Last month on the first six months of lend-lease operations, Mr. Roosevelt stressed in his remarks that lend-lease aid was only part of the help flowing to peoples fighting aggressors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) declared today that an American-Japanese conflict in the Pacific might develop "quick as a wink" if Germany should defeat soviet Russia, and he added he was "not sure that war with Japan would be a bad thing for us."

The 80-year-old legislator, only remaining member who cast a senate vote against entry into the last World War, said that a German victory over Russia might lead Japan to interfere with American shipping in the Pacific.

The United States, he asserted, would not tolerate any such interference, and he disclosed that navy officials had advised him "they could sink the Japanese fleet within two weeks."

'NEW SHOW SEASON' SLATED NEXT WEEK

Inaugurating the "New Show Season" in connection with movie week to be observed next week in Klamath Falls under junior chamber auspices, Manager Al Fourmet of the Esquire theatre announced Tuesday the booking of the first three of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio's new season releases.

Opening Wednesday will be Spencer Tracy and Lana Turner in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in which critics say Tracy has again proved his right to the title of two-time Academy award winner. In addition to Miss Turner and Tracy who share starring honors, Ingrid Bergman, Donald Crisp and Ian Hunter are featured.

Following the showing of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Fourmet announces as a coming attraction a combination bill made up of Metro's big new musical extravaganza, "Lady Be Good," starring Ann Sothern, Eleanor Powell and Robert Young and "Down in San Diego" a romantic story of the naval service starring Bonita Granville, Dan Dailey Jr. and Leo Gorcey, the latter one of the original Dead End kids.

of machines, the Russians declared their resistance was growing and that red army counterattacks were increasing in frequency.

Thousands of Moscow civilians were reported toiling feverishly to erect chains of field fortifications around the beleaguered capital, and masses of fresh soviet troops were hurrying to combat the nazi juggernaut under an oath to "die here but not let the enemy into Moscow."

The German government announced that more than 3,000,000 Russian prisoners had been captured in the 16-week-old campaign, and that the equivalent of 300 soviet divisions at full war strength had been captured, killed or wounded.

According to this estimate, which assumed that each division numbered 20,000 men, the Germans declared a total of 6,000,000 Russian soldiers had been put out of action.

shoulders the Pacific Coast states are immensely superior.

Throughout the Middle West and the East—indeed, almost everywhere except in Oregon, Washington and California—there is a sharp drop of several inches from the pavement to the shoulder.

When by inadvertence or the necessities of traffic one drops a wheel at reasonably high speed over these roads, he looks the grim reaper in the eye—and the view is far from pleasant.

The East could well take lessons from the Pacific Coast in this respect.

WESTERN highways are better signed than those of the East—both traffic signs and route signs. In the West, nearly every curve is signed, usually with the reflecting type of sign that is visible at night as well as in the day. In the East only the sharper curves are apt to be so marked.

Throughout most of the West, route signs are so frequent as to leave the traveler in little doubt at any time. They are less numerous in the East, especially in the larger cities.

WHAT is said here, however, is not intended as Western boasting or as criticism of the East—which, considering its problems of heavy traffic and immense demand for paved roads through congested sections, is doing exceedingly well.

In the far East, the automobile is not used for long distance, fast travel as in the West. Traffic congestion makes that impossible. When people are in a hurry back here, they use the train or the airplane.

For that reason, the Eastern approach to the solution of its highway problems is somewhat different from that of the West.

British Wheat, Sugar Sufficient

"The evening will consist of entertainment of various kinds, dancing, free refreshments and a hilarious time for all who attend."
