

ROTARY HEARS GUEST TALK AT TULELAKE

TULELAKE—Paul Claiborne, Auburn, Calif., president of Rotary district No. 105, was the guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Tulelake club on Wednesday. He was introduced by Otis Roper, program chairman. Claiborne is also responsible for organization of 20-30 clubs.

The speaker enlarged upon the need for a deeper understanding and observance of the four objects of Rotary and urged a closer tie of fellowship between nations, clubs and individuals. Claiborne during his term of office will pay official visits to 48 Rotary clubs in California and Nevada, traveling approximately 10,000 miles.

During the luncheon hour, Floyd A. Boyd paid a fine of 10 cents a pound for his 8 pound 4 ounce son born last week at a Klamath Falls hospital. Guests were Francis O'Conner, president of the Tulelake 20-30 club, Al Porter, past president, and Austin Bond, also of the 20-30 club, R. D. Eller, Ed Ham, Jack Martin and Victor Phillips, Klamath Falls.

A. A. Rodenberger will act as program chairman next week. Directors of the club in session Wednesday night perfected plans for the coming "buck contest." The membership is lined up under the command of Dick Moore and Otis Roper. Earl Ager, who doesn't hunt, was elected judge of the contest which will begin on the opening day of the deer season, September 16, and continue until the last day, October 15. Points will be awarded on a sliding scale, one point for attendance, two points for each guest brought for luncheon, two for each visitor on the side of the table occupied by the captains and still other points for the points on the bucks brought down.

There is a gentlemen's agreement that the losers will fete the winners, the manner of entertainment to be decided upon later.

KINDERGARTEN'S OPENING DELAYED

LAKEVIEW — Opening of the kindergarten sponsored by the Lakeview branch of the American Association of University Women has been postponed until Monday, September 22, at the request of mothers of kindergarten children who were alarmed at the number of infantile paralysis cases in the community.

Any parents who wish to have their children attend the kindergarten should bring them to the Presbyterian church on the opening day or contact Mrs. Coie previous to the opening of the kindergarten. For 50 cents a day tuition the children are being cared for as well as receiving instruction.

The kindergarten will be directed by a board composed of the following women: Mrs. Leon Lagler, chairman and originator of the project; Mrs. John Blair, president of the Lakeview branch; Mrs. L. D. Ohlson, representing the mothers; Miss Jennie Carroll, principal and primary instructor in the South school; Mrs. Helen Moss, former kindergarten instructor in the Portland system and third and fourth grade instructor in the Central school.

Mrs. Ralph Cole, who received her training under Miss Harriet Warner of the kindergarten department at Columbia university, will be the instructor.

ROGUE RIVER PEARS IN 'STOPOVER' HERE

Rogue valley pears are now arriving at the rate of 20 carloads a day for storage-in-transit at the Klamath Ice and Cold Storage company. The pears are usually kept here about two months, before being shipped on to markets in the east. Shipping men pointed out that since the storage-in-transit business began on an extensive basis at the local ice plant, Klamath Falls has had a larger part in the Rogue valley pear industry than most people realize.

A plan to encourage truck farming is being studied by the government of Trinidad and Tobago, the department of commerce reports.

BOAT SHORTAGES CAUSE RAIL JUMP

Boat withdrawals from the Panama canal routes between Atlantic and Pacific ports will result in the trans-continental rail lines being called upon to move about 125,000 carloads a year of added traffic, in the opinion of George H. Shafer, general traffic manager of the General Timber service. "If the entire 1940 intercoastal movement had been handled by rail," Shafer stated recently, "it would have added 319,964 carloads—based on 27 short tons per car, and have required continuous use of 17,500 cars. In my opinion, the rail carriers will not be called upon, at least during 1941, to move over 30 to 40 per cent of this traffic, due to the fact that there still will be some boats left in service, and that some of the traffic cannot move on prevailing rail rates. "I therefore suggest the probability that the rail carriers will not be called upon to handle more than 125,000 cars of traffic annually on account of boat withdrawals."

PROFESSOR TALKS AT DORRIS MEET

TULELAKE — Dr. Paul Leonard of the faculty of Stanford university, widely known as an author and lecturer, was the guest speaker Wednesday at Dorris at a district meeting of teachers of high schools and elementary schools of northern Siskiyou county.

