LEGIONNAIRES BRING PRIZES FROM EUGENE

Clem C. Clarke

Legionnaires, 40 & 8's and their wives returned home Wednesday night from Eugene after attending what they described as one of the most enjoyable of American Legion conventions.

As there was no competition this year among senior drum corps, Klamath's state champion drum corps still retains its title and made a colorful showing both in the huge street parade and by giving an exhibition drill before a capacity crowd at the civic stadium. The corps was led by Drum Majorettes Dale and Gale Motley and Drum Major Carl K. Cook. Gale Motley won second prize in the drum majorette contest.

Although the local drum corps members have not practiced very much in the past months, they proved to the enthusiastic convention crowd, that they could still march and handle the bugles and drums like veterans.

Paul Bunyan Volture No. 222 of the Local 40 & 8 won first prize for having the best stunt in the 40 & 8 parade Monday night. The stunt consisted of a large replica of Paul Bunyan painted on plywood and carried by two voyagers. Following Paul were his large tooth pick, the key to Paul's strong box, Paul's big axe, his snow shoes and a chunk of Paul's "chawin' terbacca" made of 19-ply plywood.
