

FARMERS BEAT WHEAT CROP RAIL EMBARGO

By LEO BRANHAM

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—Railroads clamped an embargo on wheat shipped to Kansas City elevators for storage, but that didn't stump Kansas and Missouri farmers.

They hauled out carpenter tools and constructed hundreds of new bins and renovated old farm buildings. With cash market and government loan prices flitting with dollar-plus figures, they refused to chance weather loss by dumping valuable grain on the ground.

With the 1941 winter harvest virtually completed, a survey disclosed today that with the exception of the Garden City, Kas., area, where a small amount was so stored, no wheat was piled on the ground in Kansas this year.

Although a majority of public elevators are nearly filled, the survey showed an acute storage problem virtually nonexistent in the two states. Besides the farmers' own bins, a small but constant movement of wheat into consumptive channels and a disappointing yield in some areas has helped the storage situation.

Railroads, mindful of defense program needs and wary of tying up their cars with wheat, placed the embargo in effect July 14. Receipts at Kansas City immediately dropped to less than 500 cars a day from a daily run of between 1000 and 2000 cars. Yesterday only 151 cars were received.

Grain stored in Kansas City public elevators yesterday totaled 42,216,918 bushels. Wheat comprised 39,758,802 bushels of that amount.

Total elevator capacity is around 45,280,000 bushels.

Trade observers expected the embargo to force farmers to sell more wheat on the open market. But farmers are holding on to most of their grain, waiting for higher cash prices or for approved storage facilities so they can obtain government loans.

The loan rate for the Kansas City area is $1.10 a bushel. Cash prices here yesterday were $1.06 a bushel for No. 2 ordinary wheat, the basic grade.

The yield in many Kansas and Missouri districts was disappointing still. Although the Kansas crop still is expected to be far above 1940 production figures, indications are that the government's August crop report, due Monday, will show a red reduction from its July 1 prediction of around 182,000,000 bushels for Kansas and 18,000,000 bushels for Missouri. Kansas produced 124,000,000 bushels of wheat last year and Missouri 56,000,000 bushels.

Veteran of Two War Rejections SIGNALS FOR DEFENSE

ALBANY, Aug. 11 (AP)—J. I. Applegate was a little too young to get into the Civil war; he had too many dependents to fight in the Spanish-American and World wars, but he is foot-loose now and would like to find out some way to enlist in military service, he told registrars when he appeared to sign up with the Linn county civilian defense service.

Mr. Applegate gave his age as 32.

"Well, I haven't been feeling so well lately," he replied when asked as to the state of his health. As to his eyesight, he suggested "I guess you had better write 'dim'." Neither is his hearing so good any more, his wife tells him.

Mr. Applegate's only qualifications for service aside from farming experience were his ownership of a .22 calibre rifle and his ability "to shoot it if I had to," he said.

They Had a Good Time at Camp Esther Applegate

Girls Have Happy Time At Camp Esther Applegate

(Editor's Note: The following story was prepared by the Girl Scout Camp Committee and Council as a review of the operation of Camp Esther Applegate at Lake o' the Woods this year.)

Camp Esther Applegate was open to Girl Scouts from July 20 to August 3. This was a record year for camp in that 83 different girls attended. There were 58 girls the first week, some of whom remained the second week in which there were 63 registered. This was the largest enrollment of any year.

The personnel in charge were very capable. This was Mrs. Mary Davis' third year as director, Olanne Dykeman as director, and Esther Kiehlmeier as camp nurse. These three were the only leaders who received compensation for their services. Those who donated their services were Nancy Savage, Hazel Morrison, Lois and Patricia North, Marie Reginato, La Vine Kenschot, Lettie Stewart and Helen Radcliffe.

All except three members of the local council spent some time at camp, either visiting or working. The local council consists of 15 women and three men. The men are George Sample, camp business manager; Vern Owens and J. Fred Flock, members of the board of governors who were in charge of improvements before the opening of camp.

Through contributions of local men 13 girls were sent to camp who otherwise could not have gone. Many of them and individuals donated or loaned equipment and food items. A piano, boat and food were given and a telescope was loaned, also numerous other items.

A great deal of interest was shown in the activities, some of which were horseback riding, swimming, boating, dramatics and handicraft. All girls were taught flag etiquette.

New mattresses were purchased, showers installed, the units enlarged.

