SPUD PICKERS' CAMP PLANNED AT TULELAKE

TULELAKE — Representatives of the farm security administration and the California state employment service visited Tulelake Tuesday and Wednesday in the interest of establishment of the camp for potato harvesters and opening of the local employment office.

The transient camp, to be operated this year through Oregon channels, will be established just south of the new addition and will be ready to occupy September 15. Water will be pumped to the camp sight from the city well.

Camps throughout the harvest areas of Oregon, according to the advance agent, are all full and it is expected that the local camp will be filled to capacity. Accommodations will be available for 150 families.

Location of the proposed employment office has not been decided upon.

WARNING SOUNDED AGAINST RATTLERS

BLY—A warning has been issued to those who frequent the woods and hills, that during "dog days" one should be on the lookout for rattlesnakes. During this season the snake is changing his skin and is practically blind, according to a forest service employe who has had years of experience in this area.

If some person or animal passes too near the snake's habitat he does not take the trouble to warn as at other times of the year. He just strikes and rattles afterward. An incident of this nature occurred last week. A man on inspection duty in this area was bothered all day by what he thought was a burr inside his boot top. On arrival at home he discovered that a rattler had struck at him about a half inch below the boot. The marks of the fangs were visible and infection had set in. The fact that the venom had been checked by the heavy leather no doubt saved his life.

New Dine-Dance Building to Rise At State Line

TULELAKE — Work will get under way this week on a modern "dine and dance" establishment to be constructed by William Seigler, formerly proprietor of the Homestead card room and bar.

The new business will be located on the Siskiyou side of the line on the Canby-Hatfield highway one-half mile east of Tulelake and when finished will be one of the most modern entertainment establishments in northern California.

J. T. Groper, Tulelake contractor, will be in charge. No announcement was made as to construction costs or the probable opening date.

LAKE FAIR BOARD ADDS BUILDINGS

LAKEVIEW—Two new stock sheds, each 26 feet by 128 feet, and a new exhibit building, 52 feet by 60 feet, will be completed this week at the Lakeview Round-up grounds, according to Ernest Fettsch, member of the Lakeview fair board. These buildings will be used for agriculture and stock exhibits. The board has offered a cup for the outstanding community exhibit.

A four-inch water main is being laid from the city limits to the fairgrounds.

TULELAKE SCHOOL TEACHERS NAMED

TULELAKE — One teacher remains to be given a contract for the coming school term in the Tulelake elementary school, according to Jerome Keefer, principal. The vacancy exists in the seventh grade. The position was filled at the close of school but a recent resignation leaves it open.

Teachers who have signed contracts, three of them new members of the staff include Frances Willcox, Palo Alto, who will teach the first grade; Marion Hackman, San Francisco, second and third grades; Patricia Ramsden, Oakland, third and fourth grades, and Aileen Heberle, who is returning to teach the fifth and half of the sixth grades.

Jerome Keefer teaches the eighth grade. School begins on September 2. A teachers' meeting is scheduled for September 1. Enrollment is expected to be about the same as last year's 190.

An extensive improvement program is under way at the building. The playgrounds about the building are to be paved, sidewalks placed between the cafeteria and a coal stoker installed. The building is being painted.

Two thousand gallons of oil to be furnished by Peyton and company are being brought here from Sprague River, it is reported.

TULELAKE NAMES NEW TREASURER

TULELAKE — Wanda Stark has been appointed to succeed Henry Falliers as city treasurer. Falliers, formerly employed by the Tulelake branch, Bank of America, has been transferred.

The council in session this week authorized the sum of $35 toward expenses of attendance of Howard Dixon, city fire chief, at the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs to convene September 8, 9 and 10 at Reno.

The council also heard the appeal of Ed DuBond, owner of the Golden hotel and cafe, regarding a liquor license. DuBond asks repeal of a resolution passed at a former session in which the city requested the state board of equalization to limit the sale of licenses to five establishments within the city limits. DuBond's license would be the sixth. Action was deferred on the request for two weeks.

Pay of Frank G. Rhodes, city police chief, was raised $10 on order of the council. The department for the first time on a self supporting basis, according to Otis Roper, councilman.

Public criticism of the department is nil, and fines collected pay all expenses.

A. A. Rodenberger, street commissioner, is working out plans for using the $2200 fund available from the quarter-cent state gas tax due Tulelake, all of which must be used on Main street.

Hints on How to Win
Your last line may be about Oxidol or Camay, or both, or neither.

A trial of Oxidol and Camay, at these spots are impressed today may suggest many last lines. That is one reason for the contest—to induce you to try these better soaps.

In your washer, Oxidol's the soap that gets clothes snowy white with maximum speed.

In tub, washer or dishpan, gives up to 3 times the suds of many soaps, cup for cup, and is kinder to hands than a whole group of well-known washday soaps, tested repeatedly. Amazingly "sneezeproof," too—with no loss of sudsing speed, washing performance or mildness.

Today's Camay—with its greater mildness—is an important help to every woman who wants her skin to be lovely.

For Camay is milder by actual recorded test—in tests against ten other popular beauty soaps, Camay was milder than any of them. So let this milder Camay help you to a lovelier skin.

Get the handy entry blank from your dealer or use a plain sheet of paper.

Winners will be announced on the Radio "Guiding Light" and "Woman in White" program. See your local newspaper for time and stations.
