POLICE PLOT 'WAR' ON UNRULY DRIVERS

City police are declaring a little private war of their own and admit they have all the preparation needed for the coming conflict.

The war is on unruly motorists within the city limits. Patience of two officers was exhausted Friday night when they arrested Lona Louise Jarrard, 615 Prescott street, and charged her with violation of the basic rule and failure to give right of way at the sound of the siren. It seems that the woman driver was traveling at an excessive rate of speed along Oregon avenue and disregarded the siren's signal to stop. The officers finally forced the woman's car to the curb. She was fined $10 on the first charge, and $10, which was suspended, on the second.

Youths Hike From Mt. Hood To Crater On Skyline Trail

CRATER LAKE—The honor of being the first this season to travel over the famous Oregon skyline trail goes to five Grant high school boys of Portland. They arrived here at Crater lake on June 19 after starting their hike on June 7. The boys were George Walker, Frank Smith, Norman Von Borstel, Larry Kramer and Dick Savinar.

Their parents drove them to Breitenbush lake, and from there they started on the trail. They averaged 15 miles a day, and their complete hike totaled 200 miles. Their only pack was a bed roll for each, and food. Instead of carrying a complete stack of food for the whole trip, they had food sent from Portland to Elk lake and Crescent lake and picked it up from those points on their way.

The group said the weather was fine up to the last two days. Their only dislike of the trip were lots of mosquitoes and no luck fishing.

Their nights on the hike were spent in forest service camp grounds, and they spent their last night at Crater lake. They left here early Friday and were to hitch-hike to their homes in Portland. They planned to be there Saturday.

The famous Oregon skyline trail runs along the summit of the Cascade mountains from Mount Hood to Crater lake. The complete trail is 300 miles long. It is an ideal hiking trip, and is traveled by hundreds every season.

HEARING-ON SPUD CONTROL SET HERE

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—A hearing on an agreement which would keep surplus, low-grade Irish potatoes off the market will be held at Klamath Falls July 10.

Similar hearings are scheduled for Washington, Nebraska and Wyoming.

The Klamath Falls hearing will be for Deschutes, Crook and Klamath counties, Ore., and Modoc and Siskiyou counties, Calif., all of which would be affected by the program. Potato growing areas of Malheur county, Ore., and Idaho may participate.

Plans for a referendum will be made after the hearings.

Quebec province, Canada, produced a potato crop valued at $10,827,000 in 1939.

SUB DISASTERS LISTED FROM 1904

By United Press
Accidents involving United States submarines have taken 150 lives since 1904, the greatest loss of life occurring in the ramming of the S-4 off Provincetown, Mass., in 1927, when 40 died, and the most recent being the sinking of the USS Squalus, with a loss of 26 lives.

The greatest peacetime submarine disaster was that of the British Submersible, HMS Thetis, which sank in Liverpool bay on June 1, 1939, with a loss of 99 lives.

Submarine accidents of all nations have killed more than 800 persons. Those involving United States craft included:

F-4, Feb. 25, 1915—Off Honolulu, 22 lives.
F-1, Dec. 17, 1917—Rammed in fog off San Diego by F-3, 19 killed.
O-2, July 30, 1919—Sank at mooring, New London, Conn., 3 killed.

H-1, May 12, 1920—Aground on lower California coast, 2 dead.

E-6, Sept. 29, 1921—Sank at mooring, two killed.

O-5, Oct. 28, 1923—Rammed and sunk in Limon Bay, Panama, 3 dead.

S-51, Sept. 26, 1925—Rammed by SS City of Rome off Block Island, R. I., 33 killed.

S-4, Dec. 19, 1927—Rammed off Provincetown, Mass., by destroyer Paulding, 40 dead.

USS Squalus, May 23, 1939—Sank in practice dive off New Hampshire, 26 dead.

SERIOUS TRAINING

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., (AP)—Young Junior Moon hopes to win the midwestern marbles championship, but his sponsors, members of the local Lions' club, are worrying about his chances. They are afraid Junior might overtrain.

His practice schedule—four hours every morning, four hours every afternoon, seven days a week.

Of 38 aircraft companies building for defense, all major companies except four which were unreported spent $63,250,000 on development, or 79 per cent of total profits. Combined development and expansion costs were $140,050,000, or 76 per cent more than total profits.

