One such source said "there may be reason to expect such a declaration soon because the Russians are anxious to destroy the Bulgarian ports of Varna and Burgas to prevent their use as bases of German trade with Turkey."

BRITISH SAY EIGHT SHIPS LOST AT SEA

including the three war vessels. Two merchantmen, totalling 11,000 tons, reported yesterday as probably sunk, were included in this newer, unqualified claim.

First announcing the assault on the convoy in a special communique yesterday, the high command said it included 40 ships heavily escorted by corvettes and destroyers.

Germany's raised claim of the toll in the raid on Britain's commerce, which started several days before President Roosevelt spoke, followed official denunciation of his broadcast.

The president's speech, authoritative sources declared, "made no difference in purely formal diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States."

Holman Sees F. R. Sending U. S. Into War

"the great bulk of the American people felt that President Roosevelt was resisting the warmongers and that he was doing everything he could to keep the country out of war. Today they realize that instead of resisting the warmongers, he is leading the pack."

Hits 'Violation'

Wheeler's address was broadcast over tthe local radio station. He spoke before a crowd of several thousand.

The speech, he said, "only proved what his worst enemies have been saying about him—mainly, that he would take this country to war."

"The effect of his speech was to say to tthe people of the United States, 'I am going to take you into a shooting war as far as a navy is concerned without submitting the question to the congress of the United States'."

Roosevelt's order to the navy to fire on all axis ships in American waters, he said, was a "violation of tthe constitution, for it provides that only congress shall declare war."

The president, Wheeler said, "is leading us down the road to war in the name of national defense."

Citing the Robin Moor case, Senator Wheeler charged the president had not played fair with American people by telling them the true facts about the various sinkings of American ships by the axis powers.

"When he (Roosevelt) spoke of the Robin Moor, he failed to tell that the boat was carrying contraband of war and he failed to tell the American people whether or not the Steel Seafarer carried munitions of war or other contraband, but he tried to leave the impression that all the sinkings were in violation of international law," Wheeler said.

He also charged Roosevelt was not frank in telling the people what "our defense waters were, in his opinion."

moved from the rolls this year; however, he added through rezoning the timber areas, remaining timber valuations were boosted about $600,000.

Structural improvements on land and lots showed substantial valuation increases. Land improvements went up $126,500, and lot improvements went up $299,200, reflecting an active building program. This made a total gain of $425,700.

Land and lot values, on the other hand, went down to the tune of $309,600. Mack attributed this largely to county and city foreclosure proceedings.

The net gain in personal property valuation was approximately $350,000.

The following schedule shows total values of various classes of property for the year 1941:

ARMING LIKELY FOR AMERICAN SHIPS, REPORT

suggestion would be put into concrete form.

Such a step, it was pointed out, would require congressional repeal—or at least revision—of the neutrality act, since that law specifically prohibits American commercial vessels from carrying other than small arms.

Another problem would be to obtain the necessary guns, in view of the keen demand for such weapons by the United States army and navy, and by the British as well.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) "A Junkers 88 or, at any rate, a German plane" was blamed today in a sworn statement of an officer of the U.S. Steel Seafarer for the sinking of his ship in the Red Sea Sept. 5.

The state department issued the affidavit, by Joseph M. C. Suka, third officer of the American-owned vessel, who swore to it at Suez yesterday. Suka's statement, which followed reports from British sources in Cairo that the attacking plane was a German bomber based in Greece, said:

"I was standing alongside the captain when I heard a motor that sounded as if it belonged to a plane.

"We looked towards the apparent direction of the plane and saw it approaching towards us on the starboard side.

"The moon was full and directly overhead.

"The visibility was perfect. I could even see the plane's exhaust sparkling.

"It was a twin motored plane, very large, and heavily built with a snug nose.

"I have consulted today Italian and German silhouettes of planes and I firmly believe that the plane I saw was most probably a Junkers 88 or, at any rate a German plane and not an Italian.

"The plane passed directly over the ship about 250 feet, as well as I can judge, above the main mast.

"About two seconds after the plane was clear of the ship I heard a muffled explosion to me to be below the water line.

(One word was missing in the state department's message from the above paragraph, and it was assumed to be the word "seeming" which would make it read it seemed to Suka to have come from below the water line).

"About a second later another explosion which appeared to be a little louder than the first.

"I believe that the plane could have had no difficulty in identifying the ship."
