in Des Moines, Ia., since leaving this city where he served as pastor of the Klamath temple. Their young son remained in the east with friends. The family has visited various branches of the church in the east and attended conferences. On Monday the Southards left for Lodi, Calif., to attend the Pacific Coast Church conference after which they will return to Klamath Falls. Rev. Southard will speak at the 11 a. m. services at the Klamath temple this Sunday, June 22. They will then go to Eugene to spend some time visiting Rev. Southard's parents, returning from there to Des Moines. Patty will remain in Eugene visiting her grandparents during the summer months.

At Conference—Rev. Victor Phillips, minister of the First Methodist church, left by automobile Wednesday morning to be in attendance at the annual conference of the Methodist church for the state of Oregon which meets at First Methodist church, Eugene, Wednesday through Sunday. Mrs. R. P. Ellingson is the lay delegate and Mrs. George Casper, alternate lay delegate. Mrs. Paul Edwards will also attend the conference as a state officer of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

In Arabia—F. W. "Ezra" Meeker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Meeker of 2205 Eberlein street, will not return in the near future from his post with the California-Arabian Standard Oil company in Saudi Arabia, according to word received here. Young Meeker had written his parents he hoped to visit Klamath Falls this summer, but developments in that section have made it impossible for him to leave.

In Seattle—Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ekstrom, former Klamath Falls residents, that they are now located in Seattle, Wash., where Ekstrom has accepted employment at the U. S. naval air base. Ekstrom was field supervisor for the AAA office in the Federal building before leaving here several weeks ago.

Committee—Members of Klamath Buckaroo Days committee will meet Friday night at headquarters located at 815 South Sixth street, at which time final details for the queen's ball and rodeo will be discussed. President O. D. Matthews will preside.

Instructing at Camp—Lettie Stewart, daughter of Myra Cain Stewart, commenced her duties Thursday as counselor in charge of swimming at Camp Namamu, 35 miles east of Portland, near Sandy, which is recognized as the outstanding Camp Fire Girls camp in the United States. About 200 girls will be at the camp for a two months' period and will start arriving June 22. Miss Stewart, a student at Oregon State college, will remain at camp until July 19, when she returns here to take charge of swimming as a counselor at Camp Esther Applegate at Lake of the Woods for the Girl Scouts and Camp Fire girls during July and August. Steve Stewart accompanied his sister to Portland and is expected home this weekend after spending several days there.

Attend Wedding—Mr. and Mrs. Hollo C. Groesbeck left Thursday morning by motor for San Luis Obispo, Calif., where they will attend the wedding of their son, Stewart Groesbeck, and Florence Martin of Walla Walla, Wash., to be solemnized on Friday. Stewart Groesbeck, who is a member of one of Klamath's best known families, is a junior engineer in the California state highway department.

Visitors—Harry Schenk, secretary of the Oregon National Publishing association, visited briefly in Klamath Falls Wednesday from his home in Eugene. Schenk is also an instructor at the University of Oregon. He was accompanied here by Jack Bladine of McMinnville, vice president of the ONPA. Both were en route to Medford where they will transact business before returning north.

Returns—Fred E. Gordon, Malin farmer, has returned to his home after spending a short time in his former home at Menlo Park, Calif. Mrs. Gordon, who teaches in the California city, and their daughter, Jane, and son, Teddy, returned to Malin with Gordon to spend the summer months.

To Kansas—Mr. and Mrs. Berford Hyatt left by motor Saturday evening for their former home in Kansas where they will visit relatives and friends for several weeks. Mrs. Hyatt is employed in the local AAA office in the Federal building.

From Eugene—Walter Klundt, FDA specialist of the farm security administration, is spending two days in Klamath Falls from his headquarters in Eugene.

Return Home—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner have returned from San Francisco where they spent the past week.

From North—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gross have returned to Klamath Falls from a visit in the north. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Gross' niece and nephew who live in Portland and will spend part of the summer here. Gross is in charge of the Klamath county experiment station and was in Corvallis to accompany other representatives of the extension department on an emergency tour. They ended the tour near Astoria, Mrs. Gross' former home, and visited with relatives for a short time in that vicinity.

Dies in Chicago—Word was received in Klamath Falls Wednesday telling of the death of R. K. Eaton, 59, at 11 a. m. that day. Mr. Eaton was owner of the Eaton Lumber company and a frequent visitor to the west coast where he was well known among the lumbermen, especially in Klamath county. Mr. Eaton was related to Percy Evans of this city.

In Los Angeles—Harry D. Boivin, local attorney, left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles where he will spend a week on business. He will visit in San Jose with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boivin, before returning to Klamath Falls.

Visitors—Mrs. Bennett Terry and daughter, Betty Lou Sea, will know residents of Grass Valley, Calif., spent four days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Louis Williams, 339 Alameda, en route to Tacoma, Wash.

Visit Coast—Jo Ann and Sonny Meek, children of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Meek of this city, are spending a part of the summer visiting their grandparents on the Oregon coast.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or noisy passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disease of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Return Home—Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Campbell and children have returned home to Sacramento after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Rohr, 2211 White avenue. Mrs. Rohr and Campbell are sister and brother.

STATE GRANGE TO INVEST IN SAVINGS BONDS

NEWPORT, June 19 (AP)—Delegates to the 68th convention of the Oregon state grange authorized its state executive committee to invest $1000 of grange funds in federal savings certificates last night. The grangers also passed resolutions opposing repeal of the oleomargarine tax, opposing the Oregon produce law, favoring placing farmers under the social security act and favoring more liberal production quotas. The delegates also endorsed establishment of a Columbia river power authority, asked correction of conditions in the state hospital at Salem, suggested establishment of a separate state penal institution for first offenders and asked congress to reassert its control over money valuation.

NEWPORT, Ore., June 19 (Special)—Fifteen voting delegates of Klamath county were present at the state grange convention which opened here on June 16. Delegates from the different granges throughout Klamath county were as follows: R. H. and Mae Anderson of the Klamath County Paroma, Theodore and Emma Flackus of the Hildebrand grange, J. V. and Mrs. E. L. La Clair of the Malin grange.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Webber of Poe Valley grange, Charlie Mollenhour of Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hall of Bly, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Largent of Midland grange, and M. J. and Lucille Barnes of Lost River grange. At this meeting the delegates were privileged to hear talks from the high ranking men of the state such as Gov. Charles A. Sprague, Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Oregonian of Portland, and State Master Ray W. Gill. Business meetings and initiations took up a good share of the convention.

NEW FEATURES ON SLATE FOR QUEEN'S BALL

A number of interesting new features will be introduced at the annual queen's ball Saturday night when one of six Klamath basin girls will be named queen of Klamath Buckaroo Days. This was the decision made Wednesday night at a meeting of the chaperones, the master of ceremonies, Lynn Roycroft, and O. D. Matthews, president of Klamath Buckaroo Days. The dance, to be held in the armory, will be open to the public. At promptly 11 o'clock the girls will be introduced and a group of prominent persons, serving as judges, will score them on poise and personality. The girl will be crowned by

Matthews and presented her prize of a complete white buckskin riding outfit. Members of the Sheriff's posse, in full regalia, will be at the dance and assist during the evening. Chaperones, planning entertainment for the girls during the next six weeks, are Florence Shirr and Maxine Cameron.

Thief Makes Off With Exam Papers

TACOMA, June 18 (AP)—A disappointed sneak thief is probably wondering today what to do with the 60 "blue books," or final examination papers, he took last night from the car of Robert Goodwin, member of the University of Washington faculty. Goodwin reported to police the papers had not yet been graded. He said the thief also took the auto's gear shift handle.
