

HOMERUN BY GORDON AIDS 3-2 VICTORY

er Curt Davis showing signs of wobbling, DiMaggio caught hold of one that went a country mile. It looked like a sure homerun for Giuseppe, but Medwick backed against the wall, leaped about three feet up and speared the ball with his glove. He fell to the turf and rolled over as the crowd gave him a thunderous hand.

Curt Davis, the veteran side-arms who opened for the National league champs, did very well except for an occasional "sucker" pitch. His first one was to Gordon in the second frame, and his second was to Catcher Bill Dickey in the fourth. Bill bounced his off the right-centerfield wall to score Keller and put the Yankees ahead 2 to 0.

Gordon's single in the sixth scoring Charlie Keller with the Yank third run finished Davis and brought in Hugh Casey from the bullpen.

Casey pitched to two batters to close the Yankee threat, and then was removed for a pinch-hitter. Johnny Allen, third Dodger moundsman, held the Yanks hitless in their last two turns, but the damage had been done.

The game was played in perfect weather. Thousands of fans stood through the night to storm their way to the bleachers shortly after dawn, and the place was packed.

balls Keller filed to Reiser in right center. Dickey bounced out, Herman to Camilli. Gordon worked the count to two and two, fouling off four pitches and then lifted a tremendous homerun far back into the lower left field grandstand. Rizzuto followed with another long fly which Medwick caught with his back a few feet from the left field wall.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

3rd Inning Dodgers Owen maneuvered the count to two strikes and one ball and then lifted a fly which Keller caught on the run in short left center. Davis also filed to Keller near the left field foul line. Walker drove a liner to left and Keller took it on the run for his fourth straight putout.

3rd Inning Yankees Ruffing slapped a grounder to Reese and was thrown out. Stumm hit a bouncer to Camilli back of first and he tossed to Davis for the putout. Rolfe struck out.

4th Inning Dodgers Herman fouled several balls and got the count to three and two before grounding out to Rizzuto. With the count two and two Reiser struck out on a slow ball. Camilli fanned on three pitches.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

4th Inning Yankees Heinrich lifted a fly which Reese took by backing up onto the grass in left field. DiMaggio hit the first pitch, a terrific belt for what looked like a certain homerun and Medwick, leaning backwards over the four-foot wall in left field with his arm extended caught and held the ball, falling to the field with his glove held high. The crowd gave him a great ovation. Keller worked the count to three and two, then walked. Dickey drove a high fly which struck the railing in front of the bleachers in right center 400 feet from the plate and bounced back into the outfield, for a double, scoring Keller. While the crowd boomed Gordon was purposely passed. Rizzuto was thrown out easily by Herman.

One run, one hit, no errors, two left.

5th Inning Dodgers Medwick drew another round of applause as he came to bat to lead off the fifth inning. He looked at two balls and then drove a high fly which DiMaggio caught on the run in left center. Lavagetto also filed to DiMaggio, who came in back of second base for the putout. Reese popped a single into short right center for the first hit off Ruffing. With the count two strikes and one ball, Owen ruffed a liner into left center and DiMaggio was just able to knock down the ball and keep it from rolling to the wall. Owen was just able to stretch the hit into a triple by sliding headlong into third, after Reese had scored. The Yankee bullpen went into action. Davis knocked a roller to Rizzuto and was thrown out.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

5th Inning Yankees Ruffing went out on a long fly to Reiser in right center. Stumm grounded to Herman and was easily thrown out. Rolfe punched a single on the ground in to right center. Heinrich grabbed for a low ball and fled to Walker.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

6th Inning Yankees Walker lined to DiMaggio in right center. Herman drew a walk on five pitches. When Ruffing gave three more balls without a strike to Reiser, Gordon trotted in for a word of encouragement and the Yankee bullpen again stirred into action. Reiser got another very low ball and walked.

After getting the count to two and two Camilli struck out for the third straight time. He had not had as much as a foul off Ruffing in any of his times at bat.

Medwick grounded to Rolfe who stepped on third to force Herman.

No runs, no hits, no errors, two left.

6th Inning Dodgers DiMaggio, with a half swing, sent a grounder to Reese's left and was barely thrown out at first.

Keller drew a pass on five pitches, one of which was inside and made him drop to the dirt. Dickey got ahead of the pitcher with two balls and a strike and then shot a single into right center, Keller sliding into third.

Gordon reached for an outside pitch and singled over Reese's head into centerfield, Keller scoring and Dickey holding up at second.

Time was called while Du-rocher, Lavagetto and Owen huddled around Davis. Davis was removed and chunky Hugh Casey, another righthander, came striding in from the bullpen.

Casey, one of the National league's best relief pitchers, appeared in 45 games during the regular season, and received credit for 14 victories against 11 defeats.

Rizzuto hit the second pitch for a fly to Reiser in left center.

The runners held their bases. Ruffing filed to Walker. One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

7th Inning Dodgers Lavagetto sent a sharp bouncer to Rizzuto, who made a low throw that hit the ground in front of Stumm and Lavagetto was safe on the error.

Reese worked the count to two and two and then hit a single which bounced in front of the box and over Ruffing's head and landed between Gordon and Rizzuto back of second base.

The Yankee infielders came over to talk to Ruffing and Lew Riggs, a left-handed hitter, came in to bat for Owen.

On the first pitch Riggs singled into short center and Lavagetto, who had been on second beat DiMaggio's throw to the plate, sliding into Dickey and knocking him down.