KLAMATH FILLS HALF OF QUOTA FOR USO DRIVE

Klamath Falls had advanced half way along the goal of $2000 which this city will raise toward the United Service Organizations fund, according to Rev. L. K. Johnson, chairman of the local USO committee.

At noon Saturday close to $1000 of the needed $2000, had been banked and contributions continued to be received by committee members.

The USO fund is gradually swelling throughout the state, Johnson stated. In Jefferson county the quota was subscribed 100 per cent by a committee of women, and in Dallas the quota was over-subscribed. A total of 310 employees of the Willamette Valley Lumber company subscribed 100 per cent and reports from Union county showed the quota raised.

In various cities throughout the state the needed quota was obtained within one day's time.

Rev. Johnson asked residents of the county to remember that the boys in the army are not "the fellows who started this emergency, they are merely the victims and surely entitled to our support." Contributions, no matter how large or small, are gladly received by the committee.

Donations to the USO fund may be left at Klamath county chamber of commerce, the United States National bank, or with members of the committee.

GUARD OUR RIGHTS, ASSERTS DOUGLAS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21 (AP)—Americans must guard their constitutional rights in a world "infected by revolutionary forces," William O. Douglas, justice of the U. S. supreme court told members of the Commonwealth club Friday.

"We know from experience of other peoples that what started out as a suppression of an unpopular minority swings easily to persecution on the right and on the left," Douglas said. "The time is here to utilize vigorously our constitutional rights so as to preach and practice incessantly the truths of democracy."

Douglas came here from Washington to attend the annual district conference of federal jurists.

Oregon Trapshoot Starts at Seaside

SEASIDE, June 21 (AP)—Scattergun experts began firing in singles and doubles competition at the annual Oregon trapshoot championships here today. Opening day shooting saw Vic Plath, Bend, break 196 of 200 birds to win the division title. One bird behind Plath were Jess Troeth, Eugene, and S. G. Mendenhall, Grants Pass. Glen Bradley, Pendleton, smashed 193 discs to win in class 8. Maurice Ray, Coquille, scored 186 to top class C.

BODY FOUND

MARSHFIELD, June 21 (AP)—The body of Wallace Brown, 15, who jumped into Coos bay after a boat which had drifted from shore, was recovered Thursday by coast guardsmen.

When one of the 2000 teeth of the dinosaur trachodon fell out, another grew in its place.

Rev. L. K. Johnson

JOHNSON CONFIDENT IN USO CAMPAIGN

L. K. Johnson, chairman of the USO drive reports he is confident Klamath's quota of $2000 will be reached. However, he said, the public could respond a little more readily.

"A national emergency exists," said Johnson. "Our boys are willing to give everything for defense of America, we who are being protected should voluntarily give a little that they may enjoy home comforts at camp."

"The USO chairman of Indiana has figured out that the amount requested from that state represent $5.67 for each man called to service. That isn't so much to add to the comfort, satisfaction and morale of men who go from their homes, mostly at $21.00 per month."

Mechanical Trouble Halts Snow Removal On Park Highway

Mechanical trouble on one of Crater Lake National park's big rotary plows has halted snow removal work on the Crater-Diamond lake road, according to park officials Saturday.

The road is passable a short way beyond the Watchman, three miles to the north and west of the rim village but is blocked tightly at that point. All other roads are open and passable.

Park officials said the average park snow depth is greater this year than in 1940 and predict the Diamond lake road will not be open until July 4.

HUNDREDS ATTEND WALTON FUNERAL

Several hundred sorrowing friends gathered in the First Methodist church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to pay tribute to the memory of George J. Walton, well known Klamath Falls businessman who died suddenly Tuesday after 30 years residence in this city. The Rev. Victor Phillips officiated at the services.

Scores of beautiful floral offerings banked the casket on which was placed Mr. Walton's Knights Templar capeau, symbol of his many years of work and devotion in the Masonic lodge. In attendance were Knights Templars in full dress, including Grand Commander of the State of Oregon O. B. Noye of Hood River, and Judge Arthur D. Hay of Lakeview, grand master of the Masonic lodge of the state of Oregon.

Many Masons accompanied the remains to Yreka where a full Masonic funeral under the direction of the Yreka lodge was held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. It was in that lodge that Mr. Walton took his first degree at the age of 21, and he had frequently visited there since moving to Klamath Falls. Burial took place in the family plot.
