field, Rumford office worker. A sixth body, found on Orr's island, was identified as that of Earl Decker, of Rumford. The seventh body found was that of Captain Paul Johnson, of East Harpswell, skipper of the craft. Fishermen came upon his body, a white keg lashed under his arms, afloat near Bailey island.

Other bodies recovered and identified included: Miss Marie Coulombe, of Rumford.

The bodies were laid out on rough fish wharf before being removed to a Brunswick funeral home.

Wrist watches on two of the women had stopped at the same minute—11:40. Whether the tragedy had occurred Sunday night, Monday morning or Monday night, authorities were not able to determine immediately.

The Don, with 15 women and 20 men and boys and Capt. Johnson aboard had set out Sunday morning for Monhegan island. Searchers learned that the boat arrived there and departed again at 3:30 p. m. for what ordinarily would be a four hour run.

Before the boat reached home, however, a dense fog settled over the area. It was of the type known locally as "dungeon fog" and visibility was zero.

Even today, as a fleet of boats nosed through the rocky waters in search of more bodies or some physical trace of the missing cabin cruiser, Smith reported it was so foggy in lower Casco bay that it was difficult to see more than a few feet.

Whether the Don put in to a harbor or dropped anchor Sunday night to wait out the fog, meeting with accident later, or whether she sank while trying to come immediately to her home landing, was a matter of speculation.

A systematic search started Monday morning. Seek Man — The city police department has been asked to locate Andy Thomas of Salida, Calif., thought to be in this vicinity. Thomas should get in touch with the local officers. Word from Salida said there is illness in the family.

MRS. KIMMEL DIES AT CHILOQUIN HOME

Mrs. William J. (Lenora) Kimmel, for 30 years a resident of Klamath Falls and for the past few months making her home in Chiloquin, died Tuesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. L. Miller, following an illness of the past eight weeks.

Mrs. Kimmel was 70 years of age at the time of her death. She was well known to those who patronized a business, Lee's Donut Shop, on Main street which she and her husband operated for a number of years. They had recently been in business in Chiloquin.

Funeral notice will be announced later by the Earl Whitlock Funeral home.

Package Found — A large package was found in the downtown district by city police, the bundle addressed to Mrs. Irving Dunn. She may have the package by calling at the police station, officers said.

CHANGE MADE IN WELFARE STAFF POST

The county welfare commission at a meeting Tuesday approved the employment of Mary Ellen Foley as child welfare consultant, to succeed Mary Carol Jones. Miss Jones, it was announced, has accepted a similar position in Clackamas county and has already taken over her work there.

Miss Foley is a graduate of the University of Oregon and attended the social service school at the University of Chicago. She has been in social service work for seven years. It is expected she will take over the work here by August 15.

The commission approved a budget of about $14,000 for the welfare work in August.

Altha Urquhart, welfare administrator, stated the agency had not given assistance to any employable persons in June, indicating that local and defense industry are giving work to all employables.

shooting, which he witnessed, in an interview here late Monday.

The elder Jackson said he, Nathaniel and Boyd Jr., returned Sunday night from Reno where Boyd had been married. After some discussion of various family matters, Boyd left and Boyd Sr., and Nathaniel sat in a car at Nathaniel's place, talking.

No Quarrel

The father said that Boyd then returned, went into the house, got a rifle, came out and without apparent provocation began shooting. He said there had been no quarrel. Two bullets took effect on Nathaniel. The father said he himself barely missed being struck. He said he got out of the car and advanced toward Boyd Jr.

About that time, he stated, his wife, young Boyd's wife, and Jonathan came out of the house. It was then that Jonathan, grief-stricken over the attack on his brother, struck Boyd several times.

The elder Jackson said he did not hit Boyd. He put Nathaniel in a car and drove to the Agency, but the wounded man had died when the hospital was reached.

