protection of commerce and shipping and "as a united nation it is our duty to back up the president and congress to the utmost."

Notables by the score, from governors to Hollywood stars, thronged the auditorium. Convention registrations zoomed up to 37,000.

The legionnaires previously had heard Sergeant Alvin C. York, of Tennessee, one of the ranking heroes of the World war and an advocate of all-out air to Russia as a means of stopping Nazi Germany, urge that the convention play an important part in moulding the foreign policy of the United States.

Sergeant York spoke last night at a religious-patriotic service for Legionnaires on the eve of the first business session of the 23rd annual convention—faced with serious decisions on problems arising from foreign conflict.

An avowed interventionist, York urged the legion to stay out of politics but to take a big hand in shaping the nation's foreign policy.

"For we who are here have learned a lesson," he said. "We learned that liberty, freedom and democracy are not inherited. We know that a country cannot fight to win them once and then stop. We learned the hard way that liberty and freedom and democracy are prizes awarded only to those people who fight to win them—and then fight eternally to hold them."

The convention, with much business to transact on vital issues of national defense, awaited the report of National Commander Milo J. Warner, of Toledo; a message from President Roosevelt, to be delivered by Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, and an address by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York who is director of the office of civilian defense.

Reports of the legion's standing committees, including that of the national defense group, which recommended that geographic limitations of the use of American troops be abolished, will be turned over today to new committees. They will draw up the recommendations on which the convention

Mrs. Woodworth Hurt in Crash

Mrs. Floyd Woodworth, 2033 Del Moro street, was recovering at her home Monday from three broken ribs and other painful injuries received late Friday afternoon in an automobile accident at the underpass, Main and Spring streets.

Mrs. Woodworth was in a car operated by Charles F. Arisman of Los Angeles, whose family had been visiting at the Woodworth home. The Arisman machine was struck by a motor operated by Lowell William Natzer, Klamath Falls, who told city police the "sun got in his eyes" and he was unable to see. Mrs. Woodworth received medical treatment at Hillside hospital and was returned to her home Sunday night.

buying is expected to exceed other years.

Tonight at exactly 5:15 o'clock, the bars leading into the fairgrounds grandstand will be lowered and more than 1000 plates will be heaped high with good food at the annual Rotary club barbecue honoring exhibitors, their families, Rotarians, buyers, and growers of the stock shown during this year's exhibit. The barbecue attendance was necessarily limited this year due to the heavy increase in the number of exhibitors, T. B. Watters, Rotary chairman, stated.

"Wick" Stephens, president of the San Francisco Union stockyards, will be the speaker following the "parade of champions" at which time awards in special contests in both 4-H and FFA will be presented.

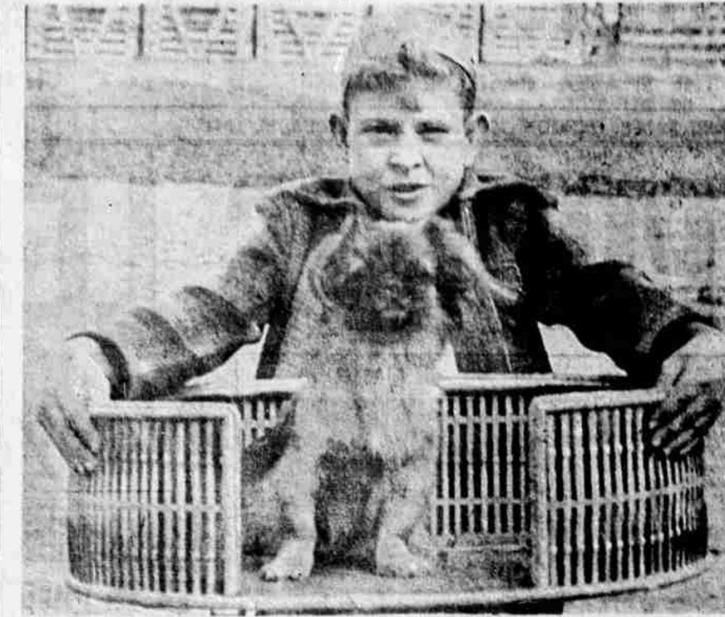

Stanley Masten, loaded down with ribbons won by his Aberdeen Angus as grand champion of the 4-H beef division, received another thrill late Monday afternoon when he was advised by Chet Barton of Merrill, from whose herd Masten's Angus was purchased this spring, that as a special award he would be given his pick of the Barton herd.