Reese stopped at second on the play. Jim Wasdell, another left-handed batter, pinch-hit for Casey.

Wasdell worked the count to two strikes and one ball and then popped a foul which Rolfe caught on a run to the edge of the Yankee dugout, and then wheeled and threw to Rizzuto at third base to catch Reese for a double play. Riggs holding first.

Walker grounded to Gordon and was thrown out by several yards. One run, two hits, one error, one left.

9th Inning Dodgers Medwick topped the ball down the third base line about 20 feet from the plate for a single, crossing first base before any of the Yankees could field the ball.

Lavagetto took two strikes and then popped a high foul to Dickey back of the plate.

Reese hit the first pitch for a single into short left, Medwick stopping at second.

Franks grounded into a double play, Gordon to Rizzuto to Stumm.

Lack of Headlight Brings Arrest on Fugitive Warrant

If he hadn't been driving with one headlight on, George Adair might still be free, instead of waiting in the county jail for Idaho officers to return him to that state to face auto theft and parole breaking charges.

Officers here recently received a bulletin from Idaho giving the license number of a car stolen at Payette, Ida.

Tuesday night, a state policeman started after a car he saw on the road with one headlight out. He followed the machine and as he did so noticed the license plate. Checking it with his "hot list" he found it belonged to a stolen car from Idaho.

Adair was quickly picked up, and he will be returned to Payette. He used the alias Albert Hicks, according to District Attorney L. Orth Sisemore.

AGENT APPEARS ON IMPROMPTU QUIZ PROGRAM

Wednesday's chamber of commerce directors' luncheon turned into a quiz program with County Agent C. A. Henderson as the star performer.

The agent came to the meeting as a guest of Director Ed Geary, and after business of the meeting was concluded, the chamber officers began firing questions at Henderson about the general and local agricultural situation. Before they were through they had pretty well covered the field of agricultural economics in the United States and Europe.

Henderson proved himself a veritable "quiz kid." One of the things he told the directors was that the present impetus given to the consumption of highly nutritive foods, such as eggs and dairy products, will continue long after the present crisis. It had been found, he said, that Americans have not been eating properly, and an effort to change their eating habits will probably carry on for years to come.

He discussed other topics ranging from the local potato marketing agreement proposal to the beef and dairy cattle situation to be expected in Europe after the war is over.

BAIL POSTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Earl Durfee of Klamath Falls, charged with drunken driving, Tuesday posted $100 bail and was released from the city jail. A hearing on the case has been set for Saturday at 10 a. m.

In police court Wednesday, four vagrants, seven drunks and eight traffic violators were reported to city police Wednesday. F. R. Hendron, 4327 Winter avenue, reported that his 1934 Ford was stolen from the rear of Beck's bakery on South Sixth street between seven and 10 p. m. Monday night and C. W. Worley, 3530 Bristol street, said a tool box was taken from his car Tuesday night while it was parked at the Weyerhaeuser mill.

consideration. It is planned as a great utilitarian highway, and is used heavily by buses and trucks—thus proving its utilitarian value.

The Merritt Parkway is designed as a BEAUTIFUL drive. The sides are landscaped and kept like a city park. The strip dividing the lanes is landscaped. It runs through quiet, lovely, peaceful Westchester county for the most part—an area devoted extensively to commuters' homes. The low, rolling hills are covered with a growth of hardwood timber. Here and there is a brook. There are a few occasional glimpses of an attractive estate—although the route has been kept carefully away from existing improvements and access from adjoining property is permitted only at widely spaced intervals by means of "clover leaf" devices which merge incoming traffic gradually.

As a result, there are no homes along the highway—which, to the tourist, is a disadvantage. When you are traveling far from home, you like to see how people live. You want to compare their houses with those of your own region. In fact, the homes beside the road make up a large part of the interest of traveling by automobile. All this is missing on these fancy new routes.

It must be remembered, however, that the bulk of the traffic is local, and it is the needs of the local traffic that are being catered to. The outstanding need back here is to get safely from where you start to where you want to go in a reasonable length of time.

That can't be done on existing roads.

HENCE these toll freeways, which make safe speed possible. It is this writer's guess that in this thickly settled country they will spread rather rapidly in spite of their great cost.

Along with its appeal for more contributions to the boxes, the committee announced that the Klamath Falls pressing and cleaning establishments have stepped forward with an offer to press trousers free of charge for the soldiers during their visit. Tickets issued by the cleaning shops will be distributed to the boys by their commanders.

The ladies auxiliary of the American Legion will maintain open house for the boys at the Legion hall Friday and Saturday. Mrs. George Rogers, chairman of the committee issued an appeal to mothers of the boys and other women of the basin area to assist in supplying pies, cakes and cookies which, along with hot dogs, hamburgers, soda pop, coffee and the like, will be served free of charge to the boys during their visit. Donations may be brought to the Legion hall any time Friday or Saturday.

All Klamath Falls theaters have announced that soldiers in uniform or with pocket passes will be admitted free this weekend, and the high school has set aside a block of 260 free seats for the boys at the Pelican-Dunsmuir game Friday night.

Following the game Friday night, the soldiers will be honored guests at a big dance at the armory, to which all high school students and friends of the soldiers are invited. Seats in the galleries will be free to the public but admission will be charged for dancing.

On Saturday night at 9 o'clock a big "Community Get-Together" dance will be held in the armory. Music will be donated by the Klamath Falls Musicians' union, and an admission charge of 25 cents per person has been set. The committee urges the public to turn out en masse for this event which will wind up the weekend program.