The camp committee and council are grateful to all those who contributed to the success of the camp. Later there will be announcements of when color films depicting the activities at camp this season may be viewed. Anyone interested in seeing these will be welcome to attend, or groups who desire to see them at meetings may inquire of the local council. A list of all girls who attended Camp Esther Applegate in 1941 follows:

Puerto Rican Girls Given Names of 'Peace,' 'Liberty'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Canada can look for Peace this summer, but Liberty will stay in New York.

Peace and Liberty, by the way, are two of the eight grandly named daughters of former resident commissioner, Santiago Iglesias, of Puerto Rico.

The two girls disclosed today that they had decided to devote their vacations this year to spreading the spirit of peace and liberty in the hemisphere—Peace fostering the spirit of peace, and Liberty doing the same for liberty.

The idea seemed so good that their six sisters—Equality, Fraternity, Justice, Light, America and Victory—chimed in with the announcement that they, too, would undertake similar missions on their vacations and seek to spread the ideals which inspired their names.

Peace is going to Canada, she said, with the hope of bringing peace to the British empire.

Liberty is going to New York to climb the statue of Liberty, among other things. She said she had not seen the statue since she came here from Puerto Rico fifteen years ago.

Equality and Justice have chosen Salt Lake City, Utah.

America may be found visiting in California.

Light said she was going to get some sunshine on a beach in North Carolina.

Fraternity and Victory, both residents of Puerto Rico, have written their sisters that they intend to visit the mainland for their vacations.

SOS RECEIVED FROM BRITAIN FOR CLOTHING

The local unit of Bundles for Britain has received an SOS from across the seas through the New York City office of the organization.

To quote from a letter received here this week from the Portland chapter, "New York has notified us that 1,000,000 official knitted garments are needed for shipment to Great Britain this autumn. This necessity means renewed and concentrated efforts on our part."

Women who have faithfully knit garments for Bundles for Britain are urged to keep on with their efforts and to get others to join in the work, especially those who have not been included in the worker list of the organization. Yarn may be obtained from the office of Ida B. Monyer Odell on Eighth street, just off Main, along with instructions for the various garments needed. Yarn may be purchased at 45 cents per hank, and those wishing added instruction may learn where this is available through Mrs. Odell's office.

Persons having old clothes in good condition and if possible, clean, should send the garments to the Christian Science war relief committee through Mrs. M. E. Cooper, 1962 Melrose street. Members of the group have workrooms in Mrs. Cooper's home and much good has been accomplished by this organization. It was advised that shoes are not needed unless they are flat heeled and in excellent condition.

Mrs. Sanford Cartwright of Fort Jones, was a house guest over the weekend of Mrs. Rosemary Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tolbert have purchased the Don Gordon home on Fourth street and will move in as soon as the Gordons have moved to the Irving Richardson home which they purchased this past week. Mrs. Richardson is moving to Klamath Falls where her son and husband are working.

McNary Planning Highway Measure

PORTLAND, Aug. 11 (AP)—Oregon will get more highway funds under a bill he is planning than under one recently vetoed by President Roosevelt, Senator McNary said before he flew to Washington D. C., Sunday.

McNary said the president vetoed the bill because funds were allocated on population basis rather than military need.

The substitute bill would be based on strategic highway requirements.

in other words
by JOHN CLINTON
Jack Smock and I ride into town nearly every day, except when Mrs. S. or Mrs. C. want our cars, which leaves us riding the bus only 4 days a week!

Anyway, I started to say: At a certain point as we drive up the canyon road, the old Hispano-Plymouth can't quite make it without a ping or two. (Neither could you at its ripe age!)

And just to devil Smock, who writes advertising for Union Oil, I said: "Hub, New 76 is hot stuff in traffic, but no good on hills, eh?" Golly, you could have heard him 3 miles. So he got out and drove a stick in the ground at the point where the ping started.

Then, for the next 3 or 4 weeks, Jack insisted on my buying every kind of gas you could think of. And each time, he'd measure the distance from the bottom of the hill to where the ping started. And, in spite of the fact that New 76 is designed primarily for traffic driving, only one other kind of gas came anywhere near being as good as New 76—at least in the Hispano-P!

So, the moral, if you have to have one, is threefold—1st, you should never twist Smock about 76; 2nd, you should try New 76 in your own car, and 3rd, I gotta get a new Hispano-P. P.S. Wait till your tank's nearly empty before you try New 76 on account of then you'll feel the full power of it away.