11 METAL SCHOOL GRADUATES HIRED

Eleven Klamath county youths, first graduates of the local aviation sheet metal school, have left here for southern California and will report for work Wednesday, July 2, at the Lockheed Aircraft company plant in Burbank, it was announced Tuesday.

The school, jointly sponsored by the national youth administration and Oregon state board for vocational education, opened day and night classes in Klamath Union high school quarters eight weeks ago. All eleven boys completed the 12-week course in eight weeks.

Over 50 youths are enrolled in the school which holds day and night classes in the basement of the high school gymnasium. Instruction is given by John Carothers of Salem and Francis Savage of Klamath Falls.

USRS Engineer To Confer Here

Joseph Jacobs, consulting engineer for the United States bureau of reclamation, is expected here Wednesday from headquarters in Seattle, for a conference of several days with B. E. Hayden, superintendent of the Klamath project.

Jacobs will make his annual inspection trip to both Gerber and Clear lake dams, accompanied by Hayden, it was learned.

porter described the entry of Nazi troops into Mitau, 60 miles to the southeast, but the high command said of the thrust along the Baltic toward Leningrad only that the Dvina river had been crossed at many points.

In bitter all-night fighting, Russia's troops declared today they had checked the advance of German invasion forces at two main sectors of the 2000-mile battlefield—in the Minsk-Brobrusk and Luck areas—where the Nazis are striking directly toward Moscow and the Soviet Ukraine.

The Germans, by contrast, asserted that two Nazi tank columns "now are far east of Minsk," capital of White Russia, and that German schnelle truppen (speed troops) were in sight of Smolensk, 250 miles from Moscow.

French Volunteers

France's off-stage role in the 10-day-old struggle moved nearer the actual fighting with a statement by the Vichy French government that it had "no objection" to French volunteers fighting alongside their former enemies, the Germans.

Only yesterday France broke off diplomatic relations with Russia.

Rome radio said Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini decided on "the war against Moscow and the destruction of the red army" at their latest Brenner Pass meeting, June 2.

A Berlin radio broadcast said German Bavarian Alpine troops, in violent action at Lwow, former Poland, had destroyed 100 Soviet tanks with hand grenades. A Russian communique tersely sketched the huge-scale conflict as follows:

"In the Minsk and Brobrusk directions, our troops fought all night against superior enemy forces, successfully counteracting their attempts to thrust toward the east. Infantry, artillery, tanks and the air force participated in the fighting."

Minsk lies 200 miles inside the old Soviet frontier. Brobrusk is about 90 miles southeast of Minsk.

The communique also declared that the red army had stemmed the Nazi onslaught toward the Ukraine, counter-attacking and destroying German tanks.

ASSISTANT AGENT CALLED TO ARMY

The national defense program took the third young man from the ranks of the farm program here with the departure of Walter Jendrzewski, assistant Klamath county agricultural agent, Tuesday morning for Camp Lewis, Jendrzewski, who has served for three years under County Agent C. A. Henderson, was to report late Tuesday as a second lieutenant in the reserves.

Phil Exstrom, chief supervisor of the Triple A program, left earlier in the year for Seattle where he is stationed as a radio engineer with the civil service. Wayne Cook, in charge of weed control operations here, was the first to leave with an early call for reserve officers.

House Considers Taxes to Raise Defense Money

"sticker" receipts for the auto tax might be sold through post-offices.

Another committee recommendation likely to affect a broad section of the population was that a five per cent tax be imposed on all passenger transportation fares over 35 cents whether by rail, water, air or bus.

The yield from the new excise levies, plus returns from increases previously recommended in individual income, corporation, excess profits, estate and gift taxes, would account for approximately $3,315,000,000 of the revenue sought.

Apart from the use tax on automobiles, yachts and airplanes, the committee tentatively recommended a seven per cent excise tax on the sale price of new automobiles which the treasury estimated would produce about $79,900,000. It was contended the tax also would help to reduce competition for the decreased output of pleasure cars and thus help offset inflationary effects of the defense spending program.