Young Masten will put this animal on feed for entrance into the 1942 show, he stated.

In Hospital — Ted Blanchard is confined to the Hillside hospital with a back injury. He is an employe of the West-Baker corporation.

will act before adjournment Thursday.

Every Dog Has His Day!

'SLICK' WILSON PASSES MONDAY AT HOME HERE

William George "Slick" Wilson, for the past 56 years a resident of Klamath county, died at the family home, 506 Owens street, at 11:15 a. m. Monday. Death followed a lengthy illness.

Mr. Wilson, son of Mrs. Minnie E. Ward of this city, suffered a stroke two years ago and has been in ill health since that time. He was born in Reno, Nev., and when three years of age came to this city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. J. Wilson. His father died many years ago after having been a prominent Klamath county rancher of the Mt. Laki district.

Before and during the World war, Mr. Wilson and his brother, James, were in the sheep business. Mr. Wilson was a long time member of the Klamath Falls Elks lodge. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ward, a son, Herbert W., of Butte Falls, Ore., a daughter, Mrs. Frank King of Long Creek, Ore., a brother, James Jr. of this city.

Funeral services will be under the direction of Ward's, the date to be announced later.

TAX BILL GIVEN CONFERENCE VOTE

decreased from 10 to 6 per cent the senate-approved tax on local telephone bills. The house originally had approved 5 per cent. The group also reduced from 10 to 5 per cent the levy on electric light bulbs. The conference committee also agreed on these provisions, some of which previously had been reported unofficially:

1. Accepted a senate amendment reducing from $2000 to $1500 the income tax exemption for married persons and from $800 to $750 the exemption for single individuals. The treasury estimated the provisions would raise an additional $303,000,000 in revenue and would require an additional 4,930,000 persons to file income tax returns.

2. Accepted a senate provision incorporating the special 10 per cent defense super-tax in the surtax structure, and thus changing surtax rates slightly.

3. Accepted a senate amendment raising from 5 to 6 per cent the surtaxes on corporation income up to $25,000 and 6 to 7 per cent on income over that figure.

Jurors Missing, Trial Slowed up

Failure of three jurors to show up as called led to early adjournment of the morning session Monday of circuit court, where Emery William Tibbets, 28, is on trial on a charge of rape.

Judge David R. Vandenberg was severely critical of the missing jurors. He called for more veniremen to be drawn, and it was expected a jury would be completed early in the afternoon.

U. S. Balentine is representing Tibbets.

it proceeded up the bloody slope, Jeb Stewart's cavalry had been dispatched on a wide detour to take the Union army in the rear while it was occupied with the thrilling charge in front.

Stewart was STOPPED. And so those men in grey, displaying courage, discipline and resolution never exceeded and seldom matched in all the centuries men have been fighting, died in vain. When the shattered remnant of the proud 15,000 got back to the foot of the slope from which the charge had started, the cause of the South was lost. It struggled on, but after Gettysburg there was little hope.

IT is well. In all the South there is now no one who doesn't know it was well. We have a united land. If Lee had won at Gettysburg it is probable that Mason and Dixon's line would now be the frontier between TWO nations. Great deeds were done there. And out of them has come a great nation. ONE nation.

IN the Gettysburg cemetery, only a little way back from the Bloody Angle, Lincoln made his great Gettysburg address.

Standing at the spot, one can't escape the tragic thought that if Lincoln had lived there would have been no carpet-bagging period. The soldiers, Grant and Lee, could foresee at Appomattox the country that must be rebuilt upon the ruins of war. Lincoln saw eye to eye with them.

It was the POLITICIANS who precipitated the carpet-bagging era. It is the politicians who mess up so much that men have been willing to die for. We'll have to watch them when this war is over.