His subject dealt matter with the school curriculum and its relation to national defense. He stressed the need for constant vigilance of the citizens of the United States over problems both present and future, warning that the responsibility of the schools is to educate the youth of the nation not in the use of arms but in preparing for the time when world conditions will be stabilized.

Dr. Leonard was introduced by E. R. Deering, Yreka, general supervisor of elementary schools in Siskiyou county.

HIGH SCHOOL News Notes and Comment

By MAURICE O'CALLAGHAN

With everything pretty dead in the way of activities we have taken a small private poll on a question dear to the heart of every bank book, "Should Gals Go Dutch on Dates," or "Should a Witch Pay Her Own Freight?" We will run this off in two groups. First the girls and Tuesday the boys.

"I don't like it. If a boy wants to go with a girl he should pay for the fun," Dorothy Ellington.

"It's a nice idea to share expenses sometimes," says Phyllis Emigh.

"It's fun sometimes for a novelty," Virginia Howard.

"I think it is fine if not too often. That is, if the boy will agree." The originator of that wants her name withheld because she is out of circulation and her friend just don't approve of it one bit, in fact, she says, "He spits fire whenever I mention it."

"Once in a while it is swell," Peggy Keating.

That's all for the women, and the final opinion seems to be that to break the monotony a dutch date is OK but not habit forming.

Wilhelm Bodine teaches art and mechanical drawing, and is one of the new teachers. Born and raised in the state of Minnesota he is definitely a Minnesotan. He went to Roosevelt and John Marshall high schools in Minneapolis.

He is one of the best art teachers available to fill the vacancy left when Amy Ruth Severson got married and left the teaching business. Bodine is in his early thirties, is married and has done quite a bit in the field of art. He has had several solo exhibitions in the twin cities, New York, and Carnegie institute. He has exhibited throughout the midwest.

Bodine has worked in the commercial fields. Was with Nu-Stone Products until the depression wiped them off the map. He attended college at the Universities of Minnesota and Iowa. Taught art at Montana State college. He likes to watch football best and likes to ski. Impression is, "Klamath Falls is remarkably advanced in the architecture of the buildings. You would expect to see the modern stores in a much larger city."

He also has bright green eyes. A tea honoring Mrs. Arnold Gralapp was given by Mrs. Joseph Peak, Mrs. Ray Cooney, Mrs. Stan Woodruff, and Mrs. Dwight French at the home of Mrs. Woodruff Saturday.

The following is directed to the adults who read this column. Most of you have cars. Most of you are always giving something to the school. Most of you have kids who go to school. Most of you would like one or two of those neat license plates the boys are selling. You have the chance to get one now. Either call at the high school or have some friend or your own prodigy bring the needed 40 cents or 75 cents to one of the salesmen and the plates are yours. They are done red on white and have the '41 football schedule on them. They can be attached right on your regular plate with screws furnished by the boys' alliance.

Detention will start next week, "warch" out.

NEW COURTHOUSE PROBLEMS AIRD

LAKEVIEW — Problems relative to the building of a new courthouse for Lake county, which will be voted on at a special election in November, were discussed by County Judge J. R. Heckman, County Clerk Carl Pendleton and T. R. Conn at the weekly Rotary club luncheon yesterday.

Several grand juries in the past have condemned fire hazard and structural weaknesses in the courthouse, according to Judge Heckman.

Cost to the tax payers if the special election vote is favorable, would be $1.90 per thousand of assessed valuation. At the present time there is $45,000 in the county treasury, which has been collected for construction of a pioneer museum. The museum could be put in the new courthouse, Heckman pointed out, and the funds used for repair or remodeling of the present courthouse.

Carl Pendleton explained the plan of financing the new courthouse if it is approved. The total cost of the court house would be $125,000, and with the $45,000 on hand it would be necessary to raise $80,000 over a period of four years. The courthouse would be built in 1945 and no bonds would be issued. With repair of the court house costing approximately $50,000 and by use of the funds, a new court house would cost only $35,000 more than repair of the old one, he pointed out.
